IRISH LEADER A WITNESS

John Derham Testifies at Washington Hearing on Conditions in Ireland

Declares Black and Tans Spent Nights of Yelling, Burning and Shooting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—Charging that the "Black and Tan" militia in Ireland made raids without provocation, John Derham, town commissioner of Balbriggan, gave today to the committee of the committee of 100 investigating the Irish question what he described as details of the September raid on his home town, which, he said, resulted in the death of half a dozen persons.

"The 'Black and Tan' spent a night of yelling, burning and shooting," said Mr. Derham. "All of us were ready to collapse at each new outbreak for we did not know what would happen to us next."

The Balbriggan commissioner declared that James Lawless and John Gibbons were stabbed by the militia, but that an inquiry by the military authorities failed to establish who was responsible for the deaths of the men. He said that a score of houses were burned and that the contents of those left standing were wrecked.

LOCAL DOMESTIC FUEL SITUATION

The domestic fuel situation in Lowell is not sufficiently dire at the present time to call for local restrictive measures beyond those laid down by the state fuel administration, according to Albert D. Milliken, recently appointed fuel administrator for this city.

Mr. Milliken says that the state regulation which says that families without domestic fuel can receive not more than three tons a year is still in force here, and is taking care of the local situation adequately. As soon as conditions warrant the enforcement of stricter and more detailed regulations, he will proceed to promulgate them. However, he hopes that conditions will not reach the stage where such procedure will be necessary.

Whiskey for Lowell Seized

PITTSFIELD, Nov. 18.—An automobile containing 275 quarts of whiskey was seized by the police today and Eugene Leonard and William Roberts, both giving Montreal as their home, were arrested on charges of violation of the Volstead act. The men stated that they were to deliver the whiskey in Lowell.

$3,500,000 MAIL CAR ROBBERY

Mystery Surrounding Bold Hold-up Cleared up at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Ten Arrested—Money Recovered From Chicken Coop—Auto Also Found

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 19.—Seven more arrests, one confession, the recovery of a large amount of money, all in ten dollar bills, and the discovery of an automobile last night resulted today in clearing up the mystery surrounding the $3,500,000 mail car robbery in the local yards Saturday night.

Two of the men arrested, T. A. Daly and H. A. Reed, are white, and the others are negroes. The money was recovered from a chicken house at the Daly home after the confession of Reed, who confesses to Daly's role in the robbery.

An automobile, believed to have been used for carrying away the mail bags was found last night in a rented garage a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. The number on the engine had been tampered with.

Reed and Daly, believed by officials to be leaders of the gang, are each 45 years of age. Daly has been working at the Omaha Grain Exchange, but Reed has been unemployed the last few weeks.

Reed was arrested last night after being implicated by Fred Poffenberger, a youth arrested several days ago. Reed finally gave information which led to the arrest of Daly.

Dags of currency, gold and bonds, the value of which has been given authoritatively as high as $3,500,000, were taken from a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail train last Saturday. They were bound from San Francisco in a sealed car to consistency in the east. The amount of money recovered was not announced.

THIRD DEATH IN EXPLOSION

GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 19.—James Bolton, a farmer whose home was dynamited yesterday, died last night, bringing the death list in the explosion to three. Mrs. Hattie Shipley, Bolton's housekeeper, whose two small children were killed instantly, is in a critical condition. Vernon Thompson is held in connection with the explosion.

Authorities said investigation showed that Bolton and Thompson had been enemies of long standing, and that on election day Thompson was shot in the neck by Bolton.

"BIRCH ARNOLD" DEAD

WOULD ADMIT FORMER ENEMIES

British Delegate to League Assembly Urges Immediate Admission of Germany

Declares British Labor Demands All Enemy States be Admitted Without Delay

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—Immediate admission of Germany and the other former enemy states to the League of Nations, was urged before the assembly of the league today by George Nicoll Barnes of the British delegation. He said most of the laboring people of Great Britain whom he represented, demanded that all the enemy states be admitted without delay.

He recalled that Germany had taken already in the deliberations of the international labor bureau established by the league.

"The people of Great Britain, whom I represent here," he said, "do not forget that the Central empires plunged the world into war. They do not forget the misery and devastation caused. But the question now is to rescue the world from ruin, and the co-operation of the former enemy states is needed."

It was learned today that Germany had protested to the League of Nations against the system of distributing mandates under the treaty of Versailles. The Berlin government claims it is illegal for the entente powers to distribute these mandates among themselves.

FOOTBALL GAME

Lowell and Puncard High at Spalding Park

Lowell high school's football team wound up its 1920 home schedule at Spalding park this afternoon when it lined up against a strong eleven representing Puncard high.

Only one more game to play to complete this year's schedule—that Lawrence Thanksgiving morning, the season's biggest contest.

In the eight games which Coach Conway's men have played so far this season they have broken even, winning four and losing four. Victories have been won from Nashua, Wakefield, Concord and Woburn, while the locals have bowed to the superiority of teams representing Concord, Manchester, Fitchburg and Haverhill.

Coach Conway hoped this afternoon to take the Puncard aggregation into camp by fast open play and then to give Lawrence a stiff battle next Thursday morning.

Today's weather was ideal for the game and large representations of the student bodies of both schools were on hand when action began at 3 o'clock.

ASSERTS RIVER IS A HIGHWAY

Suit Against Martina A. Gage to Recover for Boy's Death by Drowning

Claim Made That Merrimack River Should Be Kept Safe for Use by Skaters

The contention that the Merrimack river is a navigable stream, is a public highway that should be kept safe for skating, is involved in a suit that went on trial in the jury-waived session of the superior court before Judge Patrick Keating today.

The case is said to be unique in that the losses have never been decided upon in a court in Massachusetts.

The suit is brought by Patrick T. Brosnan, administrator, to recover for the death of his son, Thomas J. Brosnan, by drowning while skating on the Merrimack river, near the present bathhouse site, February 25, 1917.

The defendant in the case is Martina A. Gage, owner of ice houses on the banks of the river near where the boy was drowned.

The plaintiff is represented by Melvin E. Rogers and Albert S. Howard of Qua, Howard & Rogers; the defendant by A. P. Sawyer and Thomas W. Proctor of Nason & Proctor of Boston.

The plaintiff will undertake to prove that Thomas J. Brosnan, while skating, broke through thin ice that had formed over a place where the defendant had been conducting ice-cutting operations, and that there were no barriers or warning signs for the protection of persons using the river. It will be contended that since the river is a public highway, and has been used as such for more than 20 years, that it should have been kept in condition for safe use by skaters.

The defendant claims that she and her predecessors in business, have been harvesting ice on the Merrimack river for over 50 years, and that she is not responsible for the drowning as the deceased was not exercising due care when he met his death.

The action is one of tort and the damages is $20,000.

It is asserted that the issues involved in the case have only been passed upon twice in the history of the country—once in Maine and once in Michigan.

Sidney Fleet, editor of Lowell, was the first witness. His recollections of weather and temperature during the winter of 1917 from the files of a newspaper.

Patrick T. Brosnan, the plaintiff, was next called to the stand.

He said that there had been skating on the river near the bath house site every winter for 25 years. He said seen 500 people skating there on a Sunday in 1917. He said on an average there were 50 to 200 people on the ice every day except Sundays, when there were more. The number had not varied much in 20 years.

Steam Shovels Working Day and Night in Attempt to Keep R. R. Tracks Clear

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Damage estimated by engineers to vary from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 will result from the great slide of earth and stone which for two weeks has been steadily moving down the hillside from Bigelow boulevard to the downtown passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad. Nine steam shovels are working day and night to move the earth as it reaches the railroad tracks, and approximately 5000 men are sent out on trains every 24 hours.

The slide began when the city attempted to straighten a curve in the boulevard, which follows the hillside high above the railroad terminal and connects the business section of the city with the east and residence district. Some 200,000 cubic yards of earth has been cut from the hill and

WAS VETERAN OF THREE WARS

Private William E. Coleman, the Lowell soldier who died in France on November 14, 1918, of injuries received in the world war, and whose body is now on its way to Lowell, was a member of the Sixth company of engineers and saw extensive service overseas. The injuries which caused his death were received shortly before the signing of the armistice.

Private Coleman was a veteran of three wars, having served in the Spanish war with Co. M of this city, and in the Boer war as a marine. He had a splendid military record and news of his death caused widespread grief in this city.

Private Coleman was 35 years, one month and 21 days old when he died. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose May Coleman of 142 Wilder street, and four children, William H., Edward T., Annie and Francis R. Coleman. He was a member of Lowell Lodge, No. 223, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Machinists' union. His body is expected to arrive in this city early next week, and a military funeral will be held under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

ARRAIGNED ON INDICTMENTS

Watch and Ward Treasurer and Lawyer Plead Not Guilty in Superior Court

Charged With Conspiracy and Receiving Papers Alleged to Have Been Stolen

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Godfrey L. Cabot, treasurer of the New England Watch and Ward society, and Hector M. Holmes and Robert D. Weston, lawyers, pleaded not guilty in the superior court today, to indictments charging conspiracy and receiving letters and other papers alleged to have been stolen from the law office of Daniel H. Coakley, last December.

The indictments resulted from a special grand jury investigation of charges made by Coakley in connection with disbarment proceedings recently brought against Alvin G. Sleeper, an attorney of this city. It was alleged in the testimony of the disbarment trial that certain papers having to do with the settlement of a suit in which Sleeper was supposed to have been interested had been stolen from Coakley's office in an effort to obtain evidence of illegal practice.

District Attorney Pelletier, who conducted the grand jury inquiry, did not ask for bonds and the three men were released on their personal recognizance for a hearing later.

It was announced in court that two others also had been indicted, Michael J. Hayes, a former policeman, on a charge of larceny of papers, and Owendy C. Bourdon, a private detective, for conspiracy and receiving the alleged stolen documents.

Hayes and Bourdon appeared in court later and entered pleas of not guilty and like the other defendants, were released on their own recognizance.

NOT TO REDUCE PRICES

U. S. Steel Corp. Urges Subsidiary Co.'s to Continue Present Prices

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The U. S. Steel Corporation announced today its decision to recommend to presidents of subsidiary companies, that the "present base selling prices of all commodities continue in force unless and until it becomes necessary and proper to make changes to meet altered conditions."

This action was taken, according to a statement issued by Chairman Gary, because of the importance of stabilizing business conditions at this time. The statement follows:

"Our subsidiary companies have consistently and unflinchingly maintained the base selling prices of all iron and steel commodities which were mutually fixed by representatives of iron and steel interests of the United States and representatives of the government on March 21, 1919."

"Since that time production costs of all manufacturers of iron and steel, including an advancement of wage rates aggregating $1,000,000 per year to the steel corporation, and larger freight rates have materially increased. Under usual circumstances, we would be justified in making additions to the average base prices."

"However, after deliberate and careful consideration, we have decided to recommend to presidents of our subsidiary companies that present base selling prices of all commodities continue in force unless and until it becomes necessary and proper to make changes to meet altered conditions. "We think stability in business is of highest importance and that every man to the extent of his opportunity and ability and even at some sacrifice, is obligated to assist in stabilizing and maintaining prices on a fair and sane level. The producer, consumer and workman will be benefited by this attitude."

BENNY WILL TRY

"BIG SHRINK"

BY DEAN SNYDER
Shrinking to make ring weight is bad medicine for boxers.

The whittling off a few pounds has, in many cases, proven disastrous, but nevertheless the boys continue to do it.

Champion Benny Leonard, who has grown to be a heavy lightweight, will risk his title honors by reducing in his first championship fight in New York under the Walker boxing law on Nov. 26, when he meets Joe Wellington of Chicago.

The weight difference has kept him from meeting the best of the 135-pounders for so long that the champ has come to the point where he has to do the challenging.

Wellington Heavy

That's how he got the Wellington match. The Chicagoan, however, is also a heavy lightweight and can do 135 pounds much easier than 132.

Under the Walker law the light-weight requirement for championship bouts is 135 pounds at 2 o'clock. Both Leonard and Wellington have posted $10,000 as forfeit money to carry out the law to the letter.

Leonard's crown will be at stake during the 15-round menu.

Gets $15,000

It isn't much of a risk for the title-holder at that, since Wellington has always lacked the something that makes champions.

Efforts on the part of Promoter Tex Rickard to secure the real contenders—Low Jendler, Richie Mitchell and Willie Jackson—dropped out of the program when their demands were made known.

Tender asked a $50,000 guarantee. Mitchell was more conservative and wanted but $25,000. Jackson insisted that Leonard make 135 pounds at 9 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock. Wellington is to get $15,000 for giving the champ exercise.

Shows Draw

Eight shows at Rickard's Madison Square Garden have netted $237,366. The biggest gate for any one fight was $62,000, which Willie Jackson drew with Eddie Fitzsimmons on Oct. 23.

The Leonard-Wellington go should top them all, since Leonard is a big-town favorite, and would draw with anyone.

Just what Gibson's prima donna woman has been kept secret for a long time. But his money is down that he'll be a 135-pounder at two o'clock on Nov. 26. The shrinking process won't do him any good, however, unless he proves an exception to the "violet" act.

Red Cross Roll Call Workers Report—Outlook Much Brighter

Reports made by Red Cross roll call workers and information from various sources about the numbers being signed up in the different business offices and mills of the city last night presented a much more optimistic outlook to the campaign committee than heretofore this week. With 1913 members reported up to last night and more that have not been reported, it is generally thought that Lowell will complete its roll call with a large membership—total, although not as large as in previous drives. This is the second week of the drive.

ADDRESSING MEN'S CLUB

Congressman Rogers talks on "Side-lights in Washington" before Men's Club in Elliot Church.

"Things seem to be accomplished on a sort of 'you tickle me and I'll tickle you' policy in Washington," asserted Congressman John Jacob Rogers in an address on "Side-lights on Washington," at a supper of the Men's club in Elliot Union Congregational church last evening. Mr. Rogers spoke of the need of a navigable Merrimack river and a new postoffice for Lowell, but said that the improvements were hard to secure because representatives from other districts also had their ideas about things their districts needed.

Mr. Rogers referred to the early days of the government when parties split on the question of centralized federal control. He said that the national government is now taking over state functions to an extent that is surprising. He said that the Smith-

Towner education bill, now before congress, which would authorize the expenditure of $100,000,000, was the longest step toward centralization that had ever been proposed. He said that a great bureaucracy was being built up in Washington that it would be a temptation for a political party to use for its own advantage.

Mr. Rogers gave interesting reminiscences of prominent men in political life. He referred to "Uncle Joe" Cannon as intensely American, and as a Yankee even if he is from Illinois. He said that he had been in congress since before the speaker was born, and that Cannon had been an advisor of Lincoln in connection with the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

"Champ Clark commands the affection of the house, and all are sorry that he has been defeated," said Mr. Rogers. "In contrast with Uncle Joe Cannon, he is very scrupulous about matters of dress. He is a tragic figure in many ways, his life really ended in 1912. Excitement was high in Baltimore and interest centered on him. He was supposed to have the right of way, but was stopped just short of the necessary two-thirds vote to nominate, and the dark horse from New Jersey finally won. Champ Clark knows whom to thank, too, and his opinion of William Jennings Bryan is interesting, to say the least.

"Frederick H. Gillett was elected speaker to the surprise of the nation as a whole. He is 70 years old, but still has a young, vigorous and slender appearance. He is not a great man nor is he very well known, but he is a good, average, sensible American. He has had long service and possesses lots of sand. Many men keep an eye out to see whether or not a vote for a certain measure will effect his standing in the next election, but not Speaker Gillett. He has the courage to do as he thinks right."

Previous to Mr. Rogers' talk a supper was served under the direction of a committee consisting of Victor Carey, Hyron Cady, Frank Knowles and John Hancock.

SIX VICE PRESIDENTS ELECTED BY LEAGUE

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—In a somewhat agitated session yesterday the league assembly completed its organization by the election of six vice-presidents, who with the six chairmen of the committees elected Wednesday form a sort of executive committee of the assembly. The non-European nations, for whom much solicitude was shown Wednesday, had no complaint to make, as they obtained four vice-presidents instead of the three they had asked for.

They were Viscount Ishii, Japan; Honario Pueyrredon, Argentina; Sir George E. Foster, Canada, and Rodrigo Octavio, Brazil. The other vice-presidents are H. A. van Karnaalbeek, Holland, and Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovakia.

A curious result of the first ballot for vice-presidents was a tie between Rodrigo Octavio, the Brazilian under-secretary for foreign affairs, and Dr. Casto da Cunha, the Brazilian ambassador to France, for a sixth vice-president. While the assembly was discussing the proposed vote for the remaining vice-president, an animated discussion proceeded at the Brazilian bench, each candidate insisting that he be allowed to withdraw in favor of the other. A second ballot was taken, however. As an act of courtesy, Giuseppe Motin, president of the Swiss confederation, who had delivered the address of welcome was elected honorary president of the first assembly of the league.

Rumors which had been current all week that certain combinations had been formed to carry pre-arranged programs through the assembly were denied yesterday from two sources. M. Pueyrredon for the Argentine delegation said that it was absolutely untrue so far as Argentina is concerned that the South American republics were in an understanding with other neutrals to force the admission of Germany into the league.

The British dominion representatives made it clear that they were here to represent their particular dominion without reference to sister dominions or mother country. All the delegates appear to be satisfied with the progress made in the necessary preliminary proceedings, the work having been gone through with a minimum of friction, and they expect "the final results to satisfy all the friends of the league."

It developed yesterday that C. J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice, had become a victim of one of the high-speed translations made during the assembly's proceedings. The translator made him say that Canada would abstain from voting on the message of sympathy offered in the assembly for transmission to President Wilson. Mr. Doherty at once corrected the mistake, but the correction got lost in the confusion and the incorrect version of the delegate's remarks became widespread.

Under some circumstances the League of Nations might invite Poland to become the military defender of Danzig, that nation has been informed by the council of the league. It was announced yesterday that the council had approved the constitution of the league, as a free city under guarantee of the league, as previously drafted, with some modifications. Poland has been informed that while it is impossible to accord her the exclusive right of the military defense of Danzig, circumstances arise under which the league might invite her to undertake the city's defense.

LOWELL WOMAN WINS POSTER PRIZE

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Miss Margaret C. Parley of 409 East Merrimack street, Lowell, was yesterday announced as winner of the prize contest conducted by the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, Inc. for a poster to be used as a cover design for the program at the coming bazaar of the league.

The second prize was won by Miss Helen Webster Strong of 74 Brookline avenue, Newtonville, and those receiving honorable mention are Miss Elizabeth H. Ferrand, 56 Gainsboro street, Back Bay; Leon Hoyt Fowler, 1710 Commonwealth avenue, Miss Leone Cunningham, 64 Madison avenue, Medford; Miss Alice E. Preston, 142 Abbott street, Lawrence; William Hayman, 57 Webster avenue, Somerville, and Cary Schrader, 12 Rosemary street, Jamaica Plain.

SPORT ON AMERICANISM

Talk on "Americanism" by Dr. George W. Tupper Under Auspices of the Textile Christian Association
Dr. George W. Tupper, head of the industrial department of the Y.M.C.A. in this state was the speaker yesterday afternoon at the Lowell Textile school under the auspices of the Textile Christian association, which is the college branch of the Y.M.C.A. The meeting was presided over by Principal Charles H. Eames, who in a brief address outlined the purpose of the gathering and introduced Dr. Tupper. The speaker took for his subject, "Americanism," and in the course of his address he called the attention of the students to the fact that their education for executives in the textile industry would not be complete unless they were able to cope with the problem on the human side of the industry. This lecture was the first in a series to be given under the auspices of the association in the course of the winter months.

JOE GEDEON RELEASED

BROADWAYS CELEBRATE

Sixth Anniversary of Prominent Club—A Most Enjoyable Affair

The Broadway Social and Athletic club, organized six years ago for social, athletic and charitable purposes, celebrated its anniversary at the club headquarters in Broadway last evening with a banquet, and the affair was without doubt one of the most successful and enjoyable events in the history of the organization.

The attendance was one of the largest on record, the menu was an excellent one, the speakers were interesting and instructive and the musical and literary numbers were of rare excellence.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson, City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy, Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, Michael H. Harrington, William A. Walsh, president of the club, and William H. Sullivan were the speakers. All lauded the organization for the important mission it has filled in this community. Particularly commendable, said the speakers, was the charitable work of the club and its members. The unostentatious acts of mercy performed for the poor and needy families, for the members who have met reverses, for the dependents during the war, and for the children of the neighborhood at Christmas time, were recited by the speakers, who said that no other organization of its size in the city, was doing a greater work than the Broadway club.

The evening's program opened shortly after 8 o'clock, when all who had assembled upstairs marched into the beautifully decorated club rooms to the accompaniment of a stirring march, played by Al Forrest. A turkey supper, with all the club's was then served by Caterer Lydon.

President William A. Walsh

The post-prandial exercises were

WILLIAM A. WALSH
President

opened by President William A. Walsh. He extended a cordial greeting to all, thanked the speakers and entertainers for their response to the invitations and complimented Chairman Timothy F. O'Sullivan and the members of the banquet committee for their work in arranging the evening's program. He also expressed his gratitude to the members for his re-election for another term and urged all to continue the co-operation and assistance of the past and he was confident that when any other birthday anniversary comes around the organization will again be found in a prosperous condition. He said there are now 215 members, with $1600 in the club treasury and an additional $300 for a Christmas fund.

FAIR COMPLEXION
CONCEALS AGE

Hide the Face of Pimples and Such Blemishes by Using Stuart's Calcium Waters—Surprising How Youthful One Looks

Pimples, blackheads and other such facial blemishes may be traced to an excess of impurities being eliminated through the skin and this condition calls for calcium to enable the process of elimination to be carried on more completely.

The results are soon noted in a much finer texture, the gradual disappearance of the blemishes and a really beautiful complexion. This is considered the correct way to a handsome, lively skin. Get a 50-cent box of these waters at any drug store and observe how nicely the skin soon clears.

He told of the important work being performed by the welfare committee, of how his body spent $350 during the past year to assist other members in need. He also said that needy families of the section had been helped and that the organization planned to continue such work and he urged all to report any needy cases. President Walsh then turned the program over to James J. Clinton as toastmaster. Mr. Clinton recounted the progress of the club since its formation in 1914 and said that he hoped it would continue to grow and prosper. He thanked the committee for the honor in selecting him to act as presiding officer and he then proceeded to carry out the program.

Mayor Thompson was next presented and he received a cordial greeting. He expressed his pleasure at being present and paid a glowing tribute to the members for their many acts of charity and for their splendid work in bringing happiness and comfort to the needy and worthy residents of the community. He said that the mission of the Broadway club is filling in Lowell is one of the most praiseworthy, one of the most commendable possible to obtain. He painted a beautiful allegory inspired by his recent visit to the seashore. One day as he gazed over the wide expanse of water, there appeared in the distance the masts of a ship. Gradually it came nearer to view, and gradually more of the craft could be seen. He learned that it carried a cargo of coal and as it approached the pilot, buoys and beacons along its path signalled a welcome. "The thought came to my mind," said the mayor, "as I had only a few days before received your invitation, that there was no doubt but the name of the ship which was bringing warmth and comfort to many homes was the Broadway. As it safely passed between rocky and dangerous shoals I thought of your organization. I thought of the warmth and comfort that you have brought to many families and how your capable and zealous pilots your craft has steamed its way through its charitable voyage. I predict with confidence after recalling your activities, that your club under its efficient officers will grow and become bigger, greater and grander than ever."

Principal Speaker J. Joseph Hennessy, city auditor, was introduced as the principal speaker of the evening and arose amid tumultuous applause. He delivered an eloquent address in commending the club for performing its various acts of mercy, saying the welfare work of the organization is known throughout the length and breadth of the city. He declared that he was proud of the fact that he was an "Acro" boy and said that the membership could do well to continue its important work for the benefit of the district and the city. He said the club, said the speaker, is an integral part of the community and it was made up of the bone and sinew of the best there is in the city. He lauded the purpose of the assembly, welded as they are for the advancement of each other. "Your work of Christmas charity performed without praise or expectation of laudation is an attribute of God. You have made many unfortunates happy and assisted others in distress. What greater mission could be performed?"

He told of how he has silently watched the club since its inception, of how pleased he was to see it become such a powerful and moral force in the community. The force of example such as exemplified by the Broadways, he said, could not but help to redound to the benefit of all. People will always be proud to look upon you and admire your charitable work. He said that the good fellowship among the members and among the residents of the Acro section brought to his mind the words of Boyle O'Reilly, which he translated as applicable to the assembly as follows: "That you bring us no crime from the Acro, nor shame or guilt. Though the sword that you hold may be broken you never have dropped the hilt."

He recalled the part played by the club during the war, of how the members called from various walks of life answered the summons and marched away to bring peace and happiness to the greatest of all countries, these United States. While still technically at war, he said, please God, we must continue to think together and work together. We must stand behind our government, our president and our congress, so that in the near future we will enjoy peace upon earth and goodwill toward men. He urged the members to carry on their activities to keep ever alive the inspirations of the Acro, and by continuing the ways of righteousness they may well be proud of the boast that they are members of the Broadway club.

Other Speakers

Remarks were also made by Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, who was enthusiastically greeted, Michael H. (Don) Harrington, who was also warmly received, and William H. Sullivan.

Excellent musical numbers were contributed by Al Forrest, William Paul McCarthy, Frank Deignan, Daniel E. Brennan, Dominick Molloy, James Dowling, James Shugrue, William Carr, Fred Cummings, Edward Donohoe and Frank McCarthy. The final number was "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly.

The committee in charge of the affair, which was warmly complimented for the splendid program and the enjoyable time provided for all, was composed of Timothy F. O'Sullivan, chairman; Patrick O'Connell, Thomas Edward

FIRST LADIES
OF THE LAND

Comes March fourth and there'll be a new "First Lady of the Land." Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

The first mistress of the White House was Mrs. Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams. Then the White house was called the "Palace."

Mrs. Adams carved for herself a high niche in the hall of fame by being the only First Lady of the Land to hang out the family wash in the East room of the White House.

Dolly Madison was the second First Lady in the White House, Thomas Jefferson being a widower. Dolly reigned during the Jeffersonian and Madison administrations and played a heroic part when the British burned the national capitol.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland was the first First Lady of the Land bride. She now is Mrs. James F. Preston.

Mrs. Ruthven B. Hayes was the first First Lady of the Land to refuse to serve wine at White House dinners. The first First Lady, Mrs. Washington, never lived in the White House.

The only living women who have been First Ladies of the Land are Mrs. W. H. Taft, Mrs. James F. Preston (Mrs. Cleveland), Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Three ex-widows have played prominent roles as First Ladies, Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Madison and the present mistress of the White House, were widows when married to the men who became chief executives of the nation.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. PAUL PAPERFUSE, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

GRAIN PRICES TUMBLE

Smashed Heavily Downward at Chicago Today—Hogs and Provisions Followed

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Grain prices smashed heavily downward today all along the line, with hogs and provisions following suit. Corn led the way, notwithstanding that it was already lower than at any time since 1915.

Expectation of greatly enlarged offerings from the new crop of corn appeared to be a leading factor in emphasizing bearish sentiment caused by unsettled financial and economic conditions. Before the day was half over wheat had fallen 1/2 to 1.73 1/2 for December delivery and to $1.63 for March. Corn was off 5c, to 66 1/2, December and oats down to 45 1/2 for May.

The severity of the new breaks excited much comment. It was pointed out that the value of corn now had been cut from 1.53 1/2 a bushel to less than 10c. Inside of five months, whereas it was two years after the world war was started before a bushel of corn could command $1.

Hogs were 50c per hundredweight under yesterday's average, the top price being $12.

780 OF 10,000 IN CITY VICTIMS OF TYPHOID

SALEM, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Seven hundred and eighty persons are today suffering from typhoid fever in this city of less than 10,000 people. Four emergency hospitals established within the last few weeks, are filled with

BURKE MURDER TRIAL

State's Contention Declared

Unreasonable by Counsel for Defense

SROWHEGAN, Me., Nov. 19.—The state's contention that the forging of two notes and a receipt by John A. Burke was a motive for the murder of Nelson W. Bartley, was declared unreasonable by former Attorney General William R. Pattangall today, in his closing argument in defense of Burke, whose second trial on the charge of killing Bartley is nearing its close.

Saying the prosecution had attempted to show by handwriting experts that the forging of Bartley's signature was done by treachery, Mr. Pattangall asked why, if such were the fact, Burke should have made three forgings instead of one to secure $2400, when one note would have done just as well.

Attorney Pattangall further claimed it was unreasonable to believe that Mrs. Burke was a partner to the crime by reason of the fact that she witnessed the signing of the papers.

Then he attacked the theory of the state and asked what the motive really was for the murder. He asked the jurors why Burke should have reason to hate Bartley when the evidence showed that he, with William J. Murtha, in the spring of 1919, saved Burke from prosecution on a defalcation charge by settling a shortage

Shipping board employee had received a commission of $24. The board paid $10.35 for this purchase, including an overcharge of $24.50, Jewell said.

Jewell corroborated Sullivan's testimony that Washburn was on the payroll both of the Shipping Board and the steamship company while working for the board.

Jewell testified that many orders for supplies were placed with firms having only desk room offices. The condition of Shipping Board warehouses in New York was deplorable, he said, and the board had no system of invoicing and no method of checking up on purchases.

Washburn, said Jewell, strongly opposed his suggestion for establishment of an invoice system in his department, saying he did not propose to have anyone interfere with his business.

Another resolution adopted extended greetings and best wishes to President-elect Harding and expressed the "wish and desire that in the selection of a person to fill the position of secretary of agriculture in his cabinet he select a farmer, not only in sympathy with farmers, but identified by ideas, vocation and effort that the farmer will recognize him as one of themselves, a man around whom agricultural interests will rally with confidence in his leadership."

The convention will close tonight after receiving the report of the committee on claims and grievances which heard evidence in the trial of William Bouck, master of the Washington state grange, charged with violations of regulations prohibiting introduction of partisan politics into grange sessions.

LABOR DEMANDS AN EX-CONG. OAKLEY DIES IRISH ASSEMBLY AT NEW HAVEN

(From New York World)
LONDON, Nov. 19.—The British cabinet has forfeited whatever right it may have possessed to govern Ireland. These are the words of an important manifesto issued by the executive committee of the British labor party.

There is nothing for it now, the executive committee declares, but to withdraw its armed forces and place the responsibility for order on local authorities, and provide for the immediate election of a constituent assembly to work out, without limitations or fetters, a constitution for Ireland. Two conditions only would be made—protection for minorities and the prevention of Ireland becoming a military or naval menace to Great Britain.

17 Others Clung to Boat

their strength falling. About half the men remained by the boat after the engine stopped, and being forced overboard by the flames, clung to the sides of the craft and were saved as the strong wind that was blowing finally drove the boat to the side of the lake where it stopped against the mass of stumps left when the lake was lowered. The survivors then clung to the stumps and were rescued by crews from neighboring camps who were summoned from the village where the people saw the flames of the burning boat and surmised what had happened, promptly summoning aid.

The boat was owned by the Great Northern Paper Co., and under charter to Alexander Gunn of Greenville, who was operating it. Mr. Gunn was saved, as was Nelson Smith of Orono, who is a clerk for the Great Northern at Cuxabeska.

The men drowned were not residents of this section. They had just been engaged for work in the woods by the company, and many of them were Lithuanians or of foreign extraction. 17 of crew of 33 rescued.

This noon it was known that of the 33 men on the boat, 17 had been rescued and 16 drowned. The names of the survivors were known but of the dead but seven bodies had been recovered and but four identified. The known dead are John Zorilli, Nathan P.E.I., P. C. McCut, Nathan P.E.I., John McDowell, Nathan, P.E.I., and Arthur O'Connor, residence unknown. Owing to the large number of men who are being sent into the woods by the Great Northern Co., the only means of immediate identification is by flagging the bodies and this work is being carried on by a large crew. Some of the survivors are in more or less serious condition, owing to their exposure in the icy waters, but it is believed that all who reached the shore alive will recover.

He was elected to congress on the republican ticket in 1914 and served two years.

CENTRAL BRIDGE REPAIRS

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy announced today that the work of repairing Central bridge so that street car and other heavy traffic may pass over it would begin Monday morning. The work will be done by the employees of his department. Today E. B. Walker, engineer of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., was in conference with City Engineer Stephen Keursey going over minor details of the plans for the repair of the structure.

STAPLES ESTATE PURCHASED

The Inter-City Trust Co., a Boston company with an office in the Hildreth building in this city, has purchased the Staples estate in Parker and Pine streets in the Highlands district. The estate consists of the homestead and about 26 acres of land. It is the intention of the company to divide the land into house lots and start at once the erection of dwelling houses. The company is now contemplating the purchase of other large tracts of land in Centralville, Pawtucketville and Belvidere.

NEW PUMPING ENGINE

The Middlesex Machine company has finished its work in installing the steam connections for the new pumping engine at the West Sixth street station of the water department and Commissioner Salmon is now awaiting the arrival of castings from the makers of the engine. They were to have arrived early this month, but owing to an accident during their manufacture, they will not get here before November 30, according to a letter received today. After they arrive the new pump will speedily be put in shape for actual operation.

A second cable from the mainland to Vancouver is to be laid at a cost of $250,000.

lake is in the heart of the so-called "wild lands" of the state, where extensive lumbering operations are carried on, and of famous hunting and fishing grounds visited annually by people from other states, many of whom take long canoe trips through that region to northern Arrostook. It is 30 miles north of Westhead lake. Both lakes are in Piscataquis county.

Situated at the head of the lake, where the west branch of the Penobscot river empties into it, Chesuncook, an unorganized township of about 100 population is situated. The lake is connected with a chain of lakes and streams in the northern section of the county.

"Cutie Cottontail is very ill with 'distinction' and Dr. Mink thinks he must not try to come to school for some time."

Then Nancy, Nick's twin, you know, and Scribble Scratch's helper, would gather up his books and ruler and pencils and put them away, and the fairymen would mark "excused" after his name in the roll-book, and there wouldn't be any trouble about anything at all. ### THIS STATEMENT IS POSITIVELY CORRECT

Clothing prices have been reduced. What merchandise we had in stock was marked down.

We then went into the open market and bought from some of the largest manufacturers several hundred Overcoats which were made to sell for double the price we are asking.

We have been so successful in selling these coats at these prices, our buyer made a flying trip to New York Monday night and after scouring the market bought another large lot of overcoats, values equal to and in some instances better than the first purchase of a week ago.

You can make no mistake by buying one of these Overcoats as you will be unable to duplicate them elsewhere this season.

ANNUAL PARISH REUNION

St. Margaret's Church Debt Liquidated—Happy Scene at Associate Hall

The announcement that the church debt of $72,000 had been liquidated and that the parish was free from all indebtedness featured the eighth annual reunion of the parishioners of St. Margaret's church, held last evening in Associate hall.

The announcement was made by Rev. Charles J. Gulligan, pastor of the parish for the past eight years, who said that the fact indicated more forcibly by the Sacred Heart church quartet, consisting of Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Sadie Corr, John H. McLaughlin and Timothy Finnegan; violin selections by Frank Deignan; whistling selections by William Carr; solos by John F. Roane, and songs and stories by John J. McCardle.

General dancing began shortly after 9 o'clock and continued until midnight with a short intermission during which teas were served. An apron and necktie march led by the mayor and Miss Julia T. Lannon was a feature.

The officers of the affair to whom a large share of credit is due for the social and financial success of the evening were the following: General manager, Miss Julia T. Lannon; floor marshal, John F. Roane, Jr.; assistant floor marshal, Joseph Maguire; chairman of ladies' committee, Mrs. Dennis J. Cooney; chairman of the men's committee, James B. Casey. They were aided by a large corps of assistants.

HILTO THEATRE

In what has been termed as the greatest southern drama ever screened Joseph J. Dowling, of "The Miracle Man" comes to the Hilto for the three latter days of the week. He will appear in "The Kentucky Colonel," which was adapted from Opie Reardon, the name of the same name. It is a delightful story of southern life and inimitable friendships. In addition to "The Kentucky Colonel," the Hilto is offering Josephine Earle in "The Fall of a Saint," an Educational comedy, "Duck in" and the latest program of Fox news.

THE STRAND

A picture that is said to include William Farnum's greatest screen effort will be shown at The Strand today and for the remainder of the week. It is "If I Were King," from the great stage success and novel by Rudyard Kipling, and is a William Fox production. Those who follow the stage will remember that R. H. Southern created the role of Francis Villon in this play, and scored a great success. As soon as the picture was finished Mr. Fox sent a copy of it to England, where it was shown to Mr. McCarty and he was so highly enthusiastic over it that he unhesitatingly pronounced it one of the most important screen efforts possible. Mr. Farnum has given to the screen many wonderfully good characterizations, but in the role of Francis Villon he has outdone all former efforts. All of the important details necessary to bring to the surface the needed features of the picture story are shown with its wonderful accuracy. It is a picture of the worth-while kind, and should be seen to be fully appreciated. You may have seen it on the stage, or read it in book form, but to see it in motion pictures is to enjoy it to the fullest.

The other feature for the week-end will be Corinne Griffith in "The Whispering Market." This story shows the struggle to better advantage than in any of her other big film successes. The story is well constructed and unfolds in a realistic manner, melodrama and some situations of an unusual sort. The story teaches a strong lesson, see it and benefit.

OPERA HOUSE

"Lombardi Ltd." the big fun and fashion production that is being presented this week at the Opera House by the Lowell Players, is scoring one of the real hits of the season. Capable audiences at every performance testify to its popularity with the trons. It's a veritable fashion show. More than $10,000 worth of furs and gowns are put on display, and the other stage accessories mount up into the thousands. Milton Byron, the talented leading man of the company is most commendable as Tito Lombardi, the Italian creator of fashions, and Miss Marguerite Fields makes a most interesting role of his hard-working assistant designer. The mannequins and others of the cast are all pleasingly cast. To miss this production is to miss one of the real treats of the year. Arrange to attend one of the remaining performances and order your tickets well in advance. Next week the offering will be James Herne's famous drama, "Shore Acres."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Her Husband's Friend," the leading attraction of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre, starring Edith Bennett, was adapted to the screen from Marjorie Benton Cooke's famous novel, "The Inebriate." Miss Bennett's role is that of a young wife who, when she becomes a widow, is unaware that her husband's best friend had promised to care for her. The two eventually meet in queer circumstances. Talbot immediately captivates her. How they travel the road of love makes a highly entertaining story. The other big feature for the week-end is "The Lost Battalion," a production of the adventures of the famous 7th Division unit. A comedy, "The International News and Topics of the Day" round out the bill.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There's an irresistible swing to all that Alexandria, the syncretistic symphonist, plays at the B. F. Keith's this week. It goes along like a roller coaster. Alexandria isn't alone a maker of music. He is one of the funniest of comedians. "Peggy's Wedding Night," in which Jean Chase & Co. appear, is a mystery farce with no end of surprises, while "Elle White," the little singing comedienne offers a brace of songs that are all new. Other acts on this week's bill are: Alphonse Koldin and Fred Galletti, in an Italian street scene; the Three Andor Sisters, dancers; Carroll & Sturges, musicians; and Bender & Heer, athletes.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-third Anniversary of Father Matthew Total Abstinence Society of North Billerica Observed Last Night

The 33rd anniversary of the founding of the Father Matthew Total Abstinence Society of North Billerica was observed in Thomas Memorial hall last evening. Attending the festivities were guests from Lowell, among whom were Probation Officer Edward P. Slattery, organizer of the society, and James O'Sullivan, who assisted in the formation of the organization. There were also representatives of the Father Matthew's society and the Y.M.C.A. of this city.

The first number on the program was the banquet, which was followed by post-prandial exercises presided over by President Francis McNulty, who in a brief address welcomed the guests. The speakers were Rev. John M. Cunningham of St. Andrew's church, assistant spiritual director of the society; Mr. Slattery, Mr. O'Sullivan, Chairman Thomas P. Sheridan, Fred Reardon, George P. Roberts, Louis Mahoney, Edward Morris, Charles Lyons, Edward Garmon, Bartholomew Hayes, George Lewis, John P. Mahan and John Mahan. Reception committee: William S. Taylor, chairman; Carroll J. Delahanty, R. W. Kearney, John Hayes, Joseph Hayes, John S. Welch, Timothy J. McCarthy, John F. Mullin, Neil B. Mahoney, William McNulty, Henry Sullivan, Walter Sullivan, William Mullin, Edward Barton, Thomas Barton, Edward Costello, William Costello, Chas. E. Cowdrey, Joseph Mahan, Richard P. Donnan, William Collins, Fred Reardon, George Roberts, Arthur Gannon, J. Frederick Gannon, Gregory P. Kenney.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Donald Walsh, aged 8 years, son of Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh, is in a serious condition at the home of his parents, 7 Rosemary avenue, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and bruises on the face as a result of an automobile accident, which occurred yesterday afternoon in Broadway.

The boy was on his way to school when he was struck by an automobile truck owned by A. E. O'Hair & Co. and operated by Edouard Marchand, an employee of the company. The accident occurred at a point near Wilson's coal yard. The boy was placed in the machine and was rushed to the Lowell Corporation hospital. Later he was removed to the home of his parents.

COMMUNITY LECTURE COURSE

The second entertainment in the community lecture course under the auspices of the Centralville church brotherhood, which was given last evening, was supplied by the Red path Concert Co. This company consists of four persons: Merle Blanchard, soprano; Theodore M. Dilaway, tenor; Carl Webster, cellist; and J. Albert Hajmargner, pianist. A variety program including solos, duets, trios, and quartets was given much to the delight of the large audience. Some of the direct lecturers and concert entertainers will be brought to Lowell by the brotherhood in the course of the winter season.

Documents prove that William the Conqueror, the first Norman king, could not sign his own name.

ANOTHER ANTHRAX CASE REPORTED

The second case of anthrax to come to the attention of the local authorities this year has just been reported to the board of health. The patient is Onegine Dufresne of 121 Martin street, who has been employed as a laborer on a local estate. He has been doing plastering recently and it is believed that he may have contracted the disease from hair used in making the plaster. Dr. L. V. Rochette reported the case and it is now under investigation.

REV. CHARLES J. GULLIGAN

than words that the parish organization is prosperous and that there has been splendid co-operation between the clergy and members of the parish.

The reunion was attended by a crowd which taxed the capacity of the hall. Elaborate decorations of hunting and greenery combined with lattice work and flower effects about the walls and stage front gave the affair a pretty setting and added much to the enjoyment of the parishioners.

The entertainment features included orchestral selections, piano selections by William Paul McCarthy; selections

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sir Knights Assemble at Annual Installation of Fourth
Degree OfficersRarely has such a gathering of sir knights assembled here as met last evening at the annual installation of officers of Bishop Delany, general assembly, fourth degree, Knights of Columbus, in K. of C. hall. The hall was filled when Faithful Navigator Andrew Molloy called to order. He congratulated the members on their enthusiastic response to the invitation to greet the distinguished head of the order and expressed the hope that the interest would continue.Hon. Louis K. Watson, master for this district and a former state deputy for the K. of C. here, was introduced to install the officers and with impressive ceremonies the new officials were inducted to their stations.
The new faithful navigator, William H. Gallagher, spoke quite interestingly on the assembly, the basic principle of the degree—patriotism—and lastly the necessity for loyalty and co-operation in everything—that tends toward the betterment of the order.
Master Watson's address was characteristically interesting, bristling with facts and anecdotes, such as never fail to make his annual visit here an interesting review of events connected with the order. He spoke graphically of a recent visit to Porto Rico with several other masters of this country
for the purpose of exemplifying the fourth degree. In going about his work in this district, Mr. Watson said, he has found few assemblies more enterprising or more vigorous than that in Lowell. He assured the members of his assistance in whatever projects they undertook during the coming year.Rev. Francis J. Mullin, faithful fellow, gave an eloquent and scholarly discourse on education, on the benefits accruing from a thorough knowledge of men and things and urged the sir knights to take advantage of the opportunities, so numerous about them, for improving the intellect. He cited several examples to indicate that the Catholic church is the mother of education and under her fostering care undreamed of progress has been made.The social activities of the order received a decided stimulus when it was voted to appoint a committee to conduct the annual dinner. The committee includes Sir Knights Edward F.
Saunders, William H. Mahan, John R.
Hart, Andrew Molloy and Thomas G.
Delaney.It is possible that several new features will be introduced at the coming dinner as they were tentatively discussed and approved last evening.
Several whist parties and dances are on the program of the board of patrons and indications point to one of the most successful social seasons in the assembly's annals.The annual report of the financial officers was a comprehensive statement of receipts and expenditures and showed a balance in the treasury. The new officers installed last evening
were:Faithful Navigator, William H. Gallagher; faithful admiral, Sir Knight
Andrew Molloy; faithful captain, Sir
Knight John E. Hart; faithful pilot, Sir Knight Patrick J. Nevins; faithful scribe, Sir Knight Arthur J. O'Neill; faithful friar, Rev. Francis J. Mullin;
faithful comptroller, Sir Knight
Frank J. Finnegan; faithful purser,
Sir Knight Michael J. Quinn; inside
sentinel, Sir Knight Thomas J. Burns;
outside sentinel, Sir Knight John J.
Gearin.After the meeting a supper was served and a "smoker" and entertainment enjoyed.

ADDRESSING CIVICS CLASS

Superintendent of Schools Talks on

"The Government of Massachusetts"

Before Margaret Brent Civics Class

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, addressed the Margaret Brent civics class of the League of Catholic Women on "The Government of Massachusetts" at its regular meeting late yesterday afternoon at the league of office in Central street. He treated the subject in a most interesting and informative manner and his address proved enjoyable to the large number present.

He said that government was of particular interest to women at this time

because of the 19th amendment, but he was sure that even before this amendment of suffrage women exercised a great influence over the affairs of the community. A good government, he said,

may be compared to a good family

government, he pointed out. He traced the development of government in this state from the earliest

times and said that the commonwealth,

despite contrary reports, is still the most progressive and forward looking state of the Union. No state offers the same educational advantages, he said,

and in no state is democracy given

such broad opportunities to develop.

He explained the machinery of government in this state in a most interesting manner.

Following his address Mr. Molloy

was given a rising vote of thanks. It was announced that at the next meet-

evening, Nov. 25, at 8 o'clock, the speaker will be Lawrence Cummings,

who will discuss informally vital points of interest to women in politics.

LOWELL BOY IN BIG GAME

Reginald White, son of William T.

White, will probably have a place in the line-up of Roxbury school of Cheshire, Conn., in their big game with Milford school at Weiss ball park in New Haven this afternoon in what will be the greatest secondary school game of the season, both for the size of the audience, made up of thousands of sport fans in the city for the Yale-

Harvard game Saturday, and for the interest of Yale coaches in material for their future eleven that will be presented for their inspection in this struggle. Roxbury draws athletes from all the big private schools because the Roxbury team are all under the observance of Yale coaches. Al Norris, now star center on the Yale Freshman team, first came into prominence last year for his work for Roxbury in this annual game with Milford. White has shown remarkable improvement in form under the tuition of Coach Grove of Roxbury.

INDIANS TO PRACTICE

A practice session for members of the Indian football team will be held following players will report: Liston,

Locke, Grady, Spence, Young, Nolan,

Moran, Gleason, Cobb, Donnellan, Lou-craft, Whitehead, Williams, White,

Lynch, McIntyre, Turner.

Plans will be made for the next game to be played on the Fair grounds Sunday afternoon, when the Lawrence

American Legion team will come here.

DEAFNESS AND HEAD
NOISESIf you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parafin (double strength), and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises.
Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleas-

CHARTER PROBLEMS

The proposed charter amendment now before the chamber of commerce on a referendum, involves the question whether the construction of all school buildings should be left to special commissions appointed from time to time by the municipal council and school board in joint session; and also whether the supervision and control of all school buildings shall be vested in the hands of the school committee.

At the present time the city maintains a building department whose business it is to assume supervision and control over all municipal buildings. If this work were divided with the school board, there would be required an additional building department which would, in almost every detail, duplicate our present property department. What we want is co-ordination of departments, and elimination of needless offices rather than increase and duplication.

In cases in which the municipal council or school board might deem it advisable to have a building erected by a special commission, the charter should make that course permissible. If the municipal council and school board together cannot build new school houses successfully at a reasonable cost, then surely it would be futile to submit the work to either of these bodies.

At present the municipal council has charge and its work in this respect is quite often criticized on the score of cost; but there is no reason for assuming that any improvement would result from placing the supervision, control and even construction of buildings in the hands of the school board.

The chamber of commerce might well pass upon the question whether a certain proportion of the tax levy shall be set apart for the maintenance of our school system. This plan is in force in a number of cities and it seems to have many advantages. It gives at least a clearer idea as to the disposal of the revenue in each city or town. It also offers a basis of comparison that would expose the delinquency of any city that fails to provide generous support for its school system.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The world has now an opportunity to judge of what the League of Nations really is. In its first session, the leaders in debate were Lord Cecil of South Africa, but in reality representing English interests, and some of the delegates of the South American states.

All through the discussions the sentiment indicated with conclusive earnestness that without the United States as a member, the league would not amount to much. One delegate went so far as to propose a special formula under which to admit the United States, while another claimed that all nations should be admitted in order to avoid the danger of a rival league being formed.

Judging from the proceedings thus far, it is apparent that the United States is not likely to lose much by absence from the early meetings. If we have half a dozen colonies to join the league, we could enter with more confidence of receiving the consideration that is our due as our colonial representatives could rise like Lord Cecil of South Africa to plead for the policies we favored.

It appears that the league is to have more wheels within wheels than most of us had anticipated. However, the peace of the world demands some organization of the kind and if the present plan is not fair or not feasible, then it should be modified or else give way to one more direct and practical.

No, the league is not dead but unless the United States becomes a member, it can never carry out its plans and might as well disband.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

When the Federation of Labor called in Herbert Hoover to get his views on the present industrial conditions, it gave evidence of dealing with the present situation in a reasonable manner. It is understood that Mr. Hoover told his audience that labor must do its share in preventing unemployment, the causes of which, he said, could not all be laid at the door of the employers. The Federation is sampling new policies to meet present and future conditions and it is adopting the right course in securing accurate information from different sources.

President Gompers, however, is insistent that the human element shall have more consideration, and satisfactory arrangements in this respect, he believes, would increase production and eliminate waste, the two things that are essentially necessary in meeting the new conditions. The war is over and economic laws are operating in a manner that will force a readjustment in every line of industrial activity.

In taking steps to bar the radicals from using the organization for their purposes, the Federation is doing something that will bring it increased confidence and prestige throughout the country.

PAINTED SCHOOL GIRLS

It has been decided by the school authorities of North Adams to take rigorous measures to stop the practice of face-painting among the school girls. It is a shame to find young girls destroying the bloom of youth upon their cheeks by the application of rouge or other cosmetics that damage the skin. That practice has been indulged in some extent by high school girls in this city in connection with the social dances permitted in the high school hall. Some of the girls seemed to have the idea that by painting their faces, they would be in greater demand as partners in the dances. Better not to dance at all than to resort to face-painting in order to attract the young men. If the latter had the proper appreciation of unaffected simplicity and grace, they would prefer the girls of sincere modesty rather than those whose most striking charms are obtained from the use of paint.

BOSTON POLICE THIEVES

The fact that several police officers of the city of Boston are involved in charges of breaking and entering, will shake confidence in the integrity and reliability of the whole department. As usual in such cases, a few black sheep bring discredit upon the entire body.

It is not surprising, however, that the department contains criminals, considering the fact that the men were secured by public advertisement and without reliable knowledge of their antecedents.

No large body of men can be gathered together by draft or otherwise without any proper scrutiny of their character, who will not have a proportion of crooks and blacklegs. That the Boston police department is no exception to the rule is not at all surprising.

CLOTHING PRICES

It turns out that an announcement of a big cut in the price of clothing coming from the convention of the National Association of Clothiers was very misleading. It had reference only to the decision of a merchant who had goods on hand and wanted money so badly that he was willing to dispose of them at a loss of from 25 to 50 per cent. There was no announcement of a radical reduction to rule the market generally.

CUBA AFFECTED

Cuba is said to be suffering from a business depression. That island cannot expect to be the recipient of streams of gold continuously. She made vast sums on her sugar crop last year, and it is announced that this year's crop is the largest in her history. It is plain, therefore, that if Cuba can weather the present difficulty, due mainly to her credit strain, she will soon enter upon a period of great prosperity.

Of course the Japs have a right to debate the question, "Shall we fight America?" Also if they are anxious to find out what a real old-fashioned wallowing in like they can decide to fight, but we are not in the fighting business.

"We are going to have citizenship schools in every city in this country," says a woman speaker. We, unfortunately, have them going on all the time with pupils who are dull and listless and inclined to play hooky.

We have heard quite a lot about a "one-man army," and now comes a Providence officer who has captured five armed motor bandits, to qualify as a "one-cop police force."

If there is a connection between size of salaries and dignities, we shall have to transfer the title "His Honor" from the mayor to the "business agent" of the school department.

Stories of jewel thefts are becoming so common that no ambitious actress or enterprising press agent would think of trying to squeeze an ad out of one nowadays.

Who would think, from the public interest taken in it, that a race for municipal office is on with a big field coming down the home stretch in the first heat.

The Somerville yeggs who failed after working hard to open a safe that held only $2, were spared a depressing surprise anyway.

Here's hoping that we shall not have to say once, between now and next June, "This is as bad as last winter."

One of the best ways to keep a secret is to tell everybody and no one will think the subject worth talking about.

In Boston practical application seems to have been given to the ancient adage: "Set a thief to catch a thief."

The Boston police union, voting to give up its charter, seems to have been something over a year too late.

If the shipping board revelations are anywhere near true, some dollar-a-year men didn't earn their pay.

Wrong Dead Man

Two employees of the Los Angeles city morgue went to the city hospital to prepare the body of a suicide for burial. No sooner had they placed the body in the basket preparatory to returning to the morgue than the ought-to-be dead man came to life. The employees fled and did not return to work for two days. They had picked up a man who was suffering from an epileptic fit.

Padding the Census

It was during the Civil war and the northern and southern outposts were within hailing distance. "Hello, Johnny," sang out the northerner, "what regiment is yours?" "The Twelfth Virginia. What's yours, Yank?" "The 15th Rhode Island." "You lie, Yank. There ain't a hundred and seventy-five men in Rhode Island."—New York Evening Post.

Not Quite Lost

The little chap howled sorrowfully until quite a crowd had collected. "What's the matter, little fellow?" one asked kindly. "I'm lost," was the reply. "Won't all of you take me home to Moses Einstein's, the well-known cut rate merchant on Broad street, who has just received a new lot of finest overcoats, suits and gents' furnishings, which he is selling actually at less than cost?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Dog Code

Because his dog uses his bark to signal to Col. C. B. Fletcher of Seattle, and thus disturbs the neighbors, suit has been instituted to have the alleged nuisance abated. As near as can be figured out the signals are: one long howl—no supper; two long howls—not enough supper; three long howls—full moon tonight; one sharp bark—Bullshviki in the neighborhood; two short barks—Jiney in the vicinity; three sharp barks—attacking forces in the shape of cats appearing around the corner.

Bolsheviki and Others

Those Bolsheviks remind Squire Abner Harrington of the fellow he used to know who invited himself to a party where he wasn't overly wanted. This fresh guy comes up to the door. The doorkeeper is polite about it but tells him there's a house full already. He goes back to the sidewalk and ponders. He makes another try. This time the doorkeeper isn't so polite about it.

The third time that self-invited guest tries to break past the doorkeeper. Quite awhile later, in the ambulance, hustling over to the hospital, he comes to. An anxious-faced doctor is looking him in the eye.

"Say, Doc," the man murmured, "I don't believe them fellows wanted me at their party, do you?"

But another friend of ours insists the Bolshevik is like a tough egg he used to know in the old wet days. This hard-boiled guy had climbed on the outside of a rough drinks to make him feel his importance.

"I can lick my weight in wild cats," he yelled into the countenance of a little man irrigating his insides with a bit of buttermilk.

The Hat

I like those hats turned up in front. The girls are wearing now, Or velvet, fur or dusting. They suit my taste, I know, And whether rose or black or blue Or orange, green or white, Upon a pretty woman's head The look exactly right. A saucy feather at the side Off lends a piquant grace To those coquettish chapeaux turned So smartly off the face. I hope they give in style, for lo! Since they appeared 'em able Without an interfering trim To steal a kiss from Mabel.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The next time I start out to call on "Billy" Mitchell, agent of the Massachusetts mills, I shall tie my hair on. I shall expect to be threatened with scalping. William is modest about having his name appear in print. It is a form of shyness that he shares with the agents of most of the other mills. Nevertheless I am going to tell a story about William. Then I shall steer clear of him for awhile, if I can, and if he calls up to kick over the phone I shall certainly be "out." A number of years ago "Billy" was in Nashua with his tin bizzie. He was approached in the square by a stranger who asked him for a ride to Concord, N. H. "Billy" allowed he would be glad to accommodate, but that he wasn't travelling that way. He started to take the stranger, he learned that he was for the time being, one of that ancient fraternity that we used to know as "tramps." He had the wanderlust and he had it in a virulent form. He had been around the world several times, and had hung up his hat, when he had one to hang-up. In about every corner of the earth from Hindustan to Heligoland. On the day in question, he had walked from Boston to Nashua, and had eaten four green apples. "Billy" bought the stranger a "hot dog"—several in fact—and took him down to the Country club to sleep in a tent. It should be understood that there are tramps and tramps, and this one was a young man with a good education, who had skipped out of a good home to take up the life of the road. He was given a job in the Massachusetts mills. He cut out the wanderlust stuff, and made good—exceptionally good—as a worker. Then he lit out, went back to his home he had deserted, went across seas and did his bit in France. And word has lately come to Lowell that he is happily married, has become a newspaper man and is living in California—and hasn't forgotten "Billy."

11 GOVERNORS TO SPEAK AT CONFERENCE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19.—Eleven governors are on the program of the thirteenth annual governor's conference for formal addresses, according to announcement here of Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, which meets this year at Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1-3.

On "Decentralization of Governmental Functions and Activities," Governors R. A. Cooper of South Carolina, Robert D. Cary of Wyoming, Frank C. Lowden of Illinois, and Percival W. Clement of Vermont have consented to prepare material, Mr. Riley said.

Gov. Albert A. Smith of New York will give an address on "Housing Problems and Ways and Means of Promoting Home Ownership." Gov. Peter Norbeck of South Dakota will consider home ownership from the rural point of view in a paper dealing with the South Dakota Rural Credits law which provides for state loans for prospective farm owners.

The Kansas Industrial Court in its working form is to be discussed by Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas.

"State Income and Disbursements" will be considered by Gov. William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania, host to the governors. Gov. John G. Townsend of Delaware will discuss "The Budget and State Business Methods." Specific phases of the present agricultural situation will be taken up by Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana.

"In nearly every industry some typical practice is responsible for painful and numerous injuries. In the textile establishments, for example, the habit of picking cotton waste from machinery while it is in motion constitutes the origin of many serious accidents.

"During the attendance of children at continuation schools, the following principles might well be firmly impressed on their minds:

"Do not play on or around elevators or in proximity to hazardous machinery.

"Do not clean or oil machinery while it is in motion.

"Do not under any circumstances remove guards from machinery.

"Do not fail to secure first-aid treatment for all injuries, however slight.

MOYR

AMERICA WONDERLAND

Gen. Fayolle, Back in Paris,
Says He Had Wonderful
Time in This Country

PARIS, Nov. 19.—General Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks' stay in the United States, "I have just discovered America and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland."

"It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America," the general went on with the usual humorous twinkle in his eye. "I come back on the verge of collapse with grip dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything that I have said about American Expeditionary Force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chefs. There were many banquets, luncheons, I survived them all."

To the suggestion that most of the chefs at the leading hotels were French, General Fayolle replied: "They may be but they certainly have undergone an evolution for they had strange dishes of their own."

"Did you miss your wine with your meals," he was asked.

"I never missed my wine," Fayolle replied.

"Don't ask me to talk local American politics," General Fayolle went on when requested to explain whether he meant that he had his wine twice a day as in his custom or that he did not miss it temporarily.

"I have had a grandiose reception that I shall never forget although I am certain that it was not for me personally but because I represented Marshal Foch and the French army."

"I lived through it," concluded the general, "but even the organizers of my tour had to admit that it was a record for endurance."

HOUSING PROBLEM

Be Built in Madrid

MADRID, Nov. 19.—A gigantic effort to settle the housing problem of the Spanish capital by the construction of thousands of country folk to the city, is in progress in the northern section adjacent to the suburb of Cuatro Caminos. A private concern has acquired an enormous tract of land and has begun building what for Madrid are skyscrapers of ten stories. Each of these buildings is to contain 400 flats and 40 stores.

The new model suburb is to be in all respects modern. Engineers are now engaged in laying out a boulevard running through its center over half a mile long and 130 feet in width, with two carriage ways and a central promenade lined with trees.

AVERAGE EARNINGS IN NEW YORK DOUBLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Average earnings in this city's representative trades in September, 1920, were double what they were six years ago and, generally, $2 a week higher than they were a year ago, according to a report prepared by the Industrial Bureau of the Merchants' Association. The report declares that, while the city's industrial activity has receded somewhat from the high watermark established during the war, there is no indication of a general slump in manufacturing.

Charts giving the average weekly earnings of workmen, combining both office and shop employees, for September, 1914, 1919 and 1920, show, for the above named years respectively:

Stone, clay and glass products: $13.24, $26.58, $35.11. Metals, machinery and conveyances, $14.50, $27.91, $30.67. Wood manufactures, $12.40, $24.82, $28.42. Fur, leather and rubber goods: $11.77, $27.09, $26.43. Chemicals, oils and paints: $13.67, $24.79, $27.36. Printing and paper goods: $13.58, $27.36, $31.35. Textiles: $9.72, $21.03, $24.75. Clothing, millinery, laundry, etc.: $12.40, $27.68, $26.45. Food, liquors and tobacco: $11.60, $23.40, $26.04. Water, light and power, $15.79, $30.91, $35.59.

The general average of these industries for the three years runs: $13.06, $26.17 and $28.44.

TRANSPORTATION

Problems to Be Discussed by Mechanical Engineers

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Discussion of transportation problems affecting the country will hold the center of interest at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in this city, December 7-10. Transportation experts, headed by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will address the 2500 members of the society who are expected to attend.

A statement issued by the society said that transportation is considered by the organization as the most pressing problem before the country. "The industry of the country is being seriously handicapped," said the statement. "From present indications, it will take several years for facilities to catch up with increased traffic and the normal development of the next few years."

In addition to purely railroad questions, the society members will consider waterway development and the greater use of motor vehicles for moving freight. A special report is expected on the St. Lawrence waterways project to make possible ocean traffic through to the Great Lakes.

ONLY ONE CHAIR
IN FRENCH TOWN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—For many months the little city of Cologne in the Alsine region of France possessed but a single chair and it was the property of the mayor. It was officially known as "The Chair" until Junior Red Cross of America sent to that city a motor truck loaded with chairs and tables that had been made by the boys of America in their manual training schools. Last year thousands of these articles of furniture were sent to the devastated areas of France.

Colonels H. S. Todd and Bicknell of the Red Cross recently went to Chameroy to adjust some difficulties that had arisen to block construction of the Quentin Roosevelt memorial fountain, the details of which had been entrusted to the American Red Cross by the late ex-President Roosevelt. At Chameroy they learned that the mayor resided in Cologne and when they located him there he apologized for having left the city's only chair at the town hall. All were forced to stand throughout the visit.

An exchange of views quickly adjusted matters pertaining to the memorial fountain and so the Red Cross representatives departed for Paris they promised to relieve the solitude of that town chair. Soon afterward the vanload of Junior Red Cross furniture was sent to Cologne and the next time Col.

Trouble

TIME-TRIED and never more popular than today. Nothing but the relief it gives from stubborn colds, and on-rushing new ones, croup and throat torturing coughs could have made Sister Mary's Compound the standard remedy it is today. No harmful drugs. Always reliable, and good for the whole family. Has a convincing, healing taste with all its good medicinal qualities.

Of all known remedies, Honey is recognized as the greatest. "I without any hesitation, recommend this Compound to EVERY one suffering from cough and tubercular cough," says Rev. Herman J. Weber, Cawker, Cal.

Sister Mary's Compound contains, in addition to honey, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and STOP the inflammation. The other VALUABLE ingredients are absorbed into the blood, attack the seat of the trouble and DESTROY the germs that lead to pneumonia.

Sister Mary's Compound is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh of the throat and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Increases appetite and body weight. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

Todd visited the little city. It was proudly pointed out that the entire company gathered to confer with him was seated and gratitude was voiced to the American lads who had contributed the needed tables and chairs.

DECREASE IN FOOD PRICES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A decrease of 3 per cent. in retail food prices in October throughout the United States was noted in statistics on the cost of 22 articles, made public yesterday by the department of labor.

Greatest decreases were in sugar, 24 per cent. and potatoes, 18 per cent. The price of eggs increased 14 per cent.

The average family expenditure for the 22 articles decreased in all of the 41 cities from which monthly prices were tabulated, except Houston, Tex., where there was an increase of 3 per cent. The greatest decrease 6 per cent. was in Omaha, and St. Paul. Other decreases were, Chicago 5 per cent; Portland, Me., 4 per cent; Manchester, N. H., and New Haven, Conn., 3 per cent.

TELLS OF ANTI-BRITISH
FEELING IN U. S.

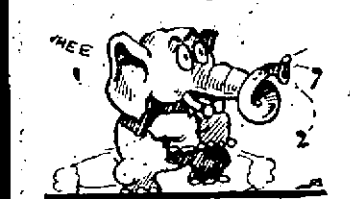

LONDON, Nov. 18.—H. W. Nevins, a well known journalist, lecturing on "America at the National Liberal club here, said his visit to the United States had upset nearly all his pre-conceived notions about Americans.

He said he found Americans most polite, very kind and hospitable and only too ready to take trouble for others. He did not find them particularly business-like and hard-working. One thing that struck him as terrible was the individual subservience to the state and the tendency of the police to dominate everything, and he gave instances of what he regarded as savage sentences of 10 years' imprisonment on a "perfectly innocent and harmless gentleman," and of 15 years upon a girl of 20 who had distributed a pamphlet urging American soldiers not to fight against Russia.

There was no real political labor party in America, which was 40 years behind England in that matter. Concerning anti-British feeling in America, he said he was constantly confronted by the shame of Britain's treatment of Ireland and he confessed that when he found the bones of commoners lying at Jyng gien, and hearing insults on a country struggling for political freedom, it was almost like going home and seeing his own mother drunk on the floor.

MAN WANTED BY POLICE IN 8 CITIES HELD

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 18.—Stuart C. Eggleston of New York, alleged to be wanted by the police of Washington, Baltimore, Brooklyn, New York, Boston, Nashua, N. H., Augusta, Me., and Montreal, for passing worthless checks, while traveling in the height of fashion and stopping at only the most exclusive hotels, was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday.

Eggleston, who was arrested at Berlin, N. H., Tuesday, was charged with giving one of the checks to a local concern a year ago last August and with being a fugitive from justice from Washington, D. C. The cases were continued until Nov. 26, bail being fixed at $5000.

Eggleston in an interview before his arraignment, claimed he was a college graduate, that his folks lived at 222 Riverside Drive in New York, and that he had served in the world war, being shot down from a height of 1500 feet while in the British air service and later serving with American sea forces. He was connected with in automobile house while here.

WIFE AND BABY SAVED GEN. BUDENNY

WARSAW, Nov. 19.—American fliers composing the Kosciuszko squadron of the Polish army have had many opportunities to bomb the trains of six cars which General Budenny, the Bolshevik cavalry leader, used as headquarters at the front, but they always refused to do so because they knew his wife and baby lived on board the train. On several occasions when the Budenny special was located by the Americans, they knew pretty well that the cavalry commander was at his traveling home for a visit with his wife and youngster but they always refused the chance to do him or his train damage.

It was reported some time ago that Budenny had been wounded by a bomb dropped by one of the American fliers while he was engaged in one of his spectacular raids on the southern Polish front before the armistice was declared.

It was also said that he had taken up arms against the reds and that he might join forces with General Wrangel.

General Budenny is a Kuban Cossack and was a sergeant-major in the old imperial Russian army. He has been seen many times from the air by the Americans and is described as a short, stocky man with quite an intelligent countenance despite the wild outdoor life he has led for years. His dress was picturesque, consisting most of the time of a black Cossack hat, khaki tunic, black trousers with bright blue stripes and high black boots. He is an excellent horseman and often led his troops into battle against the Poles.

Comes a Tapping on the Shoulder! Reproving Tap Halts Vamps

BERKLEY, Cal., Nov. 19.—The vamping, short-skirted, rouged and over-dressed college girl must go. Such is the mandate of 50 leading college women of the University of California composing the "Women's Council" in America's biggest co-educational college.

These determined young persons are going to take into their own hands the problem of the co-ed who uses the campus to display her charms rather than improve her mind. They have instituted a novel custom of going up to an offender and gently tapping her on the shoulder to call her attention to her "bad taste."

"The reputation of the modern college girl as a bold-eyed little 'vamp' is entirely undeserved," said Miss Minnie Irwin, president of the Young

Women's Christian association and one of the leading members of the "tapping" sisterhood.

"It's just a few girls who use rouge excessively, wear skirts too short, or peek-a-boo sweaters, and it's these girls we are trying to change. We simply call attention to their dress and ask their co-operation with us in making the campus a serious place of study and real comradeship between men and women."

"If a girl persists in violating the rules of the council by over-dressing, she is called before the women's executive board of students' affairs committee and put on the carpet. Only two have been called up so far, and I think it will not be necessary to call any more."

Besides regulating the attire and deportment of unruly college widows and vamps, the women's council has undertaken to regulate dancing on the campus. While they have not succeeded in abolishing "cheek dancing," they have ruled that every dance must close on Friday at 11 o'clock and on Saturday night at midnight.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT

The bad weather of the past day or two retarded the sale of tickets for the Boston Symphony orchestra concert at the Strand theatre next Monday evening, but despite the unfavorable conditions enough were sold to bear out the early indications that the concert would be solidly backed by the Lowell people.

The program announced has made a broad appeal. The single danger that the orchestra runs in going to cities for its annual concert is in offering a program that is too "stiff" for the person who does not have a chance to hear symphonic music very often. This has been most fortunately avoided in Lowell and Mr. Monteux and his band of 105 musicians are looking forward to achieving a notable triumph.

A very fine list of women and men have consented to allow their names to be used as patrons of the concert. The list as published below may be well said to be representative of Lowell in both music lovers and sponsors for things that are good and stimulating in our community life:

Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Brown, Arthur R. G. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cronin, Dr. and Mrs. George E. Calise, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chalifoux, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Clogston, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stanley Croyler, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Donohoe, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Enwright, Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Plather, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney R. LOWELL Woman Tells of Change. Friends All Notice Her Great Improvement Since Taking Tanlac.

"Well, since my friends and neighbors are all telling me I look so much better, I think it's time for me to make a statement about Tanlac," said Mrs. W. B. Davis, a highly esteemed resident of 5 Appleton place, Lowell, Mass., a few days ago.

"About a year ago my stomach seemed all at once to become very badly disordered, and from then on until I got Tanlac I suffered untold miseries from indigestion. Everything I ate caused sharp, cramping pains, and kept me in distress for hours. I had no appetite and actually dreaded for mealtime to come, for it meant nothing but more suffering for me."

"My liver was sluggish and I had spells of dizziness, when everything looked black before me. I had constant pains in my back and sides and my nerves would not let me sleep day or night. I became so run-down from lack of food and sleep that all my clothes became too large for me. Nothing helped me, and I became very low-spirited and sometimes thought my end was not far off."

"Seeing the large number of splendid testimonials given Tanlac by Lowell people, I decided to give it a trial, and it is certainly wonderful the way it has restored my health. Why, I want to be eating all the time now, and can eat most anything I want without an uncomfortable feeling afterwards."

"My nerves are steady, the pains have gone from my back, and in fact all my ailments have left me and I feel fine all the time. Everybody who comes around now notices my wonderful improvement and when they ask always glad to tell them, 'Tanlac.' It has made me so well and happy I can't praise it enough, and from now on I never expect to be without it."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

GIRL KILLED BY BOY HUNTER

NEWFIELD, N. H., Nov. 19.—The rifle that Edward Dick, 16 years of age, loaded for deer yesterday killed 13-year-old Grace Clark. The boy was passing through a dooryard bound for the woods and big game, when his rifle was exploded accidentally, the bullet striking the Clark girl. The authorities absolved young Dick of blame.

THE NEOLIN GUARANTEE

If the Neolin Soles on these shoes fail to give you longer service than you are accustomed to get from leather soles or if they crack or break at the stitches, return them to the NEWARK store from whom they were purchased, ACCOMPANIED BY THIS TAG and New Neolin Soles will be applied free.

Here is your opportunity to buy shoes that you can wear with the positive assurance that they will outlast any pair of shoes with leather soles and heels—at a price $2.00 lower than you can duplicate them for anywhere.

In other words, what this guarantee amounts to is that any pair of shoes you might buy today for $7.00 won't give you as much wear as these NEWARK shoes with Neolin Soles and Goodyear Rubber Heels at $5.00. And behind that warrant stands the written guarantee of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and ourselves. You can have these splendid shoes in any style and last, and in any size and leather. ## LANDIS REGULAR FELLA!

LANDIS—THE FAN

When Baseball Got "Balled"
Up They Called the Judge
to Do the Moses Act

BY DEAN SNYDER

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Why did they pick on Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the Chicago judge, to be the Moses of our baseball?

That's a whole sized question. But the answer sums itself up like a lump of sugar.

The whole American public has faith in Judge Landis.

Those are big words. No higher tribute was ever paid to any one individual. Even a president or a king might well envy the Chicago jurist such a bouquet expressed in our English vocabulary.

Applies Horse Sense

His program since 1905 has been to apply horse sense to human troubles. And that's all under the sun that baseball needs right now.

Spending a noon hour with the judge would convince anyone of his highness of vision, his interest in humans, and his love for baseball—the game which has focused the limelight upon him by giving him a $50,000-a-year job.

As soon as baseball is mentioned Judge Landis immediately becomes your friend.

Likes to Fan

"You baseball men have been very kind to me," he said. "Want to talk about it, do you? Let's take a walk then."

The wind was whipping up Michigan avenue at about the same rate of speed which Walter Johnson used when he was feeling good. The raw of winter was in it, too.

The judge pulled his hat down over his eyes, turned up his coat collar, snatched up his knitted cane and was off at a "Western" stride.

Game's Fascinating

"I'm not much of a winter leaguer," he said. "The part of the game that fascinates me is the one they play on the diamond."

"I can't think of anything more fragile than the crimping of baseball, can you? I don't know how to account for the bigness of baseball. But I do know that you'll find men and boys arguing over the batting averages of the stars even in remote settlements far back from the railroads hundreds of miles away from where the game is actually played."

Baseball's Scope

"Thousands of folks never have seen a big league game. Thousands of them never will, perhaps. They've never been closer to Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb than the printed newspaper page. But they can tell you exactly how they hold their bats or how they comb their hair."

"Why do people go to see Babe Ruth hit home runs? Gosh, that's the answer. They do, don't they?"

"I've met Tris Speaker. Well, that is, I shook hands with him during the world series. Stunty how a fan likes to imagine he's intimate with the stars, isn't it?"

"Wouldn't it be awful if they should abolish the world series? I haven't missed but in the last 11 years, I can think of no greater tragedy than the crippling of baseball. It means

JUDGE K. M. LANDIS

Judge K. M. Landis isn't essentially different at a baseball game from what he is when presiding over his court. The sparkle of interest in his eyes just the same. This picture was taken while the judge was watching a game in Chicago. Note that he's putting a cigar just like any other fan is apt to do during these tense moments. His necktie has slipped around to the northeast or somewhere thereabouts. But what's the difference. Nobody thinks about trifles when the bases are loaded and Babe Ruth is up there waving in bludgeon. So meet Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis—THE FAN. We're told that the judge likes this picture about the best of any ever taken of him.

just that much to the American people.

Used to Play

"Did I ever play baseball? I'll say I did. Right here along Michigan avenue. We fellows used to get out here at the noon hour along the water front. I guess that was about 30 years ago."

During the hot-foot walk up and down Michigan avenue the judge spoke to scores of friends. He poked shivering traffic cops in the back with his heavy cane and "batted" them. He stopped in at an art shop to admire etchings of Lincoln and Roosevelt. He particularly liked the drawings of Lincoln.

Admires Lincoln

"The artist didn't make the mistake of rubbing out a lot of lines as most of them do. See that wart on honest old Abe's face. It couldn't be more natural."

Back at the court chamber in the postoffice building Judge Landis was brimming over with pep and fire. He ate a box of lunch between telephone calls.

"I walk five miles every day," he said. "You'd be surprised what a brisk walk will do for a fellow. Fills

Game Needs Him

At 2 o'clock the judge was back in the courtroom at his business of applying more horse sense to Chicago's troubles.

That's what they want him to do for baseball.

And the horsehide sport can stand a lot of horse sense. The game has outgrown the business instincts of the Run Johnsons and the John Heydors.

And these men are wise enough to see it.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis is the doctor and on top of that he's a regular fellow.

If you're any doubt in your mind
as to that just drop in at his human workshop and spend a noon hour with him. He'll probably take you for a walk, and convince you, too.

WHAVERS CONTINUE PENNANT STRIDE

NEW BEDFORD, Nov. 18.—Duggan of New Bedford scored twice as many goals as the visitors last night and his team secured a decisive victory over the Bridgeport team. The game was played at the home of the Whalers and the winning of the pennant for the visitors was the feat. The score:

NEW BEDFORD	BRIDGEPORT
Duggan 2	Quigley 1
Wiley 2	Williams 1
Duffren 1	Harrold 1
Mulrhead 1	Cameron 1

POLO NOTES

Bridgeport here tonight.

The last time Bridgeport played here one of the most bitterly contested games of the season was played, with Fred Pender, goal for the visitors starring. Bridgeport got four in the first period, while Lowell failed to count. Lowell came strong in a second session, getting a tie, in the third period Lowell went to the front and landed the verdict by a splendid garrison finish.

Red Williams and Sox Quigley, rushers for Bridgeport, are a high class pair. Both are hard and accurate drivers and both can do considerable floor work.

Barney Doherty, who takes particular delight in playing "Red" Williams will be in there at the same old stand and all can expect him to hold him own with his opponent.

A large delegation from Lawrence is coming to town tonight to see Frank Hardy play. Hardy made many friends while leading the down-river team and now that he is a member of the local outfit, his "former enemies" are now our friends.

BUMPER CROP OF BOY PRODIGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—This year promises to reveal a bumper crop of boy prodigies. Edward, Richie Hardy, the 12-year-old Columbia freshman, may boast of the mastery of a dozen languages, and Samuel Rzeszewski, eight-year-old Polish chess wizard, may be able to checkmate 13 West Point strategists in a row, but neither of them can sing.

Robert Murray, 12, of Tacoma, Wash., can. In an exhibition yesterday before a group of Metropolitan stars, including Miss Frances Alda, who "discovered" the young hit, Murray not only reached with ease the high notes to a higher key in Arias of Gail Curiel and Tetravini fame, but, at the signal of his instructor and to the astonishment of his hearers, he transposed those high notes to a higher octave and breathed them with equal facility and resonance. The singers who heard the performance asserted that this was the highest note ever reached by the human voice.

MARTIN TO MEET ROYER

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Bob Martin, heavyweight boxing champion of the American Expeditionary Force, has been matched with Capt. Roy Royer of Chicago for a 10-round bout to a decision here next Wednesday night. The match was made by the inter-Allied championship overseas, knocked out Harbison Rice, the British army title holder last Tuesday. Royer won all his bouts in army camps in this country during the war. The men have met twice before in 12-round, no decision contests.

YALE-HARVARD GAME

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—The final touch to preparation of the Yale football team for the Harvard game was given by the coaches today. The drill was to be light in the late afternoon when the entire student body was expected to be in the bowl.

The team itself will have a bonfire, feeding into it the odds and ends of discarded football equipment, while the crowd will sing and cheer and the university band do its best to fill the enclosure with melody. The players will be taken away for a quiet night and the undergraduates will swarm back to town and play host to thousands of college men who will be here. There will be dances and the concert of the Yale and Harvard Glee clubs, and "open" houses and dormitories to a greater extent than ever before.

Special trains will be provided to bring the football crowd to New Haven and carry it away tomorrow. The number is nearly equally divided between New York and Boston ends of the railroad. The Yale and Harvard clubs of New York will have four trains and the Harvard graduates of Boston 25. Private parties with special cars coming from connecting roads number 25.

An official diagram of the Yale bowl, issued today, shows seats for about 75,000 persons. The 67 rows of seats, placed in a straight line would extend 21 miles. The top row seats 1383 persons. The gridiron is 27 feet below the outside ground level, and the upper seats 27 feet above. At 3 p. m. Nov. 18, the sun cast an equal shadow on both halves of the playing field.

Harvard Squad OK for Battle BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The Harvard football players, who with their coterie of coaches, managers and attendants, made up a party of 73, left here shortly after 10 a. m. for New Haven. The necessity of attending classes prevented most of the undergraduates from accompanying the squad to the railroad station, but many graduates and other enthusiasts were on hand to give the players a send-off and express their confidence that tomorrow would see another Crimson victory over the old rival, Yale.

The players upon reaching New Haven plan to go immediately to the Yale bowl for practice before boarding buses which are to carry them to their quarters at Derby. The team will not again be seen in New Haven until an hour or two before the game.

NOT THIS ROSANNA The Rosanna Blodreau who was booked at the police station yesterday charged with the larceny of two dresses was not Rosanna Blodreau of 24 Grand street.

"HARDING YEAR" IN CLOTHING STYLES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Next year is to be "Harding year" in clothing styles for men, members of the Custom Cutters and Designers' association were told by speakers at a dinner last night. P. J. Foley of Washington, an officer of the association, said that President-elect Harding wears conservative suits, leaning to blues and dark greys, and that is what all well dressed men will wear in 1921.

"There will be no frills in clothes next year," Mr. Foley said, "and conservatism will be the rule. It is to be Harding year in styles."

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB

Members of the Community Chess and Checker club held their third meeting at the Community Service headquarters last evening with President George W. Dearborn in the chair. The president offered to supply the club with checker boards until such time as the club is ready to buy them and his offer was accepted. A letter was received from Circle Protopapas of this city, offering to show the members of the club a handsome hand-made checker board made of about 1000 pieces of the best kinds of wood with a surface as smooth as glass, while another communication was received from Arthur A. McCullough of Boston and formerly of this city, offering to help in bringing well known checker leaders to Lowell. The names of more members were added to the club membership roll and the meeting adjourned until next Wednesday evening.

YANKEES SIGN MITCHELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The New York American league baseball team announced today the acquisition of J. Mitchell, an infielder, from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league. Six players, possibly seven, will be turned over by the Yankees for the California star.

The club has not yet decided where spring training quarters will be located. It has an option on South field, Jacksonville, Fla., and several points in Louisiana are being considered.

HORN OF RHINOCEROS

One Given to Pope Gregory XIV in 1590 Donated to American Museum of Natural History
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The horn of an Indian rhinoceros, presented to Pope Gregory XIV in 1590 to protect him against poisoning by its putative medicinal properties, has been donated to the American Museum of Natural History in this city.
The horn, given to the pope by the prior and brothers of the monastery of St. Mary of Guadalupe in Spain, was credited with sweating in the presence of poison, by way of warning, and if powdered and taken internally would act as an antidote.
The tip is missing. It was cut off in 1591 And administered to the pope in his last illness.

“LOAN DAY” IN PARIS
PARIS, Nov. 19.—November 25 has been decided upon by the presidents of all the chambers of commerce of Paris as Loan day. On that day the chambers of commerce have resolved, all the receipts taken by business houses in Paris shall be invested in the new 6 per cent loan.

“Apart from payments for goods sold previously, you shall bring to the state in exchange for loan certificates, all the money spent by the public that day, whether for nourishment or for amusement, for clothing or for lodgings or for purchase of any object in the stores of the capital,” the resolution reads.

OLGA REGENT OF GREECE

Queen Mother Takes Office in Absence of Beloved Son Constantine

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Queen Mother Olga, who has become regent of Greece, has issued notice to the Greek people, according to a despatch to the Times, that she has taken office in conformity with the constitution, "on account of the absence of my well-beloved son Constantine."

She calls upon the people to maintain order, and to do nothing calculated to compromise national peace and prosperity. She expresses the hope that the people and the army wherever soldiers may be fighting for the national rights of Greece, will do their duty by the country.

General political amnesty has been proclaimed in Athens and all political prisoners have been released.

"Among the moderates of both parties," the despatch concludes, "there is general satisfaction that M. Rallis has accepted the premiership at this critical moment. It remains to be seen, however, whether he will remain in power after the chamber of deputies meets."

Members of Cabinet

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Greek cabinet announced yesterday that the new Greek cabinet formed by Demetrios Rallis was as follows:

Premier, minister of foreign affairs and of justice, Demetrios Rallis.

Minister of interior and of affairs of communications, M. Baledris.

Minister of finance and of food supplies, Nikolas Katagoropoulos.

Minister of war, Demetrios Gounaris.

Minister of education and pensions, Theodore Zolmis.

Minister of national economy and agriculture, Peter Maurosghianis.

Minister of marine, John Rhalis.

MADLINE CREVIER

Popular Lowell Young Woman Passed Away Yesterday

Miss Madeline H. Crevier, one of the most widely known and popular young women of this city, died late yesterday afternoon at the Lowell General hospital following an operation for appendicitis. News of her death, unexpected and untimely, will cause sincere grief to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Crevier suffered an attack of appendicitis Wednesday and was immediately taken to the hospital where an operation was performed. It was unsuccessful, however, and she died about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Deceased had been for the past several years chief clerk and assistant in charge at the office of the registry of deeds at the court house in Gorham street, and both here and in the social circles of which she was a member her unfailingly genial disposition, courtesy and thoughtfulness won her wide regard and esteem from all with whom she came in contact.

Miss Crevier had been especially active among the younger people of the city and in addition to her social activities she had for many years been prominently identified with various charitable organizations. She was a devoted member of St. Patrick's parish and was one of the most earnest workers of the Ladies Aid society.

She was 37 years old and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Maryetta Crevier, to whom a large share of sympathy goes out from all parts of the city.

The body was removed to her home, 73 Mt. Vernon street, by Undertaker J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

DEATHS

DUBOIS—Wilfred Dubois, son of Wilfred and Mary Dubois, died yesterday at the home of his parents, 13 Watford street, aged 9 months and 3 days.

RILEY—John Riley, son of Peter and Margaret (Donohoe) Riley, died at his home, 73 Buzzell street, Manchester, N. H., Nov. 17. He is survived by three sisters, Misses Phoebe, Margaret and Mary Riley; two aunts, Misses M. A. Donohoe of Manchester, N. H., and Mrs. Annie Shalvey of Lowell, and two uncles, John and Patrick Donohoe, both of Lowell.

WILSON—Elmer C. Wilson died early this morning at his home, 11 East Pine street, aged 72 years, 11 months, 26 days. He leaves besides his wife, Mrs. Emily Wilson, one son, Elbert P. Wilson, of Lowell, one sister, Mrs. Ellen Henry of Conitocook, N. H., and one brother, Charles W. Wilson of East Ryegate, Vt. He was a member of the Highland Veritas lodge No. 5, I.O.O.F., and also of the Chevalier-Middlesex lodge No. 2, K. of P.

FUNERALS

DUBOIS—The funeral of Wilfred Dubois took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his parents, 13 Watford street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

CHAMPAGNE—The funeral of Joseph Champagne took place this morning from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maxine Labrecque, 225 White street. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Rosario Jalbert, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. J. N. Buchanan, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Joseph Paradis, who also presided at the organ, rendered the Gregorian chant. The bearers were Louis, Alcide, Modeste, Camille and Arthur Champagne and Maxine Labrecque. Attending the funeral from out of town were Mrs. Anthony Champagne of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Camille Nadeau and Arnold Nadeau of Spencer; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Champagne, George and Henry Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Modeste Champagne, Edouard, Lillian, Edna and Doris Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Camille Champagne, Joseph and Evelyn Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Myron, all of Haverhill; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nadeau of Nashua, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Champagne of Peabody. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayer was read by Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

KING—The funeral services of Edward A. King were held in the Congregational church in Billerica Centre yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dale, the pastor, officiating. William Pollard of Boston sang appropriate selections and Fred Shuse of Medford presided at the organ. There were many beautiful flowers. Burial was in Fox Hill cemetery in Billerica, where a large delegation representing Thomas Talbot lodge, A. F. and J. H. read the Masonic burial service. The bearers were Dr. Eldredge King, William Carr, Charles Harry, Arthur and Russell Turner. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

DONATION DAY FOR ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE

The annual donation day for St. Peter's orphanage will be held Saturday, Nov. 27, one week from tomorrow and as in the past the authorities in charge of the institution are looking forward to the co-operation of the general public in making the affair a success.

Donations of linen, clothing, food and similar articles are gratefully received and this year there is more pressing need than ever for generous gifts because of the increase in the number of children at the home.

On Saturday afternoon a musical program will be carried out under the direction of Miss Katherine V. Hennessy at the orphanage in Stevens street and Miss Hennessy is planning one of the most entertaining programs in years. Tea will be served and donations will be received at that time. However, those who will not be able to visit the orphanage in person may send their donations and they will be acknowledged.

The biggest shoe stocks that Lowell has seen.

Louis Prince, the local manager, states that here, as elsewhere in the Slater stores, the aim will be to provide a shoe service unsurpassed. Efficient and courteous clerks will be prepared to fit all feet from those of an infant to those of an adult, with prices reasonable for all goods. Many sales and small profits is the maxim of the Slater company, which now operates a score of modern stores.

As a preventive against poor service, a force of 25 clerks will be on duty tomorrow morning for the opening, to which the Slater company invites the Lowell public. Free hosiery will be given with every purchase.

WOMEN MUST REMOVE HATS IN COURT

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Equal suffrage for women means that they must not wear their hats when in his court room. Justice of the Peace B. P. Aring declared when he fined two women $5 each for contempt of court when they refused to remove their hats. They said:

When the justice called the court to order, he said: "Everybody will please remove their hats."

Mrs. Oscar McCann and Mrs. Frederick Ritter failed to do so. The court hesitated a moment, but the two continued to wear their hats.

"Five dollars and costs for contempt of court," said the justice. "If women can have equal suffrage with men, they can also remove their hats in my courtroom."

STEAM CLOUDS EXPLAINED

The vast clouds of steam that have been surrounding the water department pumping station in West Sixth street for the past few days have been caused by the breaking of the feed water heater of the plant, Commissioner John P. Sullivan explained today. This heater takes exhaustion steam from the pumping engines to heat the feed water going into the boilers. A new heater has been ordered from the Whitlock Coal Co. of New Haven, Conn., and is expected to arrive this evening or tomorrow morning. It will cost $250.

Balbriggan Commissioner Declares "Black and Tan" Militia Made Raids Without Provocation

IRISH LEADER A WITNESS

John Derham Testifies at Washington Hearing on Conditions in Ireland

Declares Black and Tans Spent Nights of Yelling, Burning and Shooting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—Charging that the "Black and Tan" militia in Ireland made raids without provocation, John Derham, town commissioner of Balbriggan, gave today to the committee of the 100 investigating the Irish question what he described as details of the September raid on his home town, which, he said, resulted in the death of half a dozen persons.

"The 'Black and Tan' spent a night of yelling, burning and shooting," said Mr. Derham. "All of us were ready to collapse at each new outbreak for we did not know what would happen to us next."

The Balbriggan commissioner declared that James Lawless and John Gibbons were stabbed by the militia, but that an inquiry by the military authorities failed to establish who was responsible for the deaths of the men. He said that a score of houses were burned and that the contents of those left standing were wrecked.

Dragged From Bed and Beaten
He said he was dragged from his bed and severely beaten by troops who gave no reason for their acts. His own shop, over which he lived, was first ransacked and his stocks of liquor destroyed before his house was burned. He was dragged along the street to the police barracks, and finally was placed in the town's hotel along with a hundred other refugees, all of whom believed they were held under arrest. His son, Matthew, also was clubbed and beaten by the police, but finally escaped.

This raid followed the killing of one policeman and the wounding of another, Mr. Derham told the committee. The military inquiry, however, he said, failed to establish the identity of the persons who had killed the officer shot while taking liquor from a bar-room where the barmaid refused to sell him more because of his intoxicated condition.

Burning of Hostelry Described
The Black and Tans, Mr. Derham continued, broke into a garage and seized petrol with which they burned houses. Business houses were looted and bars raided. It was charged, liquor being drunk in the streets by the Black and Tans and also carried off in their motors. The final act of destruction, the witness said, was the burning of the $500,000 hostelry factory, which supplied employment for about 400 townspeople and which was owned by an English company.

$3,500,000 MAIL CAR ROBBERY

Mystery Surrounding Bold Hold-up Cleared up at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Ten Arrested—Money Recovered From Chicken Coop—Auto Also Found

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 19.—Seven more arrests, one confession, the recovery of a large amount of money, all in ten dollar bills, and the discovery of an automobile last night resulted today in clearing up the mystery surrounding the $3,500,000 mail car robbery in the local yards Saturday night.

Two of the men arrested, T. A. Daly and H. A. Reed, are white, and the others are negroes. The money was recovered from a chicken house at the Daly home after the confession of Reed, who rooms at Daly's. Ten persons in all are under arrest.

An automobile, believed to have been used for cutting away the mail bags was found last night in a rented garage a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. The number on the engine had been tampered with.

Reed and Daly, believed by officials to be leaders of the gang, are each 45 years of age. Daly has been working at the Omaha Grain Exchange, but Reed has been unemployed the last few weeks.

Reed was arrested last night after being implicated by Fred Pollenbarger, a youth arrested several days ago. Reed finally gave information which led to the arrest of Daly.

Bags of currency, gold and bonds, the value of which has been given authoritatively as high as $3,500,000, were taken from a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail train last Saturday. They were bound from San Francisco in a special car to consignees in the east. The amount of money recovered was not announced.

LOCAL DOMESTIC FUEL SITUATION

The domestic fuel situation in Lowell is not sufficiently dire at the present time to call for local restrictive measures beyond those laid down by the state fuel administration, according to Albert D. Minkes, recently appointed fuel administrator for this city.

Mr. Minkes says that the state regulation which says that families without domestic fuel can receive not more than three tons at a time is still in force here and is taking care of the local situation adequately. As soon as conditions warrant the enforcement of stricter and more detailed regulations, he will proceed to promulgate them. However, he hopes that conditions will not reach the stage where such procedure will be necessary.

Employment and leave destitution in the town, he said.

During the weeks after the first raid, he declared, armed forces ran through the streets, the troops firing shots into shops and houses and throwing shrapnel bombs.

Yesterday's Session

Four witnesses, including Denis Morgan, chairman of the town council, testified today.

British Delegate to League Assembly Urges Immediate Admission of Germany

Declares British Labor Demands All Enemy States be Admitted Without Delay

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—Immediate admission of Germany and the other former enemy states to the League of Nations, was urged before the assembly of the league today by George Nicoll Barnes of the British delegation. He said most of the laboring people of Great Britain whom he represented, demanded that all the enemy states be admitted without delay.

He recalled that Germany had taken already in the deliberations of the international labor bureau established by the league.

"The people of Great Britain, whom I represent here," he said, "do not forget that the Central empires plunged the world into war. They do not forget the misery and devastation caused. But the question now is to rescue the world from ruin, and the co-operation of the former enemy states is needed."

It was learned today that Germany had protested to the League of Nations against the system of distributing mandates under the treaty of Versailles. The Berlin government claims it is illegal for the entente

MAN SHOT IN BOSTON

Said to Have Taken Fur Coat From Express Truck in So. Terminal Station

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Pistol shots in the South Terminal station at a time when many commuters were leaving their trains and hurrying toward the street, caused some excitement today. The shots were fired by a railroad police officer when he discovered a man giving the name of Vincent Logue of Somerville, walking away from an express truck with a fur coat. Logue, said to be a Communist, was shot in the back. The officer fired on a command to halt. The man was placed under arrest charged with larceny and taken to a hospital. His injury was said to be slight.

ASSERTS RIVER IS A HIGHWAY

Claim Made That Merrimack River Should Be Kept Safe for Use by Skaters

The contention that the Merrimack river as a navigable stream, is a public highway that should be kept safe for skating, is involved in a suit that went on trial in the jury-waived session of the superior court before Judge Patrick Keating today.

The case is said to be unique in that the issues involved have never been decided upon in a court in Massachusetts.

The suit is brought by Patrick T. Brogan, administrator, to recover for the death of his son, Thomas J. Brogan, by drowning while skating on the Merrimack river, near the present bathhouse site, February 28, 1917. The defendant in the case is Martina A. Gage, owner of ice houses on the banks of the river near where the boy was drowned.

The plaintiff is represented by Melvin E. Rogers and Albert S. Howard of Qua, Howard & Rogers; the defendant by A. P. Sawyer and Thomas W. Proctor of Nason & Proctor of Boston.

The plaintiff will undertake to prove that Thomas J. Brogan, while skating, broke through thin ice that had formed over a place where the defendant had been conducting ice-cutting operations, and that there were no barriers or warning signs for the protection of persons using the river. It will be contended that since the river is a public highway, and has been used as such for more than 20 years, that it should have been kept in condition for safe use by skaters.

The defendant claims that she and her predecessors, in business, have been harvesting ice on the Merrimack river for over 40 years, and that she is not responsible for the drowning as the deceased was not exercising due care when he met his death.

The action is one of tort and the ad damnum of $20,000.

It is asserted that the issues involved in the case have only been passed upon twice in the history of the country—once in Maine and once in Michigan.

Sidney R. Fleet, editor of Lowell, was the first witness. He read a record of weather and temperature during the winter of 1917 from the files of a newspaper.

Patrick T. Brogan, the plaintiff, was next called to the stand.

He said that there had been skating on the river near the bathhouse site every winter for 25 years. He had seen 300 people skating there on a Sunday in 1917. He said on an average there were 50 to 300 people on the ice every day except Sundays, when there were more. The number had not varied much in 20 years.

FOOTBALL GAME

Lowell and Punchard High at Spalding Park

Lowell high school's football team wound up its 1920 home schedule at Spalding park this afternoon when it lined up against a strong eleven representing Punchard high. Lowell has only one more game to play to complete this year's schedule—that at Lawrence Thanksgiving morning, the season's biggest contest.

Conway's men have played so far this season they have broken even, winning four and losing four. Victories have been won from Nashua, Wakefield, Concord and Woburn, while the locals have bowed to the superiority of teams representing Concord, Manchester, Haverhill and Haverhill.

Coach Conway hoped this afternoon to take the Punchard aggregation into camp by fast open play and then to give Lawrence a stiff battle next Thursday morning.

Today's weather was ideal for the game and large representations of the student bodies of both schools were on hand when action began at 3 o'clock.

Steam Shovels Working Day and Night in Attempt to Keep R. R. Tracks Clear

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Damage estimated by engineers to vary from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 will result from the great slide of earth and stone which for two weeks has been steadily moving down the hillside from Bigelow boulevard to the downtown passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad. Nine steam shovels are working day and night to move the earth as it reaches the railroad tracks and approximately 5000 tons are sent out on trains every 24 hours. The slide began when the city attempted to straighten a curve in the boulevard, which follows the hillside high above the railroad terminal and connects the business section of the city with the east and residence district. Some 200,000 cubic yards of earth has been cut from the hill and

WAS VETERAN OF THREE WARS

Private William E. Coleman, the Lowell soldier who died in France on November 14, 1918, of injuries received in the world war, and whose body is now on its way to Lowell, was a member of the Sixth company of engineers and saw extensive service overseas. The injuries which caused his death were received shortly before the signing of the armistice.

Private Coleman was a veteran of three wars, having served in the Spanish war with Co. M of this city, and the Boer war as a marine. He had a splendid military record and news of his death caused widespread grief in this city.

Private Coleman was 33 years, one month and 21 days old when he died. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose May Coleman of 162 Wilder street, and four children, William H., Edward T., Annie and Francis R. Coleman. He was a member of Lowell Aerie, No. 222, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Machinists' union. His body is expected to arrive in this city early next week, and a military funeral will be held under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

ARRAIGNED ON INDICTMENTS

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Godfrey L. Cabot, treasurer of the New England Watch and Ward society, and Hector M. Holmes and Robert D. Weston, lawyers, pleaded not guilty in the superior court today, to indictments charging conspiracy and receiving letters and other papers alleged to have been stolen from the law office of Daniel H. Conkley, last December. The indictments resulted from a special grand jury investigation of charges made by Conkley in connection with disbarment proceedings recently brought against Alvah G. Sleeper, an attorney of this city. It was alleged in the testimony of the disbarment trial that certain papers having to do with the settlement of a suit in which Sleeper was supposed to have been interested had been stolen from Conkley's office in an effort to obtain evidence of illegal practice.

District Attorney Pelletier, who conducted the grand jury inquiry, did not ask for bonds and the three were released on their personal recognizance for a hearing later. It was announced in court that two others also had been indicted, Michael J. Hayes, a former policeman, and Oswald C. Bourdon, a private detective, for conspiracy and receiving the alleged stolen documents. Hayes and Bourdon appeared in court later and entered pleas of not guilty and like the other defendants, were released on their own recognizance.

PUFFER CASE COMPLETED

Closing Arguments in Suit to Recover the Property of Ayer Woman

Closing arguments were made before Judge Patrick Keating in the superior court today in the case of Geo. L. Wilson of Ayer, guardian of Miss Pauline Emmeline Puffer, to recover from Arthur G. Hazard, William H. Lewis, Cornelius J. O'Neill and others, money and property alleged to have been transferred by Miss Puffer while she was of unound mind.

Isadore H. Fox of Lewis, Fox & Andrews of Boston, made the closing statement for the defendants.

He said that Miss Puffer understood what she was saying and its effect and that this determines whether she is legally insane as distinguished from medically insane.

"Where did the delusion come from about Charles H. McKee?" asked Mr. Fox. He said that Miss Puffer first mentioned McKee while at the home of Mrs. Hirsch, the Christian Science practitioner, but that she did not then say anything about his being fore-ordained by God that she should marry him.

He said that Miss Puffer talked with SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 19.—S. While he was in the bull pen awaiting release on a writ of habeas corpus a number of men in jail for violation of prohibition laws attacked him.

They were throwing hot water upon him when jail officials came to his rescue. He was indicted for the murder of Luke Vuckovic on Nov. 5 at Madison, Ill., during a raid upon Vuckovic's home.

Men and women who fail to vote in Creche-Slovakia are sentenced to jail.

The attorney said that the medical experts agree that insanity may be feigned. He asserted that the experts who had testified in the case had merely "made a guess" that Miss Puffer is insane. He said the complaints against her sanity had been formulated to prevent her from exercising her rights as an American citizen. He said that just before the present case was filed Miss Puffer had been whisked away to the Worcester State hospital. She had been at large

U. S. Steel Corp. Urges Subsidiary Co.'s to Continue Present Prices

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The U. S. Steel Corporation announced today its decision to recommend to presidents of subsidiary companies, that the "present base selling prices of all commodities continue in force unless and until it becomes necessary and proper to make changes to meet altered conditions."

This action was taken, according to a statement issued by Chairman Gary, because of the importance of stabilizing business conditions at this time. The statement follows:

"Our subsidiary companies have consistently and uninterruptedly maintained the base selling prices of all iron and steel commodities which were mutually fixed by representatives of iron and steel interests of the United States and representatives of the government on March 21, 1919.

"Since that time production costs of all manufacturers of iron and steel, including an advancement of wage rates aggregating $1,000,000 per year to the steel corporation, and larger freight rates have materially increased. Under usual circumstances, we would be justified in making additions to the average base prices.

"However, after deliberate and careful consideration, we have decided to recommend to presidents of our subsidiary companies that present base selling prices of all commodities continue in force unless and until it becomes necessary and proper to make changes to meet altered conditions.

"We think stability in business is of highest importance and that every man to the extent of his opportunity and ability and even at some sacrifice, is obligated to assist in stabilizing and maintaining prices on a fair and sane level. The producer, consumer and workman will be benefited by this attitude."

previous to that time and it was necessary to send her to Worcester to establish some evidence of insanity. Mr. Fox said that it is the law that a contract is valid if it is made by a person who knows what he is doing when he makes the contract.

Judge Maloney's Argument
Judge John M. Maloney of Ayer, gave the closing argument for the complainant.

He said the courts of the commonwealth had declared Miss Puffer insane. Two of the most eminent experts in the state have testified that she is insane. He said the defendants had had an alienist examine Miss Puffer, but that he had not been produced as a witness. No one in this community needs any other evidence than what is known that she was insane in June, 1919.

Arthur G. Hazzard never had any "love" for Miss Puffer, said Judge Maloney, but he concocted a "distasteful scheme" to extract money from her. "He cleaned out the house; he took every cent," said the attorney.

He said that the whole commonwealth of Massachusetts was disturbed when it heard that Miss Puffer was to marry Hazzard, and he defended Mr.

Wilson against the charge of being a "butter-in" in trying to prevent the wedding.

He said that there was a conflict of testimony as to what was said on June 21 between Wilson and O'Neill, and that the court would have to find one member of the bar had committed perjury. He said Mr. O'Neill had admitted that he had lied when he said the colored people of Boston were paying him. He asserted that Mr. O'Neill had signed a false affidavit.

Judge Maloney said he wished to call attention to what seemed unethical, professional conduct of Lewis and O'Neill in appearing as defendants and counsel in the case. He said that Mr. Lewis appears in the position of "pal-tering with justice" in some of his testimony. He said that the taking of $2000 as a retainer from Hazzard was one of "the rankest pieces of extortion ever practiced in Massachusetts."

Judge Maloney said he considered the behavior of John H. Eneret, who furnished bail for Hazzard, in connection with the case, had been commendable; that he had made no effort to retain the money that had been paid to him and did not want it if it did not belong to him.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

William H. Lewis, Boston attorney, one of the defendants in the case, was on the witness stand at yesterday afternoon's session of the court.

He testified regarding the receipt of a fee of $2000 from Arthur Garfield Hazzard; $500 of which he said he had paid to Cornelius J. O'Neill. He said that he had received no other money from anyone connected with the case. He asserted that on the morning of June 21, 1919, while she was in the police station in Ayer, Miss Puffer had said that she was ready to marry "Honey" Hazzard if he were willing. The witness said that he suggested that Miss Puffer be released on bail so that she might have an opportunity to marry, and that he considered that the charges against Hazzard had been "trumped up."

Cornelius J. O'Neill testified to hearing Miss Puffer say, while she was confined in the Ayer police station, "If Arthur Garfield Hazzard wishes to marry me, I am ready to marry him now."

He said that Mr. Wilson, Miss Puffer's guardian, had said to him, "Between you and me, all I care about this case is to stop this marriage."

He denied that Wilson had warned him, at the time he had testified he did, against taking any money from Hazzard that might belong to Miss Puffer. He said he had received $250 from William Hazzard and $500 from Mr. Lewis as his fees in connection with the case.

Isadore H. Fox, of Lewis, Fox & Andrews of Boston, made the closing argument for the defense.

"BIG SHRINK"

BY DEAN SNYDER
Striking to make ring weight is bad medicine for boxers.

The whittling off a few pounds has, in many cases, proven disastrous, but nevertheless the boys continue to do it.

Champion Benny Leonard, who has grown to be a heavy lightweight, will risk his title honors by reducing in his first championship fight in New York under the Walker boxing law on Nov. 25, when he meets Joe Weiling of Chicago.

The weight difference has kept him from meeting the best of the 133-pounders for so long that the champion has come to the point where he has to do the challenging.

Weiling Heavy

That's his who got the Weiling match. The Chicagoan, however, is also a heavy lightweight and can do 135 pounds much easier than 133.

Under the Walker law the lightweight requirement for championship bouts is 135 pounds at 2 o'clock. Both Leonard and Weiling have posted $10,000 as forfeit money to carry out the law to the letter.

Leonard's crown will be at stake during the 15-round menu.

Geta $15,000

It isn't much of a risk for the titleholder at that, since Weiling has always lacked the something that makes champions.

Efforts on the part of Promoter Tex Rickard to secure the real contenders White Jackson, dropped out of the program when their demands were made known.

Tendler asked a $50,000 guarantee. Mitchell was more conservative and wanted but $25,000. Jackson insisted that Leonard make 135 pounds at 9 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock. Weiling is to get $15,000 for giving the champion exercise.

Shows Draw

Eight shows at Rickard's Madison Square Garden have netted $297,506. The biggest gate for any one fight was $22,000, which Willie Jackson drew with Eddie Fitzsimmons on Oct. 29.

The Leonard-Weiling go should top them all, since Bennah is a big-town favorite, and would draw with anyone.

Just what Gibson's prima donna weighs has been kept secret for a long time. But his money is down that he'll be a 135-pounder at two o'clock on Nov. 26. The shrinking process won't do him any good, however, unless he proves an exception to the "violet" act.

Red Cross Roll Call Workers Report—Outlook Much Brighter

Reports made by Red Cross roll call workers and information from various sources about the numbers being signed up in the different business offices and mills of the city last night presented a much more optimistic outlook to the campaign committee than heretofore this week. With 1912 members reported up to last night and more that have not been reported, it is generally thought that Lowell will complete its roll call with a large membership total, although not as large as in previous drives. This is the second week of the drive.

and the efforts of the workers are beginning to show results.

Booths for the accepting of memberships will be set up down town and possibly be ready by tomorrow. One will be set up in Chaffin's, while membership dues will also be received in the Union National bank and in Red Cross headquarters, 81 Merrimack street. The following have reported 100 per cent. membership: Lowell Trust company, Master Plumbers' association, Hobson Lawler company, J. W. Stewart Co., F. W. Webb Mfg. Co., Lowell branch, Proctor, Cook & Co.

In the mills the reports made yesterday on pay day were gratifying. Three hundred and sixty-three have already signed up in the Massachusetts mills, while the Lowell Bleachery has been thoroughly canvassed. The treasurer of the Bleachery has sent in a personal check for $200.

A summary of the reports as given up to date is as follows:

ADDRESSING MEN'S CLUB

Congressman Rogers talks on "Sidelights in Washington" before Men's Club in Elliot Church.

"Things seem to be accomplished on a sort of 'you tickle me and I'll tickle you' policy in Washington," asserted Congressman John Jacob Rogers in an address on "Sidelights on Washington" at a supper of the Men's club in Elliot Union Congregational church last evening. Mr. Rogers spoke of the need of a navigable Merrimack river and a new postoffice for Lowell, but said that the improvements were hard to secure because representatives from other districts also had their ideas about things their districts needed.

Mr. Rogers referred to the early days of the government when parties split on the question of centralized federal control. He said that the national government is now taking over state functions to an extent that is surprising. He said that the Smith-

Towner education bill, now before congress, which would authorize the expenditure of $100,000,000, was the longest step toward centralization that had ever been proposed. He said that a great bureaucracy was being built up in Washington that it would be a temptation for a political party to use for its own advantage.

Mr. Rogers gave interesting reminiscences of prominent men in political life. He referred to "Uncle Joe" Cannon as intensely American, and as a Yankee even if he is from Illinois. He said that he had been in congress since before the speaker was born, and that Cannon had been an advisor of Lincoln in connection with the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Champ Clark commands the affection of the house, and all are sorry that he has been defeated," said Mr. Rogers. "In contrast with Uncle Joe Cannon, he is very scrupulous about matters of dress. He is a tragic figure in many ways—his life really ended in 1912. Excitement was high in Baltimore and interest centered on him. He was supposed to have the right of way, but was stopped just short of the necessary two-thirds vote to nominate, and the dark horse from New Jersey finally won. Champ Clark knows whom to thank, too, and his opinion of William Jennings Bryan is interesting, to say the least.

"Frederick H. Gillett was elected speaker to the surprise of the nation as a whole. He is 70 years old, but still has a young, vigorous and slender appearance. He is not a great man nor is he very well known, but he is a good, average, sensible American. He has had long service and possesses lots of sand. Many men keep an eye out to see whether or not a vote for a certain measure will effect his standing in the next election, but not Speaker Gillett. He has the courage to do as he thinks right."

Previous to Mr. Rogers' talk a supper was served under the direction of a committee consisting of Victor Carey, Byron Cady, Frank Knowles and John Hancock.

Women voters of Vienna exceed the men by 25 per cent.

SIX VICE-PRESIDENTS ELECTED BY LEAGUE

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—In a somewhat agitated session yesterday the league assembly completed its organization by the election of six vice-presidents, who with the six chairmen of the committees elected Wednesday form a sort of executive committee of the assembly. The non-European nations, for whom much solicitude was shown Wednesday, had no complaint to make, as they obtained four vice-presidents instead of the three they had asked for.

They were Viscount Ishii, Japan; Honario Puyredon, Argentina; Sir George E. Foster, Canada, and Rodolfo Octavio, Brazil. The other vice-presidents are H. A. van Karnebeek, Holland, and Dr. Eduard Benes, Czechoslovakia.

A curious result of the first ballot for vice-presidents was a tie between Rodolfo Octavio, the Brazilian undersecretary for foreign affairs, and Dr. Casto da Cunha, the Brazilian ambassador to France, for a sixth vice-president. While the assembly was discussing the proposed vote for the remaining vice-president, an animated discussion proceeded at the Brazilian bench, each candidate insisting that he be allowed to withdraw in favor of the other. A second ballot was taken, however. As an act of courtesy, Giuseppe Motta, president of the Swiss confederation, who had delivered the address of welcome was elected honorary president of the first assembly of the league.

Rumors which had been current all week that certain combinations had been formed to carry pre-arranged programs through the assembly were denied yesterday from two sources. M. Pueyrredon for the Argentine delegation said that it was absolutely untrue so far as Argentina is concerned that the South American republics were in an understanding with other neutrals to force the admission of Germany into the league.

The British dominion representatives made it clear that they were here to represent their particular dominions or mother country. All the delegates appear to be satisfied with the progress made in the necessary preliminary proceedings, the work having been gone through with a minimum of friction, and they expect the final results to satisfy all the friends of the league.

It developed yesterday that C. J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice, had become a victim of one of the high-speed translations made during the assembly's proceedings. The translator made him say that Canada would abstain from voting on the message of sympathy offered in the assembly for transmission to President Wilson. Mr. Doherty at once corrected the mistake, but the correction got lost in the confusion and the incorrect version of the delegate's remarks became widespread.

Under some circumstances the League of Nations might invite Poland to become the military defender of Danzig, that nation has been informed by the council of the league.

It was announced yesterday that the council had approved the constitution of Danzig, as a free city under guarantee of the league, as previously drafted, with some modifications. Poland has been informed that while it is impossible to accord her the exclusive right of the military defense of Danzig, circumstances arise under which the league might invite her to undertake the city's defense.

college branch of the Y.M.C.A. The meeting was presided over by Principal Charles H. Eames, who in a brief address outlined the purpose of the gathering and introduced Dr. Tupper. The speaker took for his subject, "Americanism," and in the course of his address he called the attention of the students to the fact that their education for executives in the textile industry would not be complete unless they were able to cope with the problem on the human side of the industry. This lecture was the first in a series to be given under the auspices of the association in the course of the winter months.

JOE GEDEON RELEASED
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 19.—The unconditional release of Joe Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis American league club, was announced today by Business Manager Quinn. Gedeon testified before the Chicago grand jury that he bet on the world's series in 1919, after receiving information that it had been "fixed." Every club in the majors waived on Gedeon, Quinn said.

TO MANAGE MARTINSBURG CLUB
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 19.—Joe Ward of Pittsburgh has been signed to manage the Martinsburg club of the Blue Ridge Baseball league. It was announced here today. He will play in the outfield.

Curling Hair This Way Preserves Its Beauty

That dull, dead appearance of the hair no longer troubles the woman who has adopted the shimmering method of keeping her tresses in curl. The result is very different from that produced by the drying, devitalizing waving iron. The hair appears more naturally wavy and curly, and the application is really beneficial to the life and growth of the hair.

Any drugist, of course, can supply the liquid shimmer. A small quantity should be put on just before doing up the hair, using for the purpose a clean tooth brush, drawing it down the full length of the hair from root to tip. The effect is delightfully surprising, and there is no discoloration, no stickiness, greasiness, nor any other unpleasant accompaniment. The hair is quite manageable, no matter how it is fashioned.—Adv.

BROADWAYS CELEBRATE

Sixth Anniversary of Prominent Club—A Most Enjoyable Affair

The Broadway Social and Athletic Club, organized six years ago for social, athletic and charitable purposes, celebrated its anniversary at the club headquarters in Broadway last evening with a banquet, and the affair was without doubt one of the most successful and enjoyable events in the history of the organization.

The attendance was one of the largest on record, the menu was an excellent one, the speakers were interesting and instructive and the musical and literary numbers were of rare excellence.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson, City Auditor J. Joseph Hennessy, Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, Michael H. Harrington, William A. Walsh, president of the club, and William H. Sullivan were the speakers. All lauded the organization for the important mission it has filled in this community. Particularly commendable, said the speakers, was the charitable work of the club and its members. The unostentatious acts of mercy performed for the poor and needy families, for the dependents of the war, and for the children of the neighborhood at Christmas time, were recited by the speakers, who said that no other organization of its size in the city was doing a greater work than the Broadway club.

The evening's program opened shortly after 8 o'clock, when all who had assembled upstairs marched into the beautifully decorated club rooms to the accompaniment of a stirring march, played by Al Forrest. A turkey supper, with all the fixins was then served by Caterer Lydon.

President William A. Walsh

WILLIAM A. WALSH
President

opened by President William A. Walsh. He extended a cordial greeting to all, thanked the speakers and entertainers for their response to the invitations and complimented Chairman Timothy F. O'Sullivan and the members of the banquet committee for their work in arranging the evening's program. He also expressed his gratitude to the members for his re-election for another term and urged all to continue the co-operation and assistance of the past and he was confident that when another birthday anniversary comes around the organization will again be found in a prosperous condition. He said there are now 215 members, with $1800 in the club treasury and an additional $300 for a Christmas fund.

FAIR COMPLEXION
CONCEALS AGE

Rid the Face of Pimples and Such Blemishes by Using Stuart's Calcium Waters—Surprising How Youthful One Looks

Pimples, blackheads and other such facial blemishes may be traced to an excess of impurities being eliminated through the skin and this condition calls for calcium to enable the process of elimination to be carried on more completely.

It is the Calcium in Stuart's Calcium Waters that has given this complexion beautifier such a wonderful reputation.

The results are soon noted in a much finer texture, the gradual disappearance of the blemishes and a really beautiful complexion. This is considered the correct way to a handsome, lily-like skin. Get a 60-cent box of these waters at any drug store and observe how nicely the skin soon clears.

—Adv.

He told of the important work being performed by the welfare committee, of how this body spent $350 during the past year to assist brother members in need. He also said that ten needy families of the section had been helped and that the organization planned to continue such work and he urged all to report any needy cases.

President Walsh then turned the program over to James J. Clinton, as toastmaster. Mr. Clinton recounted the progress of the club since its formation in 1914 and said that he hoped it would continue to grow and prosper. He thanked the committee for the honor in selecting him to act as presiding officer and he then proceeded to carry out the program.

Mayor Thompson

Mayor Thompson was next presented and he received a cordial greeting. He expressed his pleasure at being present and paid a glowing tribute to the members for their many acts of charity and for their splendid work in bringing happiness and comfort to the needy and worthy residents of the community. He said that the mission of the Broadway club is filling in Lowell is one of the most praiseworthy, one of the most commendable possible to obtain. He painted a beautiful allegory inspired by his recent visit to the seashore. One day as he gazed over the wide expanse of water, there appeared in the distance the masts of a ship. Gradually it came nearer to view, and gradually more of the craft could be seen. He learned that it carried a cargo of coal and as it approached the pier, buoys and beacons along its path signalled a welcome. "The thought came to my mind," said the mayor, "as I had only a few days before received your invitation, that there was no doubt but the name of this craft, which was bringing warmth and comfort to many homes was the Broadway. As it safely passed between rocky and dangerous shoals I thought of your organization. I thought of the warmth and comfort that you have brought to many families and how under capable and zealous pilots your craft has steamed along on its charitable voyage. I predict with confidence after recalling your activities, that your club under its efficient officers will grow and become bigger, greater and grander than ever."

Principal Speaker

J. Joseph Hennessy, city auditor, was introduced as the principal speaker of the evening and arose amid tumultuous applause. He delivered an eloquent address in commending the club for performing its various acts of mercy, saying the welfare work of the organization is known throughout the length and breadth of the city. He declared that he was proud of the fact that he was an "Acro" boy and said that the membership could do well to continue its important work for the benefit of the district and people of the district. The club, said the speaker, is an integral part of the community and it was made up of the bone and sinew of the best there is in the city. He lauded the purpose of the assembly, welded as they are for the advancement of each other. "Your work of Christmas is charity performed without praise or expectation of laudation is an attribute of God. You have made many unfortunate happy and assisted others in distress. What greater mission could be performed?"

He told of how he has silently watched the club since its inception, or how pleased he was to see it become such a powerful and moral force in the community. The force of example such as exemplified by the Broadway, he said, could not but help to redound to the benefit of all. People will always be proud to look upon and admire your charitable endeavors. He said that the good fellowship among the members and among the residents of the Acro section brought to his mind the words of Boyle O'Reilly, which he translated as applicable to the assembly as follows: "That you bring us no crime from the Acro, nor shame or guilt. Though the sword that you hold may be broken you never have dropped the hilt."

He recalled the part played by the club during the war, of how the members called from various walks of life answered the summons and marched away to bring peace and happiness to the greatest of all countries, these United States. While still technically at war, he said, please God, we must continue to think together and work together. We must stand behind our government, our president and our congress, so that in the near future we will enjoy peace upon earth and goodwill toward men. He urged the members to carry on their activities to keep ever alive the inspirations of the Acro, and by continuing the ways of righteousness they may well be proud of the fact that they are members of the Broadway club.

Other Speakers

Remarks were also made by Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, who was enthusiastically greeted, Michael H. (Non) Harrington, who was also warmly received, and William H. Sullivan.

Excellent musical numbers were contributed by Al Forrest, William Paul McCarthy, Frank Deignan, Daniel E. Brennan, Dominic Molloy, James Dowling, James Shugrue, William Carr, Fred Cummings, Edward Donohoe and Frank McCarthy. The final number was "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly.

The committee in charge of the affair, which was warmly complimented for the splendid program and the enjoyable time provided for all, was composed of Timothy F. O'Sullivan, chairman, Patrick Owens, Thomas Edward

Smith, John Flynn, Peter Brady, Richard O'Brien and George Boland.

OF THE LAND

Comes March fourth and there'll be a new "First Lady of the Land," Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

The first mistress of the White House was Mrs. Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams. Then the White house was called the "Palace."

Mrs. Adams carved for herself a high niche in the hall of fame by being the only First Lady of the Land to hang out the family wash in the East room of the White House.

Dolly Madison was the second First Lady in the White House, Thomas Jefferson being a widower. Dolly reigned during the Jeffersonian and Madison administrations and played a heroic part when the British burned the national capitol.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland was the first First Lady of the Land bride. She now is Mrs. James F. Preston.

Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes was the first First Lady of the Land to refuse to serve wine at White House dinners. The first First Lady, Mrs. Washington, never lived in the White House.

(Mrs. Cleveland), Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Three ex-widows have played prominent roles as First Ladies, Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Madison and the present mistress of the White House, were widows when married to the men who became chief executives of the nation.

The only living women who have been First Ladies of the Land are Mrs. W. H. Taft, Mrs. James F. Preston (Mrs. Cleveland), Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Kozma, 617 Ellis Blvd., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. PAUL PAPENFUSE, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

GRAIN PRICES TUMBLE

Smashed Heavily Downward at Chicago Today—Hogs and Provisions Followed

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Grain prices smashed heavily downward today all along the line, with hogs and provisions following suit. Corn led the way, notwithstanding that it was already lower than at any time since 1915.

Expectation of greatly enlarged offerings from the new crop of corn appeared to be a leading factor in emphasizing bearish sentiment caused by unsettled financial and economic conditions. Before the day was half over wheat had fallen 7½ to 17¾ for December delivery and to $1.63 for March. Corn was off 3¢ to 55¢, December and oats down to 45¢ for May.

The severity of the new breaks excited much comment. It was pointed out that the value of corn now had been cut from 1.53½ a bushel to less than 70¢ inside of five months, whereas it was two years after the world war was started before a bushel of corn could command $1.

Hogs were 50¢ per hundredweight under yesterday's average, the top price being $12.

780 OF 10,000 IN CITY VICTIMS OF TYPHOID

SALEM, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Seven hundred and eighty persons are today suffering from typhoid fever in this city of less than 10,000 people. Four emergency hospitals established within the last few weeks, are filled with patients, and the situation, according to R. A. Lamont, chairman of the city's relief committee, is desperate.

BURKE MURDER TRIAL

State's Contention Declared Unreasonable by Counsel for Defense

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Nov. 19.—The state's contention that the forging of two notes and a receipt by John A. Burke was a motive for the murder of Nelson W. Bartley, was declared unreasonable by former Attorney General William R. Pattangall today, in his closing argument in defense of Burke, whose second trial on the charge of killing Bartley is nearing its close.

Saying the prosecution had attempted to show by handwriting experts, that the forging of Bartley's signature was done by tracers, Mr. Pattangall asked why, if such were the fact, Burke should have made three tracings instead of one to secure $2400, when one note would have done just as well.

Attorney Pattangall further claimed it was unreasonable to believe that Mrs. Burke was a partner to the crime by reason of the fact that she witnessed the signing of the papers.

Then he attacked the theory of the state and asked what the motive really was for the murder. He asked the jurors why Burke should have reason to hate Bartley, when the evidence showed that he, with William E. Murtha, in the spring of 1919, saved Burke from prosecution on a defalcation charge by settling a shortage of $3000 in his tax collections used in the smuggling deal.

On the other hand, he said, the state alleges there was no truth in the liquor smuggling story. Therefore, he claimed, the state is "riding two horses at the same time."

He ridiculed the testimony of the handwriting experts, and brought to the attention of the jury the fact that he doubted if there was any more science in the profession of handwriting experts than there was in palmistry.

MORE TESTIFY IN PROBE OF SHIPPING BOARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Testimony of former agents of the treasury department, virtually all of whom were withdrawn from investigation of United States shipping board affairs after a brief period of such work, marked the opening of today's hearing by the Walsh congressional committee.

Peter J. Sullivan, an agent who after about a month of investigation was transferred to Nogales, Ariz., told of a shipping board purchasing agent at New York who while on the government payroll continued to draw his salary from his former employer, the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Co.

This man, David Wahmond, according to Sullivan, objected to questioning of his subordinates except in his presence and used threatening language.

Martin D. Jewell, another agent, said he had discovered over charges in purchases of condensed milk on which a shipping board employee had received a commission of $245. The board paid $10.325 for this purchase, including an overcharge of $2450, Jewell said.

Jewell corroborated Sullivan's testimony that Wahmond was on the payroll both of the Shipping Board and the steamship company while working for the board.

Jewell testified that many orders for supplies were placed with firms having only desk room offices. The condition of Shipping Board warehouses in New York was deplorable, he said, and the board had no system of invoicing and no method of checking up on purchases.

Wahmond, said Jewell, strongly opposed his suggestion for establishment of an invoice system in his department, saying he did not propose to have anyone interfere with his business.

OPPOSE REPEAL OF EXCESS PROFITS TAX

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The national grange went on record today as opposed to the repeal of the excess profits tax, but asking for revision of the law "to bring it up to date."

A resolution adopted by the convention favored the law in principle but criticized some details.

Another resolution adopted extended greetings and best wishes to President-elect Harding and expressed the wish and desire that in the selection of a person to fill the position of secretary of agriculture in his cabinet he select a farmer, not only in sympathy with farmers, but so identified by ideas, vocation and effort that the farmer will recognize him as one of themselves, a man around whom agricultural interests will rally with confidence in his leadership.

The convention will close tonight after receiving the report of the committee on claims and grievances which heard evidence in the trial of William Hough, master of the Washington state grange, charged with violations of regulations prohibiting introduction of partisan politics into grange sessions.

LABOR DEMANDS AN EX-CONG. OAKLEY DIES IRISH ASSEMBLY AT NEW HAVEN

(From New York World)
LONDON, Nov. 19.—The British cabinet has forfeited whatever right it may have possessed to govern Ireland. These are the words of an important manifesto issued by the executive committee of the British labor party.

There is nothing for it now, the executive committee declares, but to withdraw its armed forces and place the responsibility for order on local authorities, and provide for the immediate election of a constituent assembly to work out, without limitations or fetters, a constitution for Ireland. Two conditions only would be made—protection for minorities and the preventing of Ireland becoming a military or naval menace to Great Britain.

17 Others Clung to Boat

their strength failing. About half the men remained by the boat after the engine stopped, and being forced overboard by the flames, clung to the sides of the craft and were saved as the strong wind that was blowing finally drove the boat to the side of the lake where it stopped against the mass of stumps left when the lake was lowered. The survivors then clinging to the stumps and were rescued by crews from neighboring camps who were summoned from the village where the people saw the flames of the burning boat and surmised what had happened, promptly summoning aid.

The boat was owned by the Great Northern Paper Co. and under charter to Alexander Gunn of Greenville, who was operating it. Mr. Gunn was saved, as was Nelson Smith of Orange, who is a clerk for the Great Northern at Cuxabexis.

The men drowned were not residents of this section. They had just been engaged for work in the woods by the company, and many of them were Lithuanians or of foreign extraction.

It was known that of the 33 men on the boat, 17 had been rescued and 16 drowned. The names of the survivors were known but of the dead, but seven bodies had been recovered and but four identified.

The known dead are John Zorilli, Northam, P.E.I.; P. C. McCaul, Northam, P.E.I.; John McDowell, Northam, P.E.I.; and Arthur O'Connor, resident of Northam, P.E.I. Owing to the large number of men who are being sent into the woods by the Great Northern Co., the only means of immediate identification is by drawing the bodies and this work is being carried on by a large crew. Some of the survivors are in more or less serious condition, owing to their exposure in the icy water, but it is believed that all who reached the shore alive will recover.

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 19.—Chesuncook

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—P. Davis Oakley, former member of congress from the first Connecticut district, died here late yesterday at a hotel, where he had lived for some time. Mr. Oakley was born in East Milstone, N. J., 60 years ago. He was on the staff of the Hartford Courant for several years and held several city offices in Hartford. He was elected to congress on the republican ticket in 1914 and served two years.

CENTRAL BRIDGE REPAIRS

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy announced today that the work of repairing Central bridge so that street car and other heavy traffic may pass over it will begin Monday morning. The work will be done by the employees of his department. Today P. D. Walker, engineer of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., was in conference with City Engineer Stephen Kearney going over minor details of the plans for the repair of the structure.

STAPLES ESTATE PURCHASED

The Inter-City Trust Co., a Boston company with an office in the Hildreth building in this city, has purchased the Staples estate in Parker and Pine streets in the Highlands district. The estate consists of the homestead and about 26 acres of land. It is the intention of the company to divide the land into house lots and start at once the erection of dwelling houses. The company is now contemplating the purchase of other large tracts of land in Centralville, Pawtucketville and Belvidere.

NEW PUMPING ENGINE

The Middlesex Machine company has finished its work in installing the steam connections for the new pumping engine at the West Sixth street station of the water department and Commissioner Salmon is now awaiting the arrival of castings from the makers of the engine. They were to have arrived early this month, but owing to an accident during their manufacture, they will not get here before November 30, according to a letter received today. After they arrive the new pump will be put in shape for actual operation.

A second cable from the mainland to Vancouver is to be laid at a cost of $350,000.

lake is in the heart of the so-called "wild lands" of the state, where extensive lumbering operations are carried on, and of famous hunting and fishing grounds visited annually by people from other states, many of whom take long canoe trips through that region to northern Arrowscook. It is 30 miles north of Moosehead lake. Both lakes are in Piscataquis county. Situated at the head of the lake, where the west branch of the Penobscot river empties into it, Chesuncook is an unorganized township of about 100 population is situated. The lake is connected with a chain of lakes and streams in the northern section of the county.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

Cutie Cottontail's Luck

Mrs. Cottontail pulled at her apron nervously when Dr. Mink announced that her son, Cutie, had a severe case of "disinclination" and couldn't go to school at all, at all. "I thought it was something awful," she said, rolling her eyes at her cousin, Mrs. Bunny. "He's never acted like this before." Under the covers Cutie was having a convulsion fit, which needn't alarm ease a name a mile long, so that if Mr. Scribble Scratch, the master of Meadow Grove school were to send Nick, the truant officer after him, to find out why he was absent, Nick would have something impressive to report. "Disinclination!" Didn't it sound grand, thought That ought to be good for about a week's vacation. So much you, as that really isn't a fit at all, but only a state of mind. For you may as well know now as later, that Cutie wasn't any sicker than Solomon Grundy was on Monday, although they say he died on Saturday or Sunday. I forget which. But Cutie was ever so pleased to hear Dr. Mink give his dis-better than just a cold, or mumps, or a bilious spell. He could imagine Nick giving his report to Mr. Scribble Scratch in the morning:

HE COULD IMAGINE NICK GIVING HIS REPORTS IN THE MORNING

"Cutie Cottontail is very ill with 'disinclination' and Dr. Mink thinks he must not try to come to school for some time." Then Nancy, Nick's twin, you know, and Scribble Scratch's helper, would gather up his books and ruler and pencils and put them away, and the fairman would mark "excused" after his name in the roll-book, and there wouldn't be any trouble about anything at all. He turned over in bed with a satisfied grunt, but suddenly something that Dr. Mink was saying caused the smile on his face to fade completely.

THIS STATEMENT IS POSITIVELY CORRECT

Clothing prices have been reduced. What merchandise we had in stock was marked down.

We then went into the open market and bought from some of the largest manufacturers several hundred Overcoats which were made to sell for double the price we are asking.

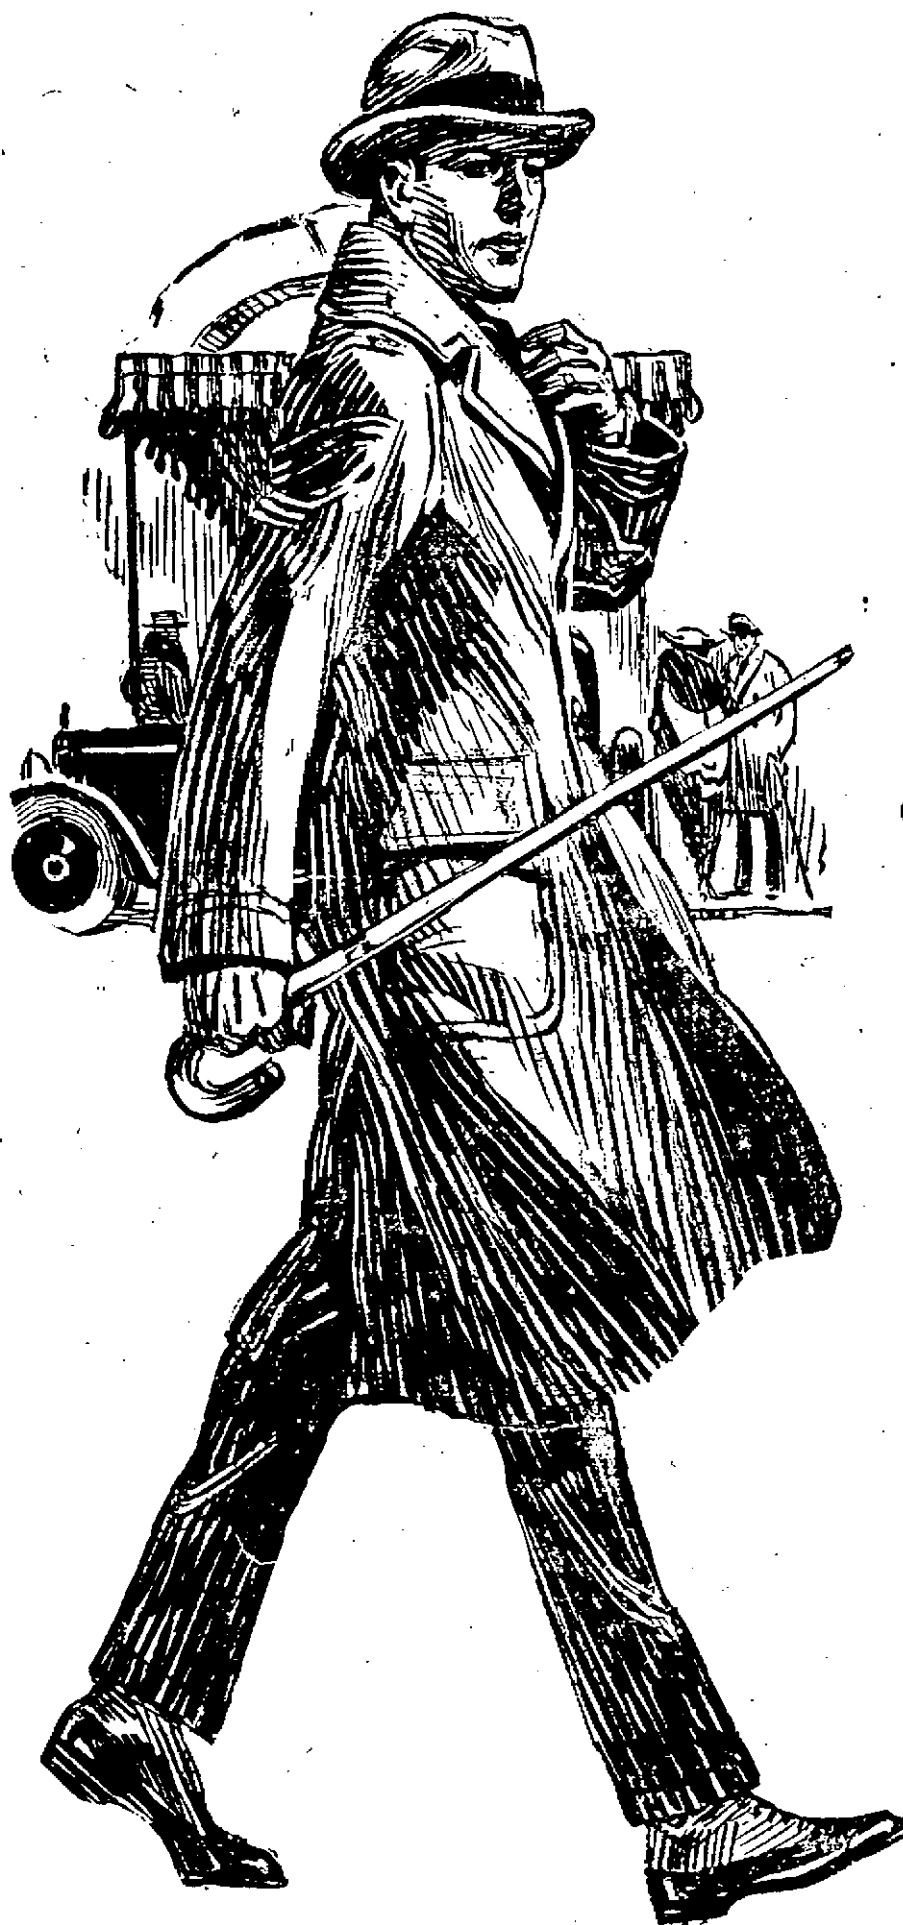

We have been so successful in selling these coats at these prices, our buyer made a flying trip to New York Monday night and after scouring the market bought another large lot of overcoats, values equal to and in some instances better than the first purchase of a week ago.

You can make no mistake by buying one of these Overcoats as you will be unable to duplicate them elsewhere this season.

ANNUAL PARISH REUNION

St. Margaret's Church Debt Liquidated—Happy Scene
at Associate Hall

The announcement that the church debt of $72,000 had been liquidated and that the parish was free from all indebtedness featured the eighth annual reunion of the parishioners of St. Margaret's church, held last evening in Associate Hall.

REV. CHARLES J. GALLIGAN

than words that the parish organization is progressive and that there has been splendid co-operation between the clergy and members of the parish.

The reunion was attended by a crowd which taxed the capacity of the hall. Elaborate decorations of bunting and greenery combined with lattice work and flower effects about the walls and stage front gave the affair a pretty setting and added much to the enjoyment of the parishioners.

Following an overture by the orchestra and several other entertainment numbers, Hon. James B. Casey, chairman of the general committee in charge of the reunion, called upon the pastor, Rev. Fr. Galligan. The latter expressed his appreciation for the warm greeting accorded him and said that he assumed that part of it was meant for his assistant, Rev. Stephen J. Murray. He then announced the liquidation of the church debt and the announcement was greeted with a round of applause.

by the Sacred Heart church quartet, consisting of Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Sadie Corr, John H. McMahon and Timothy Munnigan; violin selections by Frank Delgany; whistling selections by William Carr, solos by John P. Roane and songs and stories by John J. McArdle.

General dancing began shortly after 8 o'clock and continued until midnight with a short intermission during which ices were served. An apron and necktie march led by the mayor and Miss Julia T. Lahan was a feature.

The officers of the affair to whom a large share of credit is due for the social and financial success of the evening were the following: General manager, Miss Julia T. Lahan; floor marshal, John P. Roane, Jr.; assistant floor marshal, Joseph Maguire; chairman of ladies' committee, Mrs. Dennis J. Cooney; chairman of the men's committee, James H. Casey. They were aided by a large corps of assistants.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By the Theatre's Own Press Agents

HILARIOUS THEATRE

In what has been termed as the greatest southern drama ever screened, Joseph J. Lowling, of "The Miracle Man" comes to the Rialto for the three latter days of the week. He will appear in "The Kentucky Colonel," which was adapted from O. P. Reagans, the great story of southern life and of the imperishable friendships. In addition to "The Kentucky Colonel," the Rialto is offering Josephine Earle in "The Fall of a Saint," an Educational comedy, "Luck in" and the latest program of Fox news.

THE STRAND

A picture that is said to include William Farnum's greatest screen effort will be shown at The Strand today and for the remainder of the week. It is "If I Were King," from the great stage success and novel by Justin Huntly McCarthy, and is a William Fox production. Those who follow the stage will remember that E. H. Sothern created the role of Francis Villon in this play, and scored a great success. The picture was finished by Mr. Fox sent a copy of it to England, where it was shown to Mr. McCarthy and he was so highly enthusiastic over it that he immediately pronounced it one of the most meritorious screen efforts possible. Mr. Farnum has given to the screen a wonderfully good characterization, but in the role of Francis Villon he has outdone all former efforts. All of the important detail necessary to bring to the surface the needed features of the picture story are shown with its wonderful accuracy. It is a picture of the worth-while kind, and should be seen to be fully appreciated. You may have seen it on the stage, or read it in book form, but to see it in motion pictures is to enjoy it to the fullest.

The other feature for the week-end will be Corinne Griffith in "The Whirlwind." This story shows the struggle to better advantage than in any of her other big film successes. The story is well constructed and unfolds in a realistic manner, melodrama and tense situations of an unusual sort. The story teaches a strong lesson, see it and benefit.

OPERA HOUSE

"Lombardi Ltd." the big fun and fashion production that is being presented this week at the Opera House by the Lowell Players, is scoring one of the real hits of the screen. Capacity audiences at every performance testify to its popularity with the patrons. It's a veritable fashion show. More than 110,000 worth of furs and gowns are put on display, and the other stage accessories mount up into the thousands. Milton Byron, the talented leading man of the company is most commendable as Tito Lombardi, the Italian creator of fashions. And Miss Marguerite Field makes a most interesting role of his hard-working assistant designer. The mannequins and others of the cast are all pleasingly cast, to miss this production is to miss one of the real treats of the year.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Her Husband's Friend," the leading attraction of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre, starring Enid Bennett, was adapted to the screen from Marjorie Britton Cooke's famous novel, "The Incubus." Miss Bennett's role is that of a young wife who, when she becomes a widow, is unaware that her husband's best friend had promised to care for her. The two eventually meet in queer circumstances and immediately fall in love. How they travel the road of love makes a highly entertaining story. The other big feature for the week-end is "The Last Expedition," a production of the adventures of the famous 77th Division unit. A comedy, the International News and Topics of the Day round out the bill.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There's an irresistible swing to all that Alexandria, the sympathetic xylophonist, plays at the H. F. Keith theatre, this week. It goes along like wildfire. However, Alexandria isn't alone a master of music. He is one of the funniest of comedians. "Peggy's Wedding Night," in which Jean Chase & Co. appear, is a mystery farce with no end of surprises, while "White," the little singing comedienne, offers a brace of songs that are all new. Other acts on this week's bill are: Mignonne Kohn and Fred Galletti, in an Italian street scene; "Three After Sisters," dancers; Carroll & Strains, musicians, and Bender & Heerathletes.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-third Anniversary of Father Matthew Total Abstinence Society of North Billerica Observed Last Night.

The 33rd anniversary of the founding of the Father Matthew Total Abstinence Society of North Billerica was observed at the Rialto theatre last evening. Attending the festivities were guests from Lowell, among whom were: Probation Officer Edward F. Slattery, chairman of the society; Paul James O'Sullivan, who assisted in the formation of the organization. There were also representatives of the Father Matthew society and the Y.M.C.A. of this city.

The first number on the program was the banquet, which was followed by post-prandial exercises presided over by Rev. John R. Kierins, John S. Welch, Mr. Slattery, Mr. O'Sullivan, Chairman Thomas F. Sheridan of the board of selection of the town, and Chairman Warren H. Manning of the Billerica board of trade. At the close of the exercises, general dancing was enjoyed in the upper hall.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Donald Walsh, aged 8 years, son of Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh, is in a serious condition at the home of his parents, 7 Rosemary avenue, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and bruises on the face as a result of an automobile accident, which occurred yesterday afternoon in Broadway.

The boy was on his way to school when he was struck by an automobile truck owned by A. E. O'Hara & Co. and operated by Edmund Marchand, an employee of the company. The accident occurred at a point near Wilson's coal yard. The boy was placed in the machine and was rushed to the Lowell Corporation hospital. Later he was removed to the home of his parents.

ANOTHER ANTHRAX CASE REPORTED

The second case of anthrax to come to the attention of the local authorities this year has just been reported to the board of health. The patient is Onesime Dufresne of 121 Martha street, who has been employed as a laborer on a local estate. He has been doing plastering recently and it is believed that he may have contracted the disease from hair used in making the plaster. Dr. L. V. Roebette reported the case and it is now under investigation.

COMMUNITY LECTURE COURSE

The second entertainment in the community lecture course under the auspices of the Centralville M.I. church brotherhood, which was given last evening, was supplied by the Redpath Concert Co. This company consists of four persons: Meriel Blanchard, soprano; Theodore M. Dilaway, tenor; Carl Webster, cellist; and Albert Baumgartner, pianist. A variety program including solos, duets, trio and quartets, was given much to the delight of the large audience. Some of the finest lecturers and concert entertainers will be brought to Lowell in the brotherhood in the course of the winter season.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUSSir Knights' Assemble at Annual Installation of Fourth
Degree OfficersRarely has such a gathering of sir knights assembled here as met last evening at the annual installation of officers of Bishop Delany, general assembly, fourth degree, Knights of Columbus, in K. of C. hall. The hall was filled when Faithful Navigator Andrew Molloy called to order. He congratulated the members on their enthusiastic response to the invitation to greet the distinguished head of the order and expressed the hope that the interest would continue.Hon. Louis K. Watson, master for this district and a former state deputy for the K. of C. here, was introduced to install the officers and with impressive ceremonies the new officials were inducted to their stations.
The new faithful navigator, William H. Gallagher, spoke quite interestingly on the assembly, the basic principle of the degree—patriotism—and
lastly the necessity for loyalty and
co-operation in everything that tends toward the betterment of the order.
Master Watson's address was characteristically interesting, bristling with facts and anecdotes, such as never fail to make his annual visit here an interesting review of events connected with the order. He spoke graphically
of a recent visit to Porto Rico with several other masters of this country
for the purpose of exemplifying the fourth degree. In going about his work in this district, Mr. Watson said, he has found few assemblies more enterprising or more vigorous than that in Lowell. He assured the members of his assistance in whatever projects they undertake during the coming year.Rev. Francis J. Mullin, faithful friar, gave an eloquent and scholarly discourse on education, on the benefits accruing from a thorough knowledge of men and things and urged the
sir knights to take advantage of the opportunities, so numerous about them, for improving the intellect. He cited several examples to indicate that the Catholic church is the mother of education and under her fostering care undreamed of progress has been made.The social activities of the order received a decided stimulus when it was voted to appoint a committee to conduct the annual dinner. The committee includes Sir Knights Edward F.
Saunders, William H. Mahan, John E.
Hart, Andrew Molloy and Thomas H.
Delaney.It is possible that several new features will be introduced at the coming dinner as they were tentatively
discussed and approved last evening.
Several whist parties and dances are planned for the board of patrons and indications point to one of the most successful social seasons in
the assembly's annals.The annual report of the financial officers was a comprehensive statement of receipts and expenditures and showed a balance in the treasury. The new officers installed last evening
were:Faithful Navigator, William H. Gallagher; faithful admiral, Sir Knight
Andrew Molloy; faithful captain, Sir Knight John E. Hart; faithful alderman, Sir Knight Patrick J. Nevin; faithful scribe, Sir Knight Arthur J. O'Neil;
faithful friar, Rev. Francis J. Mullin;
faithful comptroller, Sir Knight
Frank J. Finnegan; faithful purser,
Sir Knight Michael J. Quinn; inside
sentinel, Sir Knight Thomas J. Burns;
outside sentinel, Sir Knight John J.
Gearin.After the meeting a supper was served and a "smoker" and entertainment enjoyed.ADDRESSED CIVICS CLASSSuperintendent of Schools Talks on "The Government of Massachusetts"
Before Margaret Street Civics Class Hutch J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, addressed the Margaret Street civics class of the League of Catholic Women on "The Government of Massachusetts" at its regular meeting late yesterday afternoon at the league office in Central street. He treated the subject in a most interesting and in-formative manner and his address proved enjoyable to the large number present.He said that government was of particular interest to women at this time
because of the 19th amendment, but he was sure that even before the advent of suffrage women exercised a great influence over the affairs of the community. A good government, he said,
may be compared to a good family where the signs of government are not apparent but, nevertheless, government exists. Right thinking, self governing men and women must precede good government, he intimated.He traced the development of government in this state from the earliest
times and said that the commonwealth,
despite contrary reports, is still the most progressive and forward looking state of the Union. No state offers the same educational advantages, he said,
and in no state is democracy given
such broad opportunities to develop.
He explained the machinery of government in this state in a most interesting manner.Following his address Mr. Molloy was given a rising vote of thanks. It was announced that at the next meeting of the class to be held Thursday, Dec. 2, at 30 at the league office, the speaker will be Lawrence Cummings,
who will discuss informally vital points of interest to women in politics.LOWELL BOY IN BIG GAMEReginald White, son of William T.

CHARTER PROBLEMS

The proposed charter amendment now before the committee of commerce on a referendum, involves the question whether the construction of all school buildings should be left to special commissions appointed from time to time by the municipal council and school board in joint session; and also whether the supervision and control of all school buildings shall be vested in the hands of the school committee.

At the present time the city maintains a building department whose business it is to assume supervision and control over all municipal buildings. If this work were divided with the school board, there would be required an additional building department which would, in almost every detail, duplicate our present property department. What we want is co-ordination of departments, and elimination of needless offices rather than increase and duplication.

In cases in which the municipal council or school board might deem it advisable to have a building erected by a special commission, the charter should make that course permissible. If the municipal council and school board together cannot build new school houses successfully at a reasonable cost, then surely it would be futile to submit the work to either of these bodies.

At present the municipal council has charge and its work in this respect is quite often criticized on the score of cost; but there is no reason for assuming that any improvement would result from placing the supervision, control and even construction of buildings in the hands of the school board.

The chamber of commerce might well pass upon the question whether a certain proportion of the tax levy shall be set apart for the maintenance of our school system. This plan is in force in a number of cities and it seems to have many advantages. It gives at least a clearer idea as to the disposal of the revenue in each city or town. It also offers a basis of comparison that would expose the delinquency of any city that fails to provide generous support for its school system.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The world has now an opportunity to judge of what the League of Nations really is. In its first session, the leaders in debate were Lord Cecil of South Africa, but in reality representing English interests, and some of the delegates of the South American states.

All through the discussions the sentiment indicated with conclusive earnestness that without the United States as a member, the league would not amount to much. One delegate went so far as to propose a special formula under which to admit the United States, while another claimed that all nations should be admitted in order to avoid the danger of a rival league being formed.

Judging from the proceedings thus far, it is apparent that the United States is not likely to lose much by absence from the early meetings. If we have half a dozen colonies to join the league, we could enter with more confidence of receiving the consideration that is our due as our colonial representatives could rise like Lord Cecil of South Africa to plead for the policies we favored.

It appears that the league is to have more wheels within wheels than most of us had anticipated. However, the peace of the world demands some organization of the kind and if the present plan is not fair or not feasible, then it should be modified or else give way to one more direct and practical.

No, the league is not dead but unless the United States becomes a member, it can never carry out its plans and might as well disband.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

When the Federation of Labor called in Herbert Hoover to get his views on the present industrial conditions, it gave evidence of dealing with the present situation in a reasonable manner. It is understood that Mr. Hoover told his audience that labor must do its share in preventing unemployment, the causes of which, he said, could not all be laid at the door of the employers. The Federation is shaping new policies to meet present and future conditions and it is adopting the right course in securing accurate information from different sources.

President Gompers, however, is insistent that the human element shall have more consideration and satisfactory arrangements in this respect, he believes, would increase production and eliminate waste, the two things that are essentially necessary in meeting the new conditions. The war is over and economic laws are operating in a manner that will force a readjustment in every line of industrial activity.

In taking steps to bar the radicals from using the organization for their purposes, the Federation is doing something that will bring it increased confidence and prestige throughout the country.

PAINTED SCHOOL GIRLS

It has been decided by the school authorities of North Adams to take rigorous measures to stop the practice of face-painting among the school girls. It is a shame to find young girls destroying the bloom of youth upon their cheeks by the application of rouge or other cosmetics that damage the skin. That practice has been indulged in to some extent by high school girls in this city in connection with the social dances permitted in the high school hall. Some of the girls seemed to have the idea that by painting their faces, they would be in greater demand as partners in the dances. Better not to dance at all than to resort to face-painting in order to attract the young men. If the latter had the proper appreciation of unaffected simplicity and grace, they would prefer the girls of sincere modesty rather than those whose most striking charms are obtained from the use of paint.

BOSTON POLICE THIEVES

The fact that several police officers of the city of Boston are involved in charges of breaking and entering, will shake confidence in the integrity and reliability of the whole department. As usual in such cases, a few black sheep bring discredit upon the entire body.

It is not surprising, however, that the department contains criminals, considering the fact that the men were secured by public advertisement and without reliable knowledge of their antecedents.

No large body of men can be gathered together by draft or otherwise without any proper scrutiny of their character, who will not have a proportion of crooks and blacklegs. That the Boston police department is no exception to the rule is not at all surprising.

CLOTHING PRICES

It turns out that an announcement of a big cut in the price of clothing coming from the convention of the National Association of Clothiers was very misleading. It had reference only to the decision of a merchant who had goods on hand and wanted money so badly that he was willing to dispose of them at a loss of from 25 to 50 per cent. There was no announcement of a radical reduction to rule the market generally.

CUBA AFFECTED

Cuba is said to be suffering from a business depression. That island cannot expect to be the recipient of streams of gold continuously. She made vast sums on her sugar crop last year, and it is announced that this year's crop is the largest in her history. It is plain, therefore, that if Cuba can weather the present difficulty, due mainly to her credit strain, she will soon enter upon a period of great prosperity.

Of course the Japs have a right to debate the question, "Shall we fight America?" Also if they are anxious to find out what a real old-fashioned wallowing is like they can decide to fight, but we are not in the fighting business.

"We are going to have citizenship schools in every city in this country," a woman speaker. We, unfortunately, have them going on all the time with pupils who are dull and listless and inclined to play hooky.

The Western Union telling Uncle Sam he must pay for his wire messages in advance seems to be getting into the class with the soldier who thought he was "a bigger man than old Grant."

The Community club girls are to give a "Newspaper Minstrels." For realism they should add the click of typewriters and telegraph key to the accompaniment of the songs.

We have heard quite a lot about a "one-man army," and now comes a Providence officer who has captured five armed motor bandits, to qualify as a "one-cop police force."

If there is a connection between size of salaries and dignities, we shall have to transfer the title "His Honor" from the mayor to the "business agent" of the school department.

Stories of jewel thefts are becoming so common that no ambitious actress or enterprising press agent would think of trying to squeeze an ad out of one nowadays.

Who would think, from the public interest taken in it, that a race for municipal office is on with a big field coming down the home stretch in the first heat.

People who condone offences against the prohibition laws are pulling the props from under all laws that make civilized life possible.

The Somerville yeggs who failed after working hard to open a safe that held only $2, were spared a depressing surprise anyway.

One of the best ways to keep a secret is to tell everybody and no one will think the subject worth talking about.

In Boston practical application seems to have been given to the ancient adage: "Set a thief to catch a thief."

The Boston police union, voting to give up its charter, seems to have been something over a year too late.

The doors are wide open to admit the coal dealers into the growing society of price reducers.

An Oregon city has elected a woman mayor—your chance, Lowell ladies, will come in 1921.

Here's strength to your arm today, Lowell high-punch hard Punchard high.

An unlit bulls-eye for the price reductions—the restaurant doughnut.

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, anyway, it's better to be the prodigal son than the failed calf.

Thanksgiving time is when the small boy envies appetites food strikers must have.

If the shipping board revolutions are anywhere near true, some dollar-a-year men didn't earn their pay.

The announcement by hotels and restaurants of reductions in price of food, and the making of these reductions, do not seem to be very closely related.

Wrong Dead Man

Two employees of the Los Angeles city morgue went to the city hospital to prepare the body of a suicide for burial. No sooner had they placed the body in the basket preparatory to returning to the morgue than the ought-to-be dead man came to life. The employees fled and did not return to work for two days. They had picked up a man who was suffering from an epileptic fit.

Padding the Census

It was during the Civil war and the northern and southern outposts were within hailing distance. "Hello, Johnny," sang out the northerner, "what regiment is yours?" "The Twelfth Virginia. What's yours, Yank?" "The 175th Rhode Island." "You lie, Yank. There ain't a hundred and seventy-five men in Rhode Island."—New York Evening Post.

Not Quite Lost

The little chap howled sorrowfully until quite a crowd had collected. "What is the matter, little fellow?" one asked kindly. "I'm lost," was the reply. "Won't all of you take me home to Moses Einstein's, the well-known cut rate merchant on Broad street, who has just received a new lot of finest overcoats, suits and gents' furnishings, which he is selling actually at less than cost?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Dog Code

Because his dog uses his bark to signal to Col. G. B. Blenheim, of Seattle, and thus disturbs the neighbors, suit has been instituted to have the alleged nuisance abated. As near as can be figured out the signals are: one long howl—no supper; two long howls—not enough supper; three long howls—full moon tonight; one sharp bark—Bulshovichki in the neighborhood; two short barks—Jinny in the vicinity; three sharp barks—attacking forces in the shape of cats appearing around the corner.

Bolsheviki and Others

Those Bolsheviki remind Squire Abner Harrington of the fellow he used to know who invited himself to a party where he wasn't ever wanted. This fresh guy comes up to the door. The doorkeeper is polite about it but tells him there's a house full already. He goes back to the sidewalk and ponders. He makes another try. This time the doorkeeper isn't so polite about it.

The third time that self-invited guest tries to break past the doorkeeper. Quite awhile later, in the ambulance, hustling over to the hospital, he comes to. An anxious-faced doctor is looking him in the eye.

"Say, Doc," the man murmured, "I don't believe them fellows wanted me at their party, do you?"

But another friend of ours insists the Bolsheviki is like a tough egg he used to know in the old wet days. This hard-boiled guy had climbed on the outside of enough drinks to make him feel his importance.

Of his lack of wit with cats, he yelled into the contentment of a little man irrigating his insides with a bit of buttermilk.

"Things began to happen!" "Say, how many wildcats did that little fellow let loose on me?" he inquired wonderingly, as he held a fresh hensteak to his right eye with his injured left hand.

The Hat

I like those hats turned up in front. The girls are wearing now. Of velvet, fur or duvetyne. Or they suit my taste now. And whether race or black or blue Or orange, green or white, Upon a pretty woman's head They look exactly right.

A saucy feather at the side Of a lady's crown, A dash of black and white, To those coquettish chapquins turned So smartly off the face. I hope they stay in style, for lo! Since they appeared I'm able Without an interfering hand To steal a kiss from Mabel.

—MINNA IRVING.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The next time I start out to call on "Billy" Mitchell, agent of the Massachusetts mill, I shall tell him on. I shall expect to be threatened with scolding. William is modest about having his name appear in print. It is a form of shyness that he shares with the agents of most of the other mills. Nevertheless I am going to tell a story about William. Then I shall steer clear of him for awhile, if I can, and if he calls up to kick over the phone I shall certainly be "out." A number of years ago "Billy" was in Nashua with his tin lizzie. He was approached in the square by a stranger who asked him for a ride to Concord, N. H. "Billy" allowed he would be glad to accommodate, but that he wasn't traveling that way. He started to talk with the stranger. He learned that he was for the time being, one of that ancient fraternity that we used to know as "tramps." He had the wanderlust and he had in a virulent form. He had been around the world several times, and had hung up his hat, when he had one to hang-up, in about every corner of the earth from Hindustan to Heligoland. On the day in question, he had walked from Boston to Nashua, and had eaten four green apples. "Billy" bought the stranger a "hot dog"—several in fact—and took him down to the Country club to sleep in a tent. It should be understood that there are tramps and tramps, and this one was a young man with a good education, who had skipped out of a good home to take up the life of the road. He was given a job in the Massachusetts mills. He cut out the wanderlust stuff, and made good—exceptionally good—as a worker. Then he lit out, went back to the home he had deserted, went across seas and laid his bit in France, and soon had lily come to Lowell that he is happily married, has become a newspaper man and is living in California—and hasn't forgotten "Billy."

WILL EXTEND FARE ZONE

Street Railway Agrees to Extend Zone Beyond
Merrimack Square

The trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. have agreed to extend the local one fare zone so that passengers paying a cash or ticket fare within the central ticket zone may ride not only to Merrimack square but beyond the square, as follows:

Merrimack street as far as city hall.
East Merrimack street as far as High street.

Bridge street as far as First street.
Gorham street as far as the post-office.

Middlesex and Appleton streets as far as the railroad station.

The extension privilege will work both ways. Passengers going in the opposite direction from the points outlined may continue through the square to the end of the first zone without further payment of fare.

The new system will be put into effect in about two weeks or as soon as arrangements can be made to handle it.

This concession, one of the most important that the railway company has made since the new fare rates went into effect last September, was announced at the chamber of commerce rooms late yesterday afternoon following a two-hour conference of Trustees Fred J. Crowley, Asst. Gen. Manager H. F. Smith and members of the home rule and chamber of commerce street railway committees. The details of handling this concession have not yet been devised but it is probable that a system of zone checks will be provided, similar to the old transfer.

The request was made by the street railway home rule committee on Nov. 11 at the recommendation of the chamber of commerce street railway committee.

HUSBAND WON'T LET ME

Excuse 14-Year-Old Bride Gives for Failure to Attend School—Appeal to Court

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Whether a married woman can also be a truant from school, will be decided in court here on Dec. 2. A concrete test case was presented today as the result of the report to authorities that Mrs. John De Stefano, 11 years old, was married in August. "My husband won't let me go to school," she told the judge.

ASKS QUICK REPLIES ON REFERENDUM

Members of the Lowell chamber of commerce are respectfully urged by President William N. Goodell to speed up the return of their replies on the referendum sent out by the chamber this week as to whether the school committee should have full control of school buildings in this city. Up to noon today only 53 replies had been received out of a membership of 1200 and the chamber officials believe that a more generous response should be forthcoming.

Unless the greater part of the membership of the organization replies to the question of the referendum, the project will be of little or no value because whatever replies are received will not constitute the general opinion of the entire chamber. All that each member has to do is to mark a cross against the "Yes" or "No" on the ballot sent out by the chamber and send it by mail to the chamber's rooms in Merrimack square.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Charles H. Gallagher, aged 18 years, the young man who fell from the third story of the building of the Walter L. Parker Co. in Dutton street yesterday forenoon, died this morning at St. John's hospital. Deceased leaves his mother, a sister, deceased two brothers, Robert and Francis. The body was removed to the home of the mother, 125 Cushing street by Undertakers Higgins Bros.

Heavy Loss by Landslide

dumped into a ravine before the engineers discovered that the earth was moving steadily toward the railroad. Being driven into the hill failed to stop the movement and within a day or two a railroad yard building in the path of the slide was buried. Later two main tracks and six of less importance leading into the terminal were lost in spite of the efforts of the engineers and the large force of workmen.

The slide, which moves at the rate of about one foot an hour, has reached a point where it was necessary to-day for the railroad company to route all trains on the Monongahela division by way of the Fourth avenue station, while suburban service to the east was curtailed through the consolidation of certain trains.

Mayor Babcock has obtained the services of Major General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, who will come here tomorrow from New York to advise the city engineers how to stop the slide.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Thomas F. and William P. Reagan, Cornelius Hofferman and George H. Lennon, arrested in Tilden street shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, were arraigned in police court this morning before Judge Fisher on charges of drunkenness. The first two pleaded not guilty through counsel and were continued under $200 bonds each for trial on Nov. 27, while Lennon and Hofferman pleaded guilty and were put under $200 each for sentence on the same date. The latter were not represented by counsel.

Mohamed Ahmed, proprietor of a lodging house in Middlesex street, was arrested by Officers Wins and Clark last night on charges of illegal keeping and sale of intoxicating liquor and larceny of a watch and chain valued at $27 from one Frank D. Greene. Defendant was put over for trial next Friday under $700 bail. Complainant in the larceny case claims that he rented a room in defendant's house and that the latter took his watch and chain and also a coat, declaring that he would prevent anyone else from stealing them.

Atlas Poulreas, charged with carrying a revolver without a permit and assault and battery upon one Louis Beaulieu, was put over until Nov. 21 under $200 bonds. It is said that the defendant became embroiled in an argument in a coffee house and that he struck his antagonist over the head with a revolver.

Susan E. Waldron, arrested last night on Cabot street, was arraigned on her second offense for drunkenness within one week and was committed to the state farm. John F. Sheely was also committed to the state farm for drunkenness. Louise Costa was found guilty of drunkenness and given a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction.

For the larceny of two dresses from a ladies' suit store, Rosanna Bloudeau was ordered to make restitution in the sum of $69.50 and put under a suspended sentence of one month in the house of correction. The dresses were valued at $32 and $37.50 respectively and were taken on two occasions from the store.

Juvenile Session

In the juvenile session, Judge Enright presiding, John J. Connors was found guilty of breaking into the home of Lieut. Duncan and the larceny of a watch, and committed to the Lyman school. Another boy charged with delinquency was sent to the Middlesex County Training school.

Raymond N. Foote charged with carrying a pistol without a permit, was sent back to the Lyman school. Foote was recently released from there. He was arrested by Officer Aldrich last Wednesday evening at the Rollway in Hurd street. Foote was equipped with revolver, holster and ammunition, claiming first that he took them from his brother, and then that he had to protect himself.

Walter G. B. Richards, who went out to a camp in Lakeview some time ago, equipped with a revolver and held up Clevis Lorange in her home, demanding money, and when she refused struck her over the head with the butt of the gun, was ordered under $2000 bonds for the superior court under probable cause. When Richards disabled the woman by striking her he got 67 cents in the house.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Thomas Roughan and Miss Catherine Brennan, two popular young residents of Collinsville were married Wednesday at St. Mary's church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. M. C. Gilbride. The bride-maid was Miss Anna McGeeary of Webster, a cousin of the bride, while the best man was Mr. John J. Roughan, brother of the groom. The couple will make their home at 50 Water street, Collinsville.

Pelletier—Handley
The marriage of Mr. Andre Pelletier and Miss Mary Handley took place last evening at the Immaculate Conception rectory, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I. The bride wore a brown traveling suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Mary McNulty, who was attired in a dark blue suit with hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Joseph Langlois. At the close of the ceremony the happy couple left on an extended honeymoon trip and upon their return they will make their home at 223 Perry street.

CLOTHESLINE THIEVES
Clothesline thieves have been busy for two or three nights in the vicinity of Thayer and Gates street, according to complaints registered at the police station. Reports allege the thefts of tablecloths, pillow cases and a crepe de chine dress.

Irish Leader a Witness

all of Thurles, Ireland, and three Americans who visited Ireland recently—John P. Martin of Greenbay, Wis., and two clergymen, Fr. Michael English of Whitehall, Mont., and Fr. James H. Cotter of Ironton, O.—were heard by the committee yesterday. All expressed sympathy for the Irish independence movement and told of violent events which they had seen and agreed that civil processes, except of the provisional Irish republic were virtually at an end under the rule of the British military forces.

Mr. Morgan said his home was raided with bullets prior to his arrest and deportation to England without any definite charges being preferred against him. With 200 other Irish republican leaders, he said, he went on a hunger strike until they were released. He also told of "murders" of Irish citizens by constabulary and soldiers, including the "black and tan" forces.

Fr. English asserted that British soldiers had confiscated his papers. The military authorities denied his protests that he was an American citizen, he said, and he also told of having witnessed the shooting of an Irishman whose body, he said, was beaten into unrecognizable form.

He declared that while he was visiting his parents in Ireland, soldiers entered his father's home, searching all the men for arms and also opening his baggage. He said that when he protested on the ground that he was an American citizen, the English officer replied:

"American citizenship don't count here."

Picture of Washington Destroyed
An inspector who searched the house, said Father English, "took a picture of George Washington from the mantelpiece, threw it on the floor and ground it with his heels, saying, 'This is what all these Americans should get.'"

Father Cotter, a Catholic editor, told of the killing of a Galway civilian by a British soldier without cause, he said. The soldier, he continued, was seized by another civilian and reprisals against the town followed an hour later. Soldiers shot up the streets for several hours, he said. The aged priest added that he lay for an hour and a half under a window ledge of his hotel to escape the flying bullets. The military, he added, later set fire to two houses and fired into a Galway newspaper plant whose management was friendly to the republican government.

Father Cotter and Mr. Martin, a Knights of Columbus official, stated that the sentiment in Ireland as they found it was virtually unanimous for independence.

"Sympathies of every one I met, Catholic and Protestant were for the republicans," said Father Cotter. The belief that religious prejudice or differences were involved in Ireland was unfounded, he added.

"There was absolute unanimity of

INSTRUCTIONS TO PREVENT ACCIDENT

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 18.—A campaign having for its object the instruction of children in continuation schools in ways to prevent accidents is soon to be inaugurated by the state department of labor and industries.

An announced today, Brig.-Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser, commissioner of labor and industries, stated today that 15,000 children meet death by accident each year in the United States. A very large percentage of these occur in industrial establishments, and the commissioner believes that at least 75 per cent. of such accidents are preventable.

Discussing the matter today, Gen. Sweetser said:

"The experience of the division of industrial safety of the department of labor and industries in the work of investigating accidents convinces me of the need of co-operation with other government agencies in the work of reducing the number of injuries sustained by children in the industrial establishments of the state. I am informed that approximately 30,000 children between the ages of 14 and 16 years are attending continuation schools in this commonwealth. A splendid opportunity is thus afforded for the teaching of safe practices to the child who must enter industry at an early age.

"A recent report of the industrial accident board shows that 1591 children between the ages mentioned met with serious accident in industry in the past year. Ten were killed and 62 suffered permanent disability.

"In nearly every industry some typical practice is responsible for painful and numerous injuries. In the textile establishments, for example, the habit of picking cotton waste from machinery while it is in motion constitutes the origin of many serious accidents.

"During the attendance of children at continuation school the following principles might well be firmly impressed on their minds:

"Do not play on or around elevators or in proximity to hazardous machinery.

"Do not clean or oil machinery while it is in motion.

"Do not under any circumstances remove guards from machinery.

"Do not fail to secure first-aid treatment for all injuries, however slight.

AMERICA WONDERLAND

Gen. Fayolle, Back in Paris,
Says He Had Wonderful
Time in This Country

PARIS, Nov. 19.—General Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks' stay in the United States, "I have just discovered America and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland."

"It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America," the general went on with the usual humorous twinkle in his eye, "I come back on the verge of collapse with grim dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything that I have said about American Expeditionary Force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chefs. There were many banquets, luncheons, I survived them all."

To the suggestion that most of the chefs at the leading hotels were French, General Fayolle replied: "They may be but they certainly have undergone an evolution for they had strange dishes of their own."

"Did you miss your wine with your meals," he was asked.

"I never missed my wine," Fayolle replied.

"Don't ask me to talk local American politics," General Fayolle went on when requested to explain whether he meant that he had his wine twice a day as is his custom or that he did not miss it imperceptibly.

"I have had a grandiose reception that I shall never forget although I am certain that it was not for me personally but because I represented Marshal Foch and the French army."

"I lived through it," concluded the general, "but even the organizers of my tour had to admit that it was a record for endurance."

Ten-Story "Skyscrapers" to Be Built in Madrid

MADRID, Nov. 19.—A gigantic effort to solve the housing problem of thousands of country folk to the city, is in progress in the northern section adjacent to the suburb of Cuatro Caminos. A private concern has acquired an enormous tract of land and has begun building what for Madrid are skyscrapers of ten stories. Each of these buildings is to contain 400 flats and 40 stores.

The new model suburb is to be in all respects modern. Engineers are now engaged in laying out a boulevard running through its center over half a mile long and 130 feet in width, with two carriage ways and a central promenade lined with trees.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

GENEVA, Nov. 19.—A kind of sleeping sickness is said by medical authorities to be spreading throughout eastern and central Europe and the International Red Cross is seeking to have preventive measures taken.

In Switzerland statistics show 991 cases of the malady have been treated in the first half of the year.

AVERAGE EARNINGS IN NEW YORK DOUBLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Average earnings in this city's representative trades in September, 1920, were double what they were six years ago and, generally, $2 a week higher than they were a year ago, according to a report prepared by the industrial bureau of the Merchants' association.

The report declares that, while the city's industrial activity has receded somewhat from the high water mark established during the war, there is no indication of a general slump in manufacturing.

Charts giving the average weekly earnings of workmen, combining both office and shop employees, for September, 1914, 1919 and 1920, show, for the above named years respectively:

Stone, clay and glass products: $13.25, $26.53, $35.11. Metals, machinery and conveyances, $14.50, $27.21, $30.67. Wood manufacturers, $12.49, $24.26, $28.42. Fur, leather and rubber goods: $11.77, $27.03, $26.43. Chemicals, oils and paints: $13.67, $24.79, $27.72. Printing and paper goods: $10.58, $27.36, $31.38. Textiles: $9.72, $21.03, $24.79. Clothing, millinery, laundry, etc.: $12.40, $27.65, $26.48. Food, drink and tobacco: $11.60, $23.40, $26.04. Water, light and power: $13.73, $30.01, $33.59.

The general average of these industries for the three years runs: $13.06, $26.17 and $28.44.

TRANSPORTATION

Problems to Be Discussed by Mechanical Engineers

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Discussion of transportation problems affecting the country will hold the center of interest at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in this city, December 7-10.

Transportation experts, headed by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will address the 2500 members of the society who are expected to attend.

A statement issued by the society said that transportation is considered by the organization as the most pressing problem before the country. "The industry of the country is being seriously handicapped," said the statement. "From present indications, it will take several years for facilities to catch up with increased traffic and the normal development of the next few years."

In addition to purely railroad questions, the society members will consider waterway development and the greater use of motor vehicles for moving freight. A special report is expected on the St. Lawrence waterways project to make possible ocean traffic through to the Great Lakes.

ONLY ONE CHAIR IN FRENCH TOWN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—For many months the little city of Coulogne in the Alsace region of France possessed but a single chair and it was the property of the mayor. It was officially known as "The Chair" until Junior Red Cross of America sent to that city a motor truck loaded with chairs and tables that had been made by the boys of America in their manual training schools. Last year thousands of these articles of furniture were sent to the devastated areas of France.

Colonels H. S. Todd and Bicknell of the Red Cross recently went to Chamerly to adjust some difficulties that had arisen to block construction of the Quentin Roosevelt memorial fountain, the details of which had been entrusted to the American Red Cross by the late ex-President Roosevelt. At Chamerly they learned that the mayor resided at Coulogne and when they located him there he apologized for having left the city's only chair at the town hall. All were forced to stand throughout the visit.

An exchange of views quickly adjusted matters pertaining to the memorial fountain and as the Red Cross representatives departed for Paris they promised to relieve the solitude of that town chair. Soon afterward the vanload of Junior Red Cross furniture was sent to Coulogne and the next time Col.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble

TRY-TRIED and never more popular than today. Nothing but the relief it gives from stubborn colds, and on-rushing pneumonia, whooping and throat torturing coughs could have made Sister Mary's Compound the standard remedy it is today. No harmful drugs.

Always reliable, and good for the whole family. Has a convincing, healing taste with all its good medicinal qualities.

Of all known remedies, Honey is recognized as the greatest.

"I, without any hesitation, recommend this Compound to EVERY one suffering from a cough and tubercular troubles," says Rev. Herman J. Weber, Cawker City, Kansas.

Sister Mary's Compound contains, in addition to honey, other healing elements, which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and STOP the inflammation. The other VALUABLE ingredients are absorbed into the blood, attack the seat of the trouble and DESTROY the germs that lead to pneumonia and consumption.

Sister Mary's Compound is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Increases appetite and body weight. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

TELLS OF ANTI-BRITISH
FEELING IN U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—H. W. Nevins, a well known journalist, lecturing on "America" at the National Liberal club here, said his visit to the United States had upset nearly all his pre-conceived notions about Americans.

He said he found Americans most polite, very kind and hospitable and only too ready to take trouble for others. He did not find them particularly business-like and hard-working. One thing that struck him as terrible was the individual subservience to the state and the tendency of the police to dominate everything, and he gave instances of what he regarded as savage sentences of 10 years' imprisonment on a "perfectly innocent and harmless gentleman," and of 15 years upon a girl of 20 who had distributed a pamphlet urging American soldiers not to fight against Russia.

There was no real political labor party in America, which was 40 years behind England in that matter. Concerning anti-English feeling in America, he said he was constantly confronted by the shame of Britain's treatment of Ireland and he confessed that when he found the homes of commoners feeling at flying men, and hearing insults on a country struggling for political freedom, it was almost like going home and seeing his own mother drunk on the door.

MAN WANTED BY POLICE IN 8 CITIES HELD

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 19.—Stuart E. Eggleston of New York, alleged to be wanted by the police of Washington, Baltimore, Brooklyn, New York, Boston, Nashua, N. H., Augusta, Me., and Montreal, for passing worthless checks, while traveling in the height of fashion and stopping at only the most exclusive hotels, was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday.

Eggleston, who was arrested at Berlin, N. H., Tuesday, was charged with giving one of the checks to a local concern a year ago last August and with being a fugitive from justice from Washington, D. C. The cases were continued until Nov. 26, but being fixed at $5000.

Eggleston in an interview before his arraignment, claimed he was a college graduate, that his folks lived at 222 Riverside Drive in New York, and that he had served in the world war, being shot down from a height of 3600 feet while in the British air service and later serving with American tank forces. He was connected with an automobile house while here.

"HIRSH ARNOLD" DEAD
DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Alice H. Bartlett, well known as a newspaper and magazine writer, under the name of Birch Arnold, died today at the age of 72. She gave up her work several years ago because of ill health.

HARDING RESTS ON TRIP TO PANAMA

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP PARIS-MINA, Nov. 19 (by wireless to Associated Press).—President-elect Harding and his party enjoyed balmy gulf breezes under a clear sky today while his ship plowed its way toward Panama.

The bar was crossed early in the morning through a light fog, but when the sunlight filtered through the party found almost perfect weather and sailing conditions.

The president-elect rested after the strenuous day spent in New Orleans yesterday, when he made three speeches, shook hands with hundreds and presided at numerous informal meetings.

SENTENCED FOR BIGAMY

Former Major League Pitcher Given Two Years—Admitted Having Married Three Women
FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 19.—Robert Roy Evans, who says he was a major league baseball player a few years ago, today was under sentence of two years in prison for bigamy. He admitted having married three women.

He declared that his career embraced more than 10 years service as a pitcher. He said he played with the Washington and Detroit American league clubs and the Brooklyn National league club. He asserted that he was the pitching mainstay of Brooklyn in 1903 and 1904, and says he retired after managing the St. Paul American Association club during the season of 1907. His home is in Emporia, Kas.

THIRD DEATH

IN EXPLOSION

GERMANTOWN, Md., Nov. 19.—James Bolton, a farmer whose home was dynamited yesterday, died last night, bringing the death list in the explosion to three. Mrs. Hattie Shipley, Bolton's housekeeper, whose two small children were killed instantly, is in a critical condition. Vernon Thompson is held in connection with the explosion.

Authorities said investigation showed that Bolton and Thompson had been enemies of long standing and that on election day Thompson was shot in the neck by Bolton.

ON FOREIGN POLICIES

Gen. Shields, Whose Opposition to League Was Condemned by Tennessee Democrats

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 19.—Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee, whose opposition to the League of Nations was condemned at the last state democratic convention, has been invited to Marion to confer with President-elect Harding on the nation's foreign policies.

Senator Shields, who was in Knoxville today said he had received a personal letter from Mr. Harding outlining the purpose of the conference, and added that he had accepted the invitation to attend.

Comes a Tapping on the Shoulder! Reproving Tap Halts Vamps

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 19.—The vamping, short-skirted, rouged and over-dressed college girl must go! Such is the mandate of 50 leading college women of the University of California composing the "Women's Council" in America's biggest co-educational college.

These determined young persons are going to take into their own hands the problem of the co-ed who uses the campus to display her charms rather than improve her mind. They have instituted a novel custom of going up to an offender and gently tapping her on the shoulder to call her attention to her "bad taste."

"The reputation of the modern college girl as a bold-eyed little 'vamp' is entirely undeserved," said Miss Minora Irwin, president of the Young

Women's Christian association and one of the leading members of the "tapping" sisterhood.

"It's just a few girls who use rouge excessively, wear skirts too short, or peek-a-boo sweaters, and it's these girls we are trying to change. We simply call attention to their dress and ask their cooperation with us in making the campus a serious place of study and real comradeship between men and women.

"If a girl persists in violating the rules of the council by over-dressing, she is called before the women's executive board of students' affairs committees and put on the carpet. Only two have been called up so far, and I think it will not be necessary to call any more."

Besides regulating the attire and deportment of unruly college widows and vamps, the women's council has undertaken to regulate dancing on the campus. While they have not succeeded in abolishing "check dancing," they have ruled that every dance must close on Friday at 11 o'clock and on Saturday night at midnight.

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT

The bad weather of the past day or two retarded the sale of tickets for the Boston Symphony orchestra concert at the Strand theatre next Monday evening, but despite the unfavorable conditions enough were sold to bear out the early indications that the concert would be solidly backed by Lowell people.

The program announced has made a broad appeal. The single danger that the orchestra runs in going to cities for its annual concert is in offering a program that is too "stiff" for the person who does not have a chance to hear symphonic music very often. This has been most fortunately avoided in Lowell and Mr. Montoux and his band of 105 musicians are looking forward to achieving a notable triumph.

A very fine list of women and men have consented to allow their names to be used as patrons of the concert. The list as published below may be well said to be representative of Lowell in both music lovers and sponsors for things that are good and stimulating in our community life.

Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Brown, Arthur R. G. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cronin, Dr. and Mrs. George E. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chaffoux, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Clogston, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stanley Cryser, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Donohoe, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. ## LOWELL Woman Tells of Changes. Friends All Notice Her Great Improvement Since Taking Tanlac.

"Well, since my friends and neighbors are all telling me I look so much better, I think it's time for me to make a statement about Tanlac," said Mrs. W. B. Doyle, a highly esteemed resident of 5 Appleton place, Lowell, Mass., a few days ago.

"About a year ago my stomach seemed all at once to become very badly disordered, and from then on until I got Tanlac I suffered untold miseries from indigestion. Everything I ate caused short, cramping pains, and kept me in distress for hours. I had no appetite and actually dreaded for mealtime to come, for it meant nothing but more suffering for me."

"My liver was sluggish and I had spells of dizziness, when everything looked black before me. I had constant pains in my back and sides and my nerves would not let me sleep day or night. I became so run-down from lack of food and sleep that all my clothes became too large for me. Nothing helped me, and I became very low-spirited and sometimes thought my end was not far off."

"Seeing the large number of splendid testimonials given Tanlac by Lowell people, I decided to give it a trial, and it is certainly wonderful the way it has restored my health. Why, I want to be eating all the time now, and can eat most anything I want without an uncomfortable feeling afterwards."

"My nerves are steady, the pains have gone, my back and sides and all my ailments have left me, and I feel fine all the time. Everybody who comes around now notices my wonderful improvement and when they ask always glad to tell them, Tanlac. It always glad to tell them, Tanlac. It has made me so well and happy I can't praise it enough, and from now on I never expect to be without it."

GIRL KILLED BY BOY HUNTER

NEWFIELD, N. H., Nov. 19.—The rifle that Edward Dick, 16 years of age, loaded for deer yesterday killed 18-year-old Grace Clark. The boy was passing through a dooryard bound for the woods and big game, when his rifle was exploded accidentally, the bullet striking the Clark girl. The authorities absolved young Dick of blame.

LANDIS REGULAR FELLA!

LANDIS—THE FAN

When Baseball Got "Balled"
Up They Called the Judge
to Do the Moses Act

BY DEAN SNYDER
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Why did they pick on Kennesaw Mountain Landis, the Chicago judge, to be the Moses of our baseball?
That's a whole sized question. But the answer stings itself up like a jump of sugar.
The whole American public has faith in Judge Landis. No higher tribute was ever paid to any one individual. Even a president or a king might well envy the Chicago judge such a bouquet expressed in our English vocabulary.

Apples Horse Sense
His program since 1905 has been to apply horse sense to human troubles. And that's all under the sun that baseball needs right now.

Spending a noon hour with the judge would convince anyone of his bigness of vision, his interest in humans, and his love for baseball—the game which has focused the spotlight upon him by giving him a $50,000-a-year job.

As soon as baseball is mentioned Judge Landis immediately becomes your friend.

Like to Fan
"You baseball men have been very kind to me," he said. "I want to talk about it, do you? Let's take a walk then."

The wind was whipping up Michigan avenue at about the same rate of speed which Walter Johnson used when he was feeling good. The raw of winter was in it, too.

The judge pulled his hat down over his eyes, turned up his coat collar, switched up his knotted cane and was off at a "Weston" stride.

Game's Fascinating
"I'm not much of a winter leaguer," he said. "The part of the game that fascinates me is the one they play on the diamond."

"I can't think of anything more tragic than the crippling of baseball, can you? I don't know how to account for the bigness of baseball. But I do know that you'll find men and boys arguing over the batting averages of the stars even in remote settlements far back from the railroads hundreds of miles away from where the game is actually played."

Baseball's Scope
"Thousands of folks never have seen a big league game. Thousands of them never will, perhaps. They've never been closer to Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb than the printed newspaper page. But they can tell you exactly how they hold their bats or how they comb their hair."

"Why do people go to see Babe Ruth hit home runs? Gosh, that's the answer they do, don't they?"

How Met Speaker
"I've met Tris Speaker. Well, this is a shock hands with him during the world series. 'Sunny how a fan likes to imagine he's intimate with the stars, isn't it?"

"Wouldn't it be awful if they should abolish the world series? I haven't missed but one in the last 15 years. I can think of no greater tragedy than the crippling of baseball. It means

JUDGE K. M. LANDIS

Judge K. M. Landis isn't essentially different at a baseball game from what he is when presiding over his court. The sparkle of interest is in his eyes just the same. This picture was taken while the judge was watching a game in Chicago. Note that he's puffing a cigarette just like any other fan is apt to do during these tense moments. His necktie has slipped around to the northeast or somewhere thereabouts. But what's the difference. Nobody thinks about trifles when the bases are loaded and Babe Ruth is up there waiting to bludgeon. So meet Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis—THE FAN. We're told that the judge likes this picture about the best of any ever taken of him.

just that much to the American people.

Used to Play
"Did I ever play baseball? I'll say I did. Right here along Michigan avenue. We fellows used to get out here at the noon hour along the water front. I guess that was about 30 years ago."

During the hot-foot walk up and down Michigan avenue the judge spoke to scores of friends. He poked sliver traffic cops in the back with his heavy cane and "batted" them. He stopped in at an art shop to admire etchings of Lincoln and Roosevelt. He particularly liked the drawings of Lincoln.

Admires Lincoln
"The artist didn't make the mistake of rubbing out a lot of lines as most of them do. See that wart on honest old Abe's face. It couldn't be more natural."

Back at the court chamber in the postoffice, building Judge Landis was brimming over with pep and fire. He ate a box of lunch between telephone calls.

"I walk five miles every day," he said. "You'd be surprised what a brisk walk will do for a fellow. Fills

Game Needs Him

At 2 o'clock the judge was back in the courtroom at his business of applying more horse sense to Chicago's troubles.

That's what they want him to do for baseball. And the horsehide sport can stand
a lot of horse sense. The game has outgrown the business instincts of the Ban Johnsons and the John Heydlers.
And these men are wise enough to see it.

Julius Kennesaw Mountain Landis is the doctor and on top of that he's a regular fellow.

If you're any doubt in your mind
as to that just drop in at his human

him. He'll probably take you for a

POLO NOTES

Bridgeport here tonight.

The last time Bridgeport played here one of the most bitterly contested games of the season was played, with Fred Pence, goal tender for the visitors starring. Bridgeport got four in the first period, while Lowell failed to count. Lowell came strong in a second period, scoring a tie in the final period. Lowell went to the front and landed the verdict by a splendid garrison finish.

Red Williams and Sox Quigley, rushers for Bridgeport, are a high class pair. Both are hard and accurate drivers and both can do considerable work.

Barney Doherty, who takes particular delight in playing "Red" Williams will be in there at the same old stand, and all can expect him to hold his own with his opponent.

A large delegation from Lawrence is coming to town tonight to see Frank Hardy play. Hardy made many friends while leading the down-river team and now that he is a member of the local club, his "former enemies" are now our friends.

BUMPER CROP OF BOY PRODIGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—This year promises to reveal a bumper crop of boy prodigies. Edward Roche Hardy, the 12-year-old Columbia freshman, may boast of the mastery of a dozen languages, and Samuel Rzeszewski, eight-year-old Polish chess wizard, may be able to checkmate 19 West Point strategists in a row, but neither of them can sing.

Robert Murray, 12, of Tacoma, Wash., can, in an exhibition yesterday before a group of Metropolitan stars, including Mme. Frances Alda, who "discovered" the youth last summer, Murray not only reached with ease the high notes to a higher key in Arias of Galli Curci and Tetrazzini fame, but, at the signal of his instructor, and to the astonishment of his hearers, he transposed those high notes to a higher octave and breathed them with equal facility and resonance. The singers who heard the performance asserted that this was the highest note ever reached by the human voice.

MARTIN TO MEET ROOPER

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Rob Martin, heavyweight boxing champion of the American Expeditionary Force, has come here to the astonishment of his hearers, he transposed those high notes to a higher octave and breathed them with equal facility and resonance. The singers who heard the performance asserted that this was the highest note ever reached by the human voice.

YALE-HARVARD GAME

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—The final touch to preparation of the Yale football team for the Harvard game was given by the coaches today. The drill was to be light in the late afternoon, when the entire student body may be expected to be in the bowl.

The team itself will have a bonfire, feeding into it the odds and ends of discarded football equipment, while the crowd will sing and cheer and the university band do its best to fill the enclosure with melody. The players will be taken away for a quiet night, and the undergraduates will swim back to town and play host to thousands of college men who will be here. There will be dances and the concert of the Yale and Harvard Glee clubs, and "open" house and dormitories to a greater extent than ever before.

Fifty special trains will be provided to bring the football crowd to New Haven and carry it away tomorrow. The number is nearly equally divided between New York and Boston ends of the railroad. The Yale and Harvard clubs of New York will have four trains and the Harvard graduates will have three. Private parties with special cars coming from connecting roads number 25.

An official diagram of the Yale bowl, issued today, shows seats for about 75,000 persons. The 61 rows of seats, if placed in a straight line would extend 21 miles. The top row seats 1383 persons. The gridiron is 21 feet below the outside ground level, and the upper seats 27 feet above. At 3 p. m. Nov. 15, the sun cast an equal shadow on both halves of the playing field.

HARVARD SQUAD OFF FOR BATTLE

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The Harvard football players, who with their coterie of coaches, managers and attendants, made up a party of 32, left here shortly after 10 a. m. for New Haven. The necessity of attending classes prevented most of the undergraduates from accompanying the squad to the railroad station, but many graduates and other enthusiasts were on hand to give the players a send-off and express their confidence that tomorrow would see another Crimson victory over the old rival, Yale.

The players upon reaching New Haven plan to go immediately to the Yale hotel for practice before boarding buses which are to carry them to their quarters at Dorby. The team will not again be seen in New Haven until an hour or two before the game.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Next year is to be "Harding year" in clothing styles for men, members of the Custom Cutters and Designers' association were told by speakers at a dinner last night. P. J. Foley of Washington, an officer of the association, said that President-elect Harding wears conservative suits, leaning to blues and dark greys, and that is what all well dressed men will wear in 1921.

"There will be no frills in clothes next year," Mr. Foley said, "and conservatism will be the rule. It is to be Harding year in styles."

"HARDING YEAR" IN CLOTHING STYLES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The New York American league baseball team announced today the acquisition of J. Mitchell, an infielder, from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league. Six players, possibly seven, will be turned over by the Yankees for the California star.

YANKEES SIGN MITCHELL

The club has not yet decided where spring training quarters will be located. It has an option on South field, Jacksonville, Fla., and several points in Louisiana are being considered.

CHESSE AND CHECKER CLUB

Members of the Community Chess and Checker club held their third meeting at the Community Service headquarters last evening with President George W. Dearborn in the chair. The president offered to supply the club with checker boards until such time as the club is ready to buy them and his offer was accepted. A letter was received from Cirilia Ponopapas of this city, offering to show the members of the club a handsome hand-made checker board made of about 7000 pieces of the best kinds of wood with a surface as smooth as glass, while another communication was received from Arthur A. McCullough of Boston and formerly of this city, offering to help in bringing well known checker leaders to Lowell. The names of more members were added to the club membership roll and the meeting adjourned until next Wednesday evening.

RADIATOR BRUSHES—A thoroughly practical brush for cleaning radiators. Its bristles are wire-bound; its handle is finished with 36 inches in length, with a crooked neck which goes between the pipes, making a clean sweep. No. 5, 60c.

ASBESTOS PAPER—The uses of asbestos paper are large and varied; in general, it is used as a fire retardant. It protects walls and woodwork from the intense heat of stoves and ranges and it protects the finish of the dining table from the marks of hot dishes. Comes in 1-8 inch, 1-16-inch, and 1-32-inch thickness. Pound, 20c.

ASBESTOS SHEET MILLBOARD—Made of asbestos fibre and suitable binders. It is used where sheet board is desired for protection against fire, heat and acid fumes. It is employed for a variety of heat resisting purposes in industrial plants where fire protection is so necessary. Comes in 1-4-inch thickness. Pound 23c.

THE CHALLENGE TUBE CLEANER—Your boiler tubes are your heating surfaces. The cleaner kept the less expensive your fires. "The Challenge" is the cleaner that cleans. Its duplicate, interchangeable, renewable steel cleaning blades not only compel removal of hard adhesions, they fill the tube with a holeless disc of steel so close that nothing escapes removal. A size for every standard size tube. Come in and get prices.

"D". ASBESTOS CEMENT—Does your boiler need patching? Gaps and cracks in the boiler will check heat and waste fuel. Try Regular or "D" Asbestos Cement as a covering. It is efficient—being made with genuinely good asbestos fibre and other non-conductive cementing materials. 10 lbs., per lb. 6c.

COBURN'S T ASPHALTUM—A heavy black varnish that withstands heat and is proof against rust. It affords the best possible protection for boiler doors, smoke stacks and other iron work. Quart, 70c.

PERMANENT GLOSS ENAMEL—The black boiler enamel that will stand 700 degrees of heat. It is most effective and economical in protecting boiler fronts, steam pipes, radiators and all hot surfaces. Gallon, $1.90.

500 RUSSIAN RADICALS STILL TO BE DEPORTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—More than 500 Russian radicals remain to be deported. It was said today at the department of labor. All except 40 of these are at liberty on bail, but the others are held in confinement at Deer Island, Boston, and Ellis Island, New York, as they are regarded as too dangerous to be allowed at liberty, even temporarily.

Delay in deporting the Russians is explained at the department to be due to refusal of the Scandinavian countries to receive the deportees and to the closing of the frontier between Finland and Russia.

Negotiations between this country and Estonia, looking to sending the Russians home through Estonia, soon are to be resumed, officials said.

By an informal arrangement concluded some time ago between the department of labor and the Canadian immigration authorities, a few of the Russian deportees, who were willing to return voluntarily at their own expense, to Soviet Russia, were turned over to the Canadian authorities at the border, where they were placed on commercial liners sailing directly to Germany. There were some 50 of these who, having arrived in Germany, had their passage expedited through that country to the Russian border.

ANNUAL FAIR AND SALE

Parish House of St. Anne's Church of North Billerica. Scene of Thirty-third Annual Fair and Sale.

The 33rd annual fair and sale under the auspices of St. Anne's church in North Billerica opened last evening under very auspicious conditions. The affair, which will be brought to a close this evening, is being held in the parish house. The attendance last evening was large and those in charge of the various sales tables reported thriving business. The interior decorations of the house, consisting of autumn foliage and national colors were very pretty.

In the course of the evening a laugh producing farce entitled "B.B. & P." was given. Those taking part were: Elmer H. Stevenson, J. Arthur Brown, Harold Tivy, Charles H. Bailey, Mrs. Elmer H. Stevenson, Miss Lucy Cooper and Miss Edith Mears. The evening is being held in the parish house. ## FORMER GERMAN EMPRESS IS SERIOUSLY ILL

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—Former Empress Augusta Victoria of Germany, who yesterday suffered another severe heart attack, appeared late last night to be in a more serious condition than officials at Doorn Castle admit. All her sons and daughters were notified of her illness, and are expected today, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the former emperor, may also arrive today. Greatest depression prevails at Doorn Castle.

Dr. Heymans Vandenberg, a heart specialist, examined the former empress yesterday, and found her condition dangerous. She may, however, linger for many weeks.

A bulletin issued at Doorn castle today stated she had passed a good night and that her temperature was 38 degrees centigrade (100.4 Fahrenheit).

A full-sized model of Westminster Abbey was specially erected near the castle recently for film purposes.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING FOR MEN AT OPERA HOUSE

The Mozart ladies' quartet of Boston, the best known ladies' organization on the eastern stage today will give a concert at the great mass meeting for men only at the Opera House Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The program as outlined by Mrs. Tenney, manager of the quartet, was in town today and informed Secretary Howe, of the Y.M.C.A. that the quartet also expected to bring a noted reader with them Sunday and in such case would give readings for the men.

The speaker of the afternoon will be John Willis Weeks, of New York, who will speak on the subject, "Violence Gains This Legion," an address especially dedicated to the American Legion. All members are invited and if notice is sent in early there will be a special reserved section for them. The address will be illustrated with 100 beautiful pictures.

OLGA REGENT OF GREECE

Queen Mother Takes Office in Absence of Beloved Son Constantine

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Queen Mother Olga, who has become regent of Greece, has issued notice to the Greek people, according to a despatch to the Times, that she has taken office in conformity with the constitution, "on account of the absence of my well-beloved son Constantine."

She calls upon the people to maintain order, and to do nothing calculated to compromise national peace and prosperity. She expresses the hope that the people and the army wherever soldiers may be fighting for the national rights of Greece, will do their duty by the country.

General, Prince Constantine has been proclaimed in Athens and all political prisoners have been released. "Among the moderates of both parties," the despatch concludes, "there is general satisfaction that M. Rihailis has accepted the premiership at this critical moment. It remains to be seen, however, whether he will remain in power after the chamber of deputies meets."

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Greek cabinet announced yesterday that the new Greek cabinet formed by Demetrios Rihailis was as follows:

Premier, minister of foreign affairs and of justice, Demetrios Rihailis.

Minister of interior and of justice of communications, M. Rihailis.

Minister of finance and of food supplies, Nikolaos Kalogeropoulos.

Minister of war, Demetrios Gounaris.

Minister of education and pensions, Theodore Zahalis.

Minister of national economy and agriculture, Peter Matromeghlaelis.

Minister of marine, John Rihailis.

REQUIEM MASSES

COLEMAN—There will be a funeral high mass at 9 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 20, at St. Margaret's church for Wm. P. Coleman, who was killed in France. Friends and relatives are cordially invited.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our thanks to our relatives and friends who, by their kindness and floral offerings, helped to lighten the burden in our recent sorrow. Their kindness will ever be remembered by us.

MADELINE CREVIER

Popular Lowell Young Woman
Passed Away Yesterday

Miss Madeline H. Crevier, one of the most widely known and popular young women of this city, died late yesterday afternoon at the Lowell General Hospital following an operation for appendicitis. News of her death, unexpected and untimely, will cause sincere grief to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Crevier suffered an attack of appendicitis Wednesday and was immediately taken to the hospital where an operation was performed. It was unsuccessful, however, and she died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Deceased had been for the past several years chief clerk and assistant in charge at the office of the registry of deeds at the court house in Gorham street and both here and in the social circles of which she was a member her unfailingly genial disposition, courtesy and thoughtfulness won her who regard and esteem from all with whom she came in contact.

Miss Crevier had been especially active among the younger people of the city and in addition to her social activities she had for many years been prominently identified with various charitable organizations. She was a devout member of St. Patrick's parish and was one of the most earnest workers of the Ladies Aid society.

She was 37 years old and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Maryetta Crevier, to whom a large share of sympathy goes out from all parts of the city.

The body was removed to her home, 75 Mt. Vernon street, by Undertaker J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

The making of colour hats once an Austrian monopoly is now firmly established in Britain.

PETER'S ORPHANAGE

The annual donation day for St. Peter's orphanage will be held Saturday, Nov. 27, one week from tomorrow and as in the past the authorities in charge of the institution are looking forward to the co-operation of the general public in making the affair a success.

Donations of linen, clothing, food and similar articles are gratefully received and this year there is more pressing need than ever for generous gifts because of the increase in the number of children at the home.

On Saturday afternoon a musical program will be carried out under the direction of Miss Katherine V. Hennessy at the orphanage in Stevens street and Miss Hennessy is planning one of the most entertaining programs in years. Tea will be served and donations received at that time. However, those who will not be able to visit the orphanage in person may send their donations and they will be acknowledged.

Mrs. Mary O'Gorman Hennessy, of 255 Broad street, Valley Falls, N. I., writing to Mayor Perry D. Thompson, asking for information as to the whereabouts of John J. and Margaret Regan, who, she believes, lived in this city at one time.

Lowell is consuming approximately six and a half million gallons of water per day at the present time, according to Supt. Robert Gardner of the water department. This is considered a fairly good pumpage, but it has run as high as seven million gallons per day.

The many friends of Thomas F. Hoban, owner of the Richardson hotel, will be pleased to learn that his condition is such as to warrant his removal from the hospital to his home. Owing to the serious nature of his illness the doctors found it necessary to amputate his leg. The operation took place at the Lowell Corporation hospital one week ago last Monday, and despite the fact that Mr. Hoban had not quite fully recovered from a similar operation about a year ago, he is still strong, a fact due, the doctors say, to his wonderful vitality and splendid courage.

Mr. Hoban was removed from the hospital to his home in Livingston avenue yesterday.

NEW SLATER STORE OPENS TOMORROW

Tomorrow morning the Slater Shoe Co., largest independent retailers in New England, will open a new store in Lowell, on premises formerly occupied by the Old Lowell National Bank, at 22 Central street.

Workmen have been engaged for the past several weeks, busily transforming the interior as well as the exterior of the place, and today it presents a very attractive appearance, and is one of the most up-to-date shoe stores hereabouts.

The place has been fitted with particular reference to rapid service. Ornate display windows have been built in which will be seen Slater specialties, and particularly the Slater health shoes. Within are fittings for one of

WOMEN MUST REMOVE HATS IN COURT

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Equal suffrage for women means that they must not wear their hats when in his court room. Justice of the Peace E. P. Aring declared when he fined two women $5 each for contempt of court when they refused to remove their hats. They paid.

When the justice called the court to order, he said: "Everybody will please remove their hats."

Mrs. Oscar McCann and Mrs. Frederick Ritter failed to do so. The court hesitated a moment, but the two continued to wear their hats.

STEAM CLOUDS EXPLAINED
The vast clouds of steam that have been surrounding the water department pumping station in West Sixth street for the past few days have been caused by the breaking of the feed water pipe into the boiler. A new heater has been ordered from the Whitlock Coil Pipe Co. of New Haven, Conn., and is expected to arrive this evening or tomorrow morning. It will cost $250.

The average velocity of wind in New York City is 12 miles an hour, as compared with 10 in Chicago.

PORTABLE SANDWASHER

A new portable sandwasher has arrived at the boulevard filtration plant of the water department and is now in operation. Its arrival fills a long-felt want at the plant and will save much time and expense in washing the sand through which the water is filtered. The machine was bought from the Nickley Sand Separator Co. of Philadelphia and cost $600.
